HOUSE MOTION

Mr. Speaker: I move that when we do adjourn, we adjourn until Wednesday, January 4, 2006 at 1:30 p.m.

TURNER

OPENING REMARKS BY SPEAKER BRIAN C. BOSMA

We are here together at an extraordinary time in our state's history. We have a lot to be thankful for as we prepare for our Thanksgiving holiday this coming weekend, but we have a lot of challenges that are ahead of us today.

I recently read that great leaders are more than crisis managers—they have vision and they have goals. And I am honestly proud to say that this body—in the last several years, not just the last year, but in the last several years—has begun to move away from that role. The traditional role of this legislative institution (not just the House) was to deal just with the crisis at hand rather than to adopt a long-range vision for our state. That's what I want to talk with all of us about for just a few moments this morning.

Maybe you have heard me cite John Maxwell. He has spoken to this Chamber, and he is one of my favorite authors on leadership. In his book The 21 Irrefutable Laws of Leadership he says, "Everything rises and falls on leadership." I truly believe that.

We face challenges today that have not been faced by our predecessors. We have an economy that has been hit hard by job losses. We continue to deal with the loss of Delphi in the last several weeks and the effects, perhaps future, of the 30,00 jobs that will be lost around the nation through General Motors. We've been hit hard by the realities of the 21st Century because our manufacturing economy where we focused so much of our resources for so many years will not be the economy of any state's future.

We have all together over the last decade failed to stop and plan for the realities of the 21st Century. We have suffered over the last 30 years a drop in personal income in our state from 17th to 37th in the Nation. I just read an article two weeks ago that indicated that for the average couple in Indiana their collective income, together, was almost $46,000 for that two-person family in the year 2000; last year it was $42,000, a real loss in family income for Hoosiers. The average is 88 cents that we Hoosiers make for every dollar made by other Americans.

We have gained back about half of the 117,500 jobs that our state lost over the last five years. But we remain 50th in the nation in the percentage of our workforce that is in executive, managerial, or professional positions. We are 47th in the percentage of our workforce that has a bachelor's degree or higher. I was just told yesterday that we have 23% more children on food stamps than we did just four years ago.

Challenges Dealt with in 2005 Session

We have dealt with many of these challenges. We took the first step in many of these challenges in this last session by collectively together—in almost all cases, ultimately, in a bipartisan effort—although there might have been a little bit of discussion before we got there.

- We have dealt with the issues of trying to make Indiana the place to locate rather than the place to vacate by giving incentives to those in logistics, information technology, biotechnology, advanced agriculture, advanced manufacturing industries, incentives to create those jobs here.
- We finalized the vision of planning for the future by creating the Indiana Economic Development Corporation in its final form—a vision that we had together three years before the Administration did. I'm proud that we did that and proud that this group of business leaders is, for the first time currently, going to update Indiana's economic plan which has not been updated since 1999.
- We created an Inspector General office to root out state corruption. We will see in reports to be coming out soon that many of the issues that we all didn't like going on in state government are being addressed like never before.
- We increased our Core 40 graduation requirements so that the Class of 2011, the class of my son, will be required to all be prepared for college, the college that we have to send them to, or at least the vocational training that they must receive to have the jobs of the 21st Century.
- We created a Department of Child Services; we all together funded 400 additional caseworkers so that we could address the tragedy that we have all looked at over the last year with, on the average, more than one child that is in state protective care dying due to neglect and abuse per week. Hopefully, we will bring that to an end.
- We took care of critical regional projects like the Northwest Indiana Regional Development Authority as well as the Indianapolis Convention Center and Indianapolis dome situation with regional solutions, something very creative that we worked on together, something that we will have to do in the future as well.
- While we may disagree on its results, we had the discipline to adopt the first balanced budget that the state has seen in a decade. We did those things in a bipartisan fashion. And, yes, we disagreed on a lot of details, but we came to compromises and we moved forward.

Institutional Improvements

We will continue to work in a bipartisan fashion as we are doing today. At the request of Representative Bauer and myself many of you brought in supplies to help not only those in the southeastern United State but those in southwestern Indiana. I'm happy to tell you that the vast majority of you have chosen to participate either financially or by bringing in materials that will assist those who are trying to reconstruct Indiana and reconstruct America in a very substantive way.

It has been a time in the last year for institutional change for all of us as well, hopefully, permanent institutional improvement.

- We made the committee process the workhorse of this institution again by requiring each of us to be present as testimony is given and decisions are made. Some said it couldn't work, but it did, and I congratulate each of you for making that happen.
- We hit the ground running last session on the first day by having committee meetings in the first week, usually a dead time for all of us. We will do the same thing again this year.
- We adopted reasonable bill limits to make our work, collectively, a little bit more manageable.
- And for the first time in institutional memory, we gave the public, the press—and yes, ourselves—48 hours to review a budget before we were each forced to vote on it.
- In short, we worked very diligently together; Republicans and Democrats, committee chairs and committee members, senior members who've been here many years and those who were new to the process, worked hard to make the 2005 General Assembly a tremendously successful effort in state governance for all of us.

2006 Institutional Changes

But there is much more yet to be done.

- The first step will be to open our doors further to the public. Today's broadcast over the Internet of our floor proceedings is greatly enhanced. As you open your computers in the future, you will see that when you are speaking at the microphone, you will be identified by name so that those who are watching will know who is participating in the process. You will be able to see the vote tally so that individual members' votes will be available for those watching, a shortcoming that was brought to our attention in last year's efforts.
- And for the first time in state history, we are opening two of our committee rooms, the House Ways and Means Committee room and Room 156-C (for meetings held in that room) to Internet broadcast. We are also enhancing those committee rooms so that members of the public who attend meetings here but are frequently unable to enter (because of overcrowding) will be able to hear and observe as well.
- I truly believe that public debate is the very essence of democracy. We have lots of debate here; the key for us is to make it public debate. And we will make every effort that we can to make that happen.

Issues of the 21st Century

We also need to continue to deal in this coming session with the issues of the 21st Century, issues like job creation.

- I have already given you the statistics. Indiana's economy, while it is, hopefully, on the move, much yet must happen for our students, our children, my children, to be attracted to and retained in this state. Hopefully, we will have renewed emphasis on where 75% of the new jobs will be coming from in the next decade: employers with 75 or fewer employees.
- We will address the road funding crisis that we all know exists, and we will have differences of opinion on how to address it. Indiana's new lane miles come to a close on July 1, 2006. And we can't be the Crossroads of America if we don't have crossroads.
- We will together wade through the Governor's proposal. The good parts we will adopt; the parts that aren't so good, we might work over just a bit. But together we will make knowledgeable decisions in this regard. I'd like to tell you already that there is bipartisan cooperation on this. Representative Bauer and I have each designated individuals to receive special training, special education on what issues we are going to be dealing with in this coming session in this regard. There are issues that we have not had to deal with before and issues we need to be knowledgeable on.
- We also will have to examine creative alternatives to make local government more efficient. We may have differing ideas on exactly how to do that, but our goals are the same: to make Indiana local government as efficient and as effective as possible.
- We need to continue improving our schools by redirecting resources to the classroom. And there are those of us who believe that 65% of the resources that we appropriate for public schools should make their way to the classroom despite the fact that only something like 61% are making their way there today. The national average is 65%, and Indiana ought to at least be able to do that.
- Perhaps it is time to take a look at the 5500 families in this state with autistic children and give them the opportunity to select where their child receives service and where their child is educated.
- It's my hope that we will also deal with two problems that loom on the horizon for all of us. The first is that the state mandates our child welfare program, mandates the employees that are administering the program, mandates the standards by which it is enforced yet hands local property taxpayers the bill. If the state were to pick this cost up, the property tax issue (that we all know looms on the horizon, the one that will probably be the most important issue we deal with in this coming session) would be eased. Property taxes would be cut by 5.6%, on the average, statewide, if the state were to pick up that portion of the levy across the state. We may not have the resources to do it in one step; it may have to be a 2-step process, but we do have resources to give homeowners relief in this coming session.

And, I'm proud to announce that Representative Jeff Espich will be announcing later today a series of hearings on what will be House Bill 1001. These hearings will be held in December so that those of you on the Ways and Means Committee (the most important committee on budget matters here) can begin wading through this issue, can begin debating it publicly and over the Internet, and begin discussing the direction our state needs to go.

I want to thank Representative Bauer and the Democrat leadership for agreeing to waive rules today to allow that bill to be filed and assigned in a single day and to allow the Ways and Means Committee members and their leaders to work on this extremely important problem.

- Despite the statistics that I started with, I honestly believe that Indiana has a very bright future. But, we as leaders must be willing to lead our state to significant change if we are going to be effective. I recently read that 30 years ago there were 10 billion dollars of international transactions in commerce per day. Today, there are 10 billion dollars of international commerce transactions per second! The rest of the world, the rest of the nation has moved far in 30 years, and Indiana has not.

While we continue to debate whether our population is smart enough or inconvenienced too much by changing our clocks twice a year so that we are connected internationally for business, the rest of the world is concerned about creating jobs, is concerned about taking the jobs that are currently here for Hoosiers and for Americans. In the United States we graduate 55,000 engineers per year, which has fallen by half over the last 15 years. In China they are graduating half that number every month, 350,000 engineers graduating in China per year and another 150,000 in India.

Yes, these are national problems, but many states are reacting to these problems. Many states are moving forward, not looking back, and Indiana needs to do the same. If you have read Thomas Friedman, the Pulitzer Prize winner's, book The World is Flat, you know that the jobs that have been done locally are now done over the Internet. And it's not by folks in Ohio or Michigan or North Carolina, it's by English-speaking Chinese in Beijing, it's by English-speaking Indians in Bangalore. Our state has to react.

Closing Remarks

These are tough challenges and lofty goals, especially for a short session. But together we will be able to do it! I look out across this body, and there is incredible talent here. New members and senior members who have many, many years of experience. Together we have to resolve that we will address these issues and that we will lead Hoosiers in the right direction. And we will do it in as bipartisan a fashion as we possibly can!

And I sincerely want to thank the Democrat leadership and the Republican leadership for this last session. We did work in a bipartisan fashion, and boy, we had some tough arguments, some of them heated. I hope we can avoid those arguments during this session. But after tempers cooled, after emotions settled down, we sat down and said "What can we do together?" And we extend that same challenge and offer to you today: we will do this together.

I have just one final thought for you: we together are engaged in a battle. And it's not a battle between right and wrong or good and evil, those were the easy ones when you were a kid. It's not even a battle between Republicans and Democrats. It is a battle between those of us in this chamber and across the hall and throughout the State who think that Indiana is fine just where it is—that the status quo is good enough—and those of us who think that Indiana can and must be so much more.

I have a 17-year old and a 14-year old at home now and we're talking about college and career. This is even a battle between those of us who think that our children have every tool that they need for the future and those of us who think that we can't even imagine the future that they will be exposed to.

When I became a young lawyer with a prominent law firm here in Indianapolis twenty-two years ago, if we needed two copies of a document, we asked our assistant to use carbon paper and make a second copy. On Saturday at the Bucket game, I was introduced to a singer who was a Grammy Award winner. I had no idea who she was, although I told her I loved her work! Within three minutes, after sitting down and using my handheld Palm Pilot, I not only knew who she was, I knew the records she had received Grammy recognition for, I knew her touring schedule for the next two months, and—if I had been in a place where I could have done it—I could even have played her song on my handheld.

Who would have thought we could do something like this even 10 years ago? We can't imagine what our children are going to be exposed to in the business world and commerce in the next decade.

I'll close with Henry Ford; he was fond of saying, "Whether you believe you can do a thing or not, you are right." I believe we can do this; we can do it in a bipartisan fashion, we can do it on time, we can do it in the public domain, and we can do it together! Thank you, and I look forward to working with you throughout this session.

RECEIPT OF ENROLLED ACT VETOED

MESSAGE FROM THE CLERK OF THE HOUSE

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House: On this day, November 22, 2005, House Enrolled Act 1142, enacted by the First Regular Session of the 114th General Assembly and vetoed by Governor Daniels after adjournment sine die, was returned to the House by Governor Daniels and received by me, pursuant to Article 5, Section 14(a)(2)(D) of the Indiana Constitution.

M. CAROLINE SPOTTS
Principal Clerk of the House

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House: By the authority vested in me as Governor of Indiana, under the provisions of Article 5, Section 14, of the Constitution of the State of Indiana, I do hereby veto House Enrolled Act No. 1142, enacted during the regular session of the 114th General Assembly and related to the expansion of Medicaid eligibility and organ procurement procedures.

Tomorrow I will sign a budget bill that curbs the rate of Medicaid spending to just above 5%. Considering that spending in this area was projected to grow at an unsustainable annual rate of more than 10% for the next several years, you and your colleagues made some very difficult decisions to implement a number of important and necessary measures to achieve this goal. In this situation, I cannot support measures that would damage the state's ability to control spending in this area and that would further strain its Medicaid budget.

This Act would have expanded Medicaid eligibility by permitting individuals to assign pre-paid life insurance policies to the state or make an irrevocable election to name the state a beneficiary of the policy. It is my understanding that the intention of the Act was to begin to address some of the significant financial issues facing our long-term care system. However, according to the State Budget Agency, this Act could have led to additional state Medicaid expenditures of $12.4 million in FY06 and $12.9 million in FY07.

In addition, this Act might have had the unintended consequence of opening the door to the kind of abuse that already plagues an overburdened Medicaid system—the manipulation of eligibility parameters at the expense of both the state and those already receiving coverage. Finally, it is unclear whether such a measure would have been acceptable to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services at the federal level or would have resulted in the need to amend our State Medicaid Plan. As such, I do not believe that the passage of this Act is the most advisable step our state can take to provide long-term care coverage for needy Hoosiers at this time. This is a laudable goal, one that my administration will work in close coordination with the initial sponsor of the Act to pursue.

The other component of this Act purports to offer an improved process for organ harvesting and procurement in certain circumstances. However, it appears that many of the people affected by these measures—namely, the county coroners, county prosecutors, and organ and tissue procurement organizations—have not reached consensus on this effort. As a result, I am in favor of allowing more time for these constituencies to work on this very important issue and to address it in future legislative sessions.

I look forward to working with the authors of this Act on finding other ways to solve our looming uninsured problem in this state and providing quality health and long-term care services to Indiana's citizens in the future.

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION recognizing Kokomo, Indiana, on the occasion of the 150th anniversary of its founding.

Whereas, Kokomo was originally part of a tract of land known as the Big Miami Reserve and given to the Miami Indians in a treaty signed in 1818;

Whereas, In the years following the signing of this treaty, the Miami Indians sold most of this land to the state of Indiana and began moving west to the Kansas Territory;

Whereas, During that time, a Miami chief named Jean Baptiste de Richardville was awarded seven sections of land in Indiana in what is now Howard County;

Whereas, After de Richardville's death in 1841, his son-in-law, Francis Lafountain, took over as chief and sold some of the land along Wildcat Creek to Allen Hamilton;

Whereas, This land along Wildcat Creek, which Hamilton later sold to David Foster for a sum of $4,000, became the city of Kokomo;

Whereas, Foster constructed a log cabin to serve as a trading post and a family home, naming the land Ko-Ko-Mo after a Miami Indian named Ma-Ko-Ko-Mo;

Whereas, Foster's original cabin became the first church and school in the community;

Whereas, Kokomo's future changed dramatically with the discovery of a huge natural gas well by the Kokomo Natural Gas & Oil Co. in 1886, attracting several factories and businesses and increasing employment and commerce in Howard County;

Whereas, The increased commerce caused close to 250 new houses to be built in Kokomo;

Whereas, Unfortunately, excessive use and waste of the gas took its toll, and by the end of the 1890's, the gas was almost gone;

Whereas, During these years, Elwood Haynes came to Kokomo;

Whereas, Haynes invented such things as the first successful "Horseless Carriage", Stellite alloy, and stainless steel and put Howard County on the map, and is the major reason Kokomo is called the "City of Firsts";

Whereas, Through the years, Kokomo has continued to grow and develop into a world-class city offering its residents many cultural, educational, and economic opportunities;

Whereas, Kokomo was recently named the number one city in the United States for European manufacturing investments by Expansion Management Magazine, Industry Week ranked Kokomo first in the United States and eighth worldwide as a Manufacturing Metropolitan Area, and Entrepreneur magazine and the National Policy Research Council named Kokomo as one of the nation's hottest places for entrepreneurs, ranking it 97th in the rapid growth category and 105th overall in the small cities division; and

Whereas, The residents of Kokomo should be extremely proud of their city, which sets an example for cities throughout the United States to emulate: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the House of Representatives
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the Senate concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the Indiana General Assembly congratulates the residents of Kokomo on the occasion of the 150th anniversary of the city's founding.

SECTION 2. That the Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to Mayor Matt McKillip.

The resolution was read a first time and adopted by voice vote. The Clerk was directed to inform the Senate of the passage of the resolution. Senate sponsor: Senator Drozda.

Representatives Crouch, Avery, Hoy, VanHaaften, and Stilwell introduced House Concurrent Resolution 7:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION lamenting the devastation and loss of life caused by the November 6, 2005, tornado in Vanderburgh and Warrick counties in southern Indiana.

Whereas, In the pre-dawn hours of Sunday, November 6, 2005, at least one tornado ripped through southern Indiana, killing at least 25 people and injuring approximately 230 in Vanderburgh and Warrick counties, making this the deadliest twister to hit the area since 1974;

Whereas, The tornado touched down about 2 a.m. in Henderson County, Kentucky, then crossed the Ohio River and hit an Evansville mobile home park before moving into Warrick County;

Whereas, The greatest loss of life occurred in a mobile home park in Evansville, where witnesses said several trailers were picked up by the winds and tossed into a nearby lake;

Whereas, There was severe property damage to residences and businesses in Warrick County;

Whereas, The path of damage caused by the tornado was estimated to be approximately 3/4 of a mile wide and 20 miles long;

Whereas, Rescuers searched for survivors throughout the day and into the night amid the ruins of destroyed buildings and shattered lives; and

Whereas, Although Mother Nature has shown her strength in Vanderburgh and Warrick counties, but the citizens of these counties, along with their fellow Hoosiers throughout the state, will rise above this catastrophe and rebuild their homes and their lives: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the House of Representatives
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the Senate concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the members of the Indiana General Assembly express their sympathy for the residents of Vanderburgh and Warrick counties and offer support along the road to recovery.

SECTION 2. That the Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to Evansville Mayor Jonathon Weinzapfel and to the County Councils and County Commission members of Vanderburgh and Warrick counties.

The Speaker handed down Senate Concurrent Resolution 2, sponsored by Representatives Welch and Buell:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION honoring Clarian Health Partners (Methodist Hospital, Indiana University Hospital, and Riley Hospital for Children), Indiana University School of Medicine, and the outstanding doctors who serve the health care needs of the citizens of Indiana.

The doctors represent more than 40 medical specialties involved in the diagnosis and treatment of cancers in adults and children;

Whereas, Thanks to better methods of preventing, finding, and treating the disease, the death rate from cancer is slowly but steadily decreasing in the United States; and

Whereas, It is through organizations like Clarian Health Partners, Indiana University School of Medicine, and their dedicated doctors that the death rate from cancer is decreasing and their continued efforts will possibly help to eliminate cancer as a cause of death throughout the world: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the Senate
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the House of Representatives concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the Indiana General Assembly thanks Clarian Health Partners, Indiana University School of Medicine, and their dedicated doctors for their efforts to bring the citizens of Indiana the best possible cancer care and improved treatment capabilities and congratulates them on their well deserved recognition.

SECTION 2. That the Indiana General Assembly congratulates Dr. John J. Coleman, Dr. Lawrence Einhorn, Dr. Robert J. Fallon, Dr. Richard S. Foster, Dr. Robert J. Goulet, Dr. Jay L. SECTION 3. That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Daniel F. Evans, Jr., President and Chief Executive Officer of Clarian Health Partners; D. Craig Brater, M.D., Dean of the Indiana University School of Medicine; and each Indiana doctor profiled in America's Top Doctors for Cancer.

The resolution was read a first time and adopted by voice vote. The Clerk was directed to inform the Senate of the passage of the resolution.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 3

The Speaker handed down Senate Concurrent Resolution 3, sponsored by Representative T. Brown:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION honoring Ron Wuensch.

Whereas, Ron Wuensch retired as the executive director of the Indiana Optometric Association after 44 years of dedicated service to that organization;

Whereas, The Indiana Society of Association Executives, for whom Ron served as president from 1973-1974, honored Ron by making him the first recipient of its Association Executive of the Year Award in 1982;

Whereas, Ron also received the National Management Achievement Award from the American Society of Association Executives in 1965, 1967, and 1968, and was elected a Certified Association Executive, an honor bestowed on only a very select group of association executives in the United States;

Whereas, During his years as executive director of the Indiana Optometric Association, Ron felt that to be a truly effective administrator, the executive director must personally experience the legislative process and its effect on the association;

Whereas, Therefore, Ron could be seen daily in the halls of the State House ensuring that the best interests of his organization were being met;

Whereas, Ron was dedicated to making sure that he was fully informed regarding all the issues affecting his association;

Whereas, Ron believed that grassroots work and collaboration were the keys to success for the Indiana Optometric Association and helped its local societies around the state put on a pre-legislative conference to bring health care issues to the attention of legislators and candidates; and

Whereas, Ron Wuensch worked diligently to further the Indiana Optometric Association's primary goal, which is "the continuing development and the participation therein of quality eye/vision care for Hoosier citizens": Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the Senate
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the House of Representatives concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the Indiana Senate thanks Ron Wuensch for his dedicated service to the Indiana Optometric Association and the state of Indiana and its citizens and wishes him happiness and contentment in his retirement.

SECTION 2. That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Ron Wuensch and his family.

The resolution was read a first time and adopted by voice vote. The Clerk was directed to inform the Senate of the passage of the resolution.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 5

The Speaker handed down Senate Concurrent Resolution 5, sponsored by Representatives Davis, Hoffman, Saunders, and Pflum:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION to honor State Senator Allen E. Paul for his heroic actions on September 19, 1968, and to recognize him for being awarded a Bronze Star Medal with a valor device.

Whereas, While serving as a radio-telephone operator with Battery A, 1st Battalion (Airmobile), 77th Artillery during a combat mission in the Republic of Vietnam, then Private First Class Allen Paul performed a heroic deed;

Whereas, On September 19th, 1968, his unit became heavily engaged with a large enemy force and sustained several casualties;

Whereas, With complete disregard for his own safety, Private First Class Paul volunteered to move forward in an attempt to reach the wounded soldiers;

Whereas, Exposing himself to intense hostile fire, Private First Class Paul crossed an open area to administer first aid and evacuate the injured men;

Whereas, Private First Class Paul's actions saved the lives of several fellow soldiers;

Whereas, The Bronze Star Medal is awarded to any person who, while serving in any capacity in or with the military of the United States after December 6, 1941, distinguished himself by heroic or meritorious achievement or service while engaged in an action against an enemy of the United States;

Whereas, The Bronze Star Medal is a United States Armed Forces individual military decoration and is the fourth highest award for bravery, heroism or meritorious service;

Whereas, Private First Class Paul was awarded a Bronze Star Medal with a valor device in 1968; however, since the medal allocation system in place at that time allowed for the distribution of only a few medals per month, Private First Class Paul did not receive his medal, but instead received an Army Commendation Medal;

Whereas, On October 2, 2005, in a ceremony dedicating Freedom Park in Portland, Indiana, U.S. Representative Mike Pence presented the Bronze Star Medal with a valor device to Allen Paul;

Whereas, This was the second Bronze Star Medal received by Allen Paul. His first was for meritorious service during a battle in which his unit participated. The ribbon worn for the first medal carries the "M" device;

Whereas, In his capacity as a State Senator, Allen Paul has worked tirelessly to assure that other veterans have received their long overdue recognition; and

Whereas, Senator Allen Paul risked his life in order to save others and it is fitting that the Indiana General Assembly acknowledge the sacrifice and dedication of one of its own members: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the Senate
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the House of Representatives concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the Indiana General Assembly recognizes Senator Allen E. Paul for his exemplary service in the United States Army and congratulates him on being awarded and receiving a Bronze Star Medal with a valor device for his dedication to the United States of America.

SECTION 2. The Secretary of the Senate is hereby directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to Senator Allen E. Paul and his family.

The resolution was read a first time and adopted by voice vote. The Clerk was directed to inform the Senate of the passage of the resolution.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 6

The Speaker handed down Senate Concurrent Resolution 6, sponsored by Representative Bischoff:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION to honor Ed Noel on his retirement from the Greendale Fire Department.

Whereas, Ed Noel joined the Greendale Fire Department in 1965. During his tenure, he has held the positions of Lieutenant and Assistant Chief and was elected Chief in 1978;

Whereas, At the end of this year, Chief Noel will have completed 40 years of service with the Greendale Fire Department and plans to retire;

Whereas, One of Chief Noel's major goals was to oversee construction of a new Fire Station that was more centrally located and provided more space to meet the needs of the City of Greendale. This was achieved when the fire department moved into a new station in December 2004;

Whereas, Chief Noel has always believed that training made the difference between a good department and a great department and has promoted at least two training sessions per month since becoming Chief;

Whereas, Along with his duties at the fire department, Chief Noel has trained and worked with his search dog, Sammy, for the last four years. They have aided several police departments in searches for missing persons;

Whereas, Ed has also served as President of the Dearborn County Fire Chiefs Association and has been a member of the county's Fire Investigation Team;

Whereas, When not on duty, Ed has been active in coaching Little League baseball and soccer, as well as serving on the Dearborn County Local Emergency Planning Committee, the Dearborn County Communications Board, and the County Advisory Board for Emergency Management;

Whereas, Ed has been married to his wife, Bev, for 45 years and they have two married children and five grandchildren; and

Whereas, Chief Noel has dedicated many years to the betterment of Dearborn County and the Greendale Fire Department: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the Senate
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the House of Representatives concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the Indiana General Assembly congratulates Ed Noel on his retirement after 40 successful years of service to the Greendale Fire Department.

SECTION 2. The Secretary of the Senate is hereby directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to Ed Noel and his family.

The resolution was read a first time and adopted by voice vote. The Clerk was directed to inform the Senate of the passage of the resolution.

Whereas, The Indiana Senate and the House of Representatives met for the purpose of organization of each House and to conduct the public business of the people of the State of Indiana;

Whereas, The Indiana Senate and the House of Representatives shall operate on their own respective schedules, having been separated from each other pursuant to IC 2-2.1-1-3;

Whereas, During the consideration of legislative business, each House may, in the respective judgment of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, deem it necessary to adjourn and recess for periods in excess of three (3) consecutive days and to operate on a schedule different from the other House;

Whereas, Article 4, Section 10 of the Constitution of the State of Indiana states that neither House shall, without consent of the other, adjourn for more than three (3) consecutive days;

Whereas, Each House desires to consent to any adjournment or recess by the other House which might last more than three (3) days during the Second Regular Session of the 114th General Assembly; and

114th General Assembly

Second Regular Session

Second Meeting Day

Wednesday Afternoon

January 4, 2006

The House convened at 1:30 p.m. with Speaker Brian C. Bosma in the Chair.

OPENING REMARKS BY THE SPEAKER

As we begin a new session of the Indiana General Assembly we face a number of tremendous challenges and great opportunities. The first day of a new session is one that typically we look to the minority party to give them an opportunity to discuss their hopes and visions for the future. But today is not a typical start to the General Assembly; I've spoken with Representative Bauer today and he desires to have his opportunity to chat with all of us tomorrow. Events out of our hands have temporarily diverted the attention of many of us and of the rest of the state and, in fact, the nation to a new challenge that we face together regarding religious liberty and free speech in the legislative process. As you can tell by the extraordinary order of business that we are undertaking today, things are changed just a bit today.

For 189 years it has been our practice to invite men and women of many faiths to join us at this point in our proceedings and offer uncensored, open prayer in accordance with their own beliefs and conscience. In my 19-year career here, as many of you, I have heard prayers offered by representatives of virtually every faith, including Jewish Rabbis, Islamic Imams, and persons with no religious affiliation whatsoever. Some mentioned Jesus Christ, some chose not to. Others made reference only to God and others chose not to mention Him in any way.

The important unifying fact in all of those prayers: each and every one was not coerced or censored in any fashion. Every representative who spoke here and every clergyman or lady who chose to offer a prayer was free to pray in accordance with the dictates of their conscience. And the point is that we did not all agree, perhaps, on the theology of those prayers, but we all agreed and respected the individual's right to pray openly, freely, without coercion, or without censorship.

As you know, today is the first day on which we are operating under a federal court order that has ruled that a federal judge is entitled to control the content of the invocation for the first time in 189 years in our state. Judge Hamilton has ruled that the prayers given as part of our opening invocation, the official proceedings of the Indiana House, are not to "use Christ's name or title or any other denominational appeal" and specifically should not—and I am now quoting the Order—"proclaim or otherwise communicate the belief that Jesus of Nazareth was the Christ, the Messiah, the Son of God, or the Savior, or that he was resurrected, or that he will return on Judgment Day or is otherwise divine." In short, for the first time in two centuries, the Speaker of the House has been placed in the position of seeing to it that only government-approved theology will be offered on the House floor. I have struggled with this now for nearly two months and I believe this order flies in the face of an elected official's historical constitutional role as it intersects with religious speech in public venues. In short, I read the order to require an inquiry about the individual's theology, their beliefs regarding prayer, and to require the Speaker of the House to make a value-laden judgment, a theological determination that they can or cannot pray in conformance with the Court's order. Numerous Supreme Court decisions hold that public officials like myself can not make such religious judgments in our public work.

This was brought home to me very clearly when over the past week our staff contacted four different pastors who have prayed in this Chamber before and have used what are now the forbidden phrases. They were invited to come here and share with us today, and in each case they responded that they could not in good conscience return to the House Chambers to share and offer an invocation in accordance with the Court's order that did not conflict with their own religious beliefs. I have read numerous news accounts of many others who have shared the same view. I know there are many others who would gladly come and pray in the approved fashion, but I find myself having to make the judgment whether they could or could not come.

When that ruling was first issued I termed it "intolerable" and inconsistent with religious liberty and free speech, and I still believe that is an accurate characterization. But we are a nation of laws, and not of men (and women to update the quote), and each of us have taken an oath to uphold the laws and constitution of our state and the United States, including those laws that we disagree with. My friends and others have suggested that I defy the Court order. But after talking about this with my own children, I determined that the message this sent was completely inappropriate. We are a nation of laws, even laws that we disagree with. What message would a defiance send to an abusive husband who disagrees with a restraining order to stay away from his estranged wife and children? No, this is a law and we must obey it.

Many others have suggested that I stand completely aside and implement the Court's directive that only government-approved prayer be allowed in the House Chamber. I disagree. In the words of James Madison, the author of the First Amendment, "The religion . . . of every man must be left to the conviction and conscience of every man . . . It is the duty of every man to render to the Creator such homage and such only as he believes acceptable to him [the individual]." Requiring people to pray in accordance with a government-approved theology directly interferes with the freedom of conscience and speech that each of us holds so dear.

But, together we must and we shall make a stand on this issue. I have already directed our state's Attorney General and our legal team to pursue an aggressive appeal of this matter on our behalf to the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals and to the United States Supreme Court, if necessary. We will continue to fight this order by every constitutional means available until it is overturned.

While this order is in effect, members may, if they so choose, participate in an informal opportunity to offer uncensored, unfettered prayer on the floor of the House prior to the beginning of our session just as occurred in the back of the Chamber today. Our legal advisors have indicated that this course of action meets both the letter and the spirit of Judge Hamilton's order, and still meets the goal of many of us to let members of this chamber and our staff to gather together here and offer prayer in a manner consistent with our own consciences and unfettered by judicial interference.

There is a 189-year history of free speech and open prayer in this House that is temporarily void for a time. Those of us, myself included, who yearn for the opportunity to freely speak in accordance with our beliefs have, historically, always ended up on the right side of history in this nation of freedom. I believe that, hopefully soon, our freedom to have unfettered, unrestricted, uncensored, unapproved prayer in this House will be returned. And I pledge to continue to fight with each of you, and I know that I speak for most of you when I say that, by God's grace, we will not faint from this task. I can only ask you as we open this session with the Pledge of Allegiance that we each ask God to bless our work this session and to bless the State of Indiana.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was led by Representative B. Patrick Bauer.

Whereas, Allison Lewis started the ninth-inning, two-out rally by doubling to right center, setting the stage for the dramatic finish;

Whereas, Sophomore Abby Calloway, who hit a two-RBI single in the bottom of the third, gave 28-1-1 Martinsville a strong performance on the mound, improving her record to 9-1 for the season and allowing only one earned run and five hits in the nine-inning game;

STATE OF THE STATE

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Members of the Assembly, friends and neighbors:

You provide me the privilege of this podium for just the second time, but I know that the excitement I feel on these occasions will never fade. Coming together, in the presence of our fellow citizens, to assess the condition of our state, and of its governance, and to think together about plans for its future greatness—surely everyone here feels as honored as I do just to be present.

When we met last year, I described the state of our state as "far from sound", and "in need of serious attention." I noted that state government was broke, and broken. That we were far behind in making the changes needed to restore income to Hoosier paychecks, and an atmosphere of opportunity that persuades our young people to stay and build their lives here.

By any honest account, those descriptions remain true tonight. None of the problems that gave birth to Indiana's change movement is behind us, or nearly so. But that is not to say that nothing is different in Indiana from a year ago. In fact, we are a vastly different place.

In the last year, we have become more progressive, adopting approaches to government widely used in other states, but new to us. We have become more forward-looking, building toward a great future, not merely scraping by through a present of struggles. We have become more activist, tackling our problems with vigor not half-measures, confidence not resignation, risk-taking not timidity.

As an utterly forgettable young infielder, I heard far too often the coaches shout "Daniels, don't let the ball play you." They meant to get off your heels and move forward, advance on ground balls and field them before it was too late. If you mishandled the first attempt, there would still be time to try again and throw the runner out at first.

Indiana is no longer on its heels, waiting while our problems bounce past us or through our legs. Even though the inning is still an early one, we are moving forward against our challenges. We are playing the ball.

We saw a bankrupt state government, and we acted.

A $2 billion surplus had evaporated; several straight budgets had spent more than was coming in; schools and local governments had been stiffed, and thus forced to borrow, through delayed payments of over $700 million. Some said, "Go slow. A decade of deficits can't be fixed in one budget. It took years to get into this hole, it will take years to get out."

But we said, "No." We said, "Now." First, we have a constitutional duty to balance the budget, and without gimmicks. Second, the sooner we get the boat bailed out and upright, the sooner we can set a course for the new investments and improvements Indiana needs.

Together, we passed the leanest state budget in a half century. Spending in most areas was held constant, or less. The only increases, modest ones at that, were for schools, transfers to local government, child protection, and Medicaid. We asked special interests to back off a little, to think for once about the good of all, to work with us and put our state back in the black. With exceptions, they did.

And we have results. Tonight, with a half-year of this first budget behind us, we are in a position to forecast that Indiana will have a balanced budget for the first time in ten years, and not after two years as the budget contemplated, but after only one, by June 30 of this year. Congratulations to all who helped.

We are not ahead of schedule because of good luck. Revenues received, aside from our very successful tax amnesty program, are no better than expected. We are ahead of schedule because our New Crew of reform-minded public servants is finding ways, every day, to reduce waste and stretch tax dollars.

We stopped cooking our own prison food in 26 separate kitchens and saved $12 million, while food quality improved. We discovered and cancelled maintenance contracts on equipment the state no longer owns.

We ended sweetheart deals and began negotiating as though tax dollars were our own. We no longer pay $8000 for a copier machine we can get for $4500; we no longer buy ball point pens department by department for $1.02 when we can get them in bulk for 48 cents. Our millions of driver's licenses now cost a dollar, not $1.52 each to produce.

Over 2000 state-owned vehicles have gone to the auction block; eight aircraft and a raft of unneeded real estate are on their way there.

By the way, if anyone would like to buy a rocking chair, purchased by state government for $2000 each, from Texas of all places, we have ten for sale.

Hundreds of savings, some large but most small by themselves, total up to over $200 million in reduced spending so far. To those who belittle our concern with such matters, we say never forget that some Hoosier worked hard for every one of those dollars, and it is an obscenity for government to waste it or to spend it less efficiently than is humanly possible.

A prudent family pays down its credit cards before it buys a new car. As a first dividend from our fiscal recovery program, I am directing tonight that $156 million of the extra proceeds from our amnesty success be used for a special distribution to Indiana's public schools, repaying half of the funds withheld from our school systems during the previous era of deficit spending.

Balancing the people's books is a solemn duty, but it is not the whole business, or the true purpose of government. That highest purpose is to provide excellent public service to citizens at the lowest possible cost to taxpayers.

We saw state government that, in far too many places, was slow, incompetent, or even shamed by dishonesty and scandal. We saw backlogs, waiting lists, and unmet needs. We acted, and we have results.

Every problem we inherited remains to some extent, but everywhere progress has begun. The backlogs of tax filings, environmental permits, minority business certifications, medical disability and unemployment claims have been slashed or eliminated. The child support system that was collecting only half the money owed to single moms has begun to improve, and at $6 million each, every percentage point really counts. One hundred new caseworkers are trained and on the job protecting vulnerable children, and the nation's largest caseloads are on their way down.

We saw what methamphetamine was doing to the small towns and families of our state, and launched the nation's most all-out effort to combat it. Meth production has been cut in half, the backlog at the evidence lab is down by two-thirds, the nation's first meth treatment prison wards are up and operating, and other states, for once, are copying us.

We built a system to connect low-income Hoosiers with discounts on their prescription drugs, and have already helped 100,000 to slash their medication costs. At no cost to taxpayers, Rx for Indiana has helped 5 times the number served by the state's previous effort, and delivered twenty or more times the savings to poorer citizens who can really use the help. Standing in for thousands of volunteers who made those savings possible is a woman who singlehandedly helped two hundred neighbors in need; please help me thank Jennifer Nelson of Terre Haute.

We said the people's business should be done more openly, and, with your help, we have results. Those who lobby the executive branch about rulemaking or contracts now must register their activity for all to see. Contract decisions are posted on the web, for all to see. Campaign finance disclosures will now be filed twice as often.

Rules against gifts, and penalties for violating the public trust have been stiffened. The revolving door has been locked; public employees offered jobs by those doing business with the state must now wait at least a year before taking them.

Because tougher rules alone will never make men angels, we established an Inspector General. There is now a place for the whistles of whistleblowers to be heard. Now that people know wrongdoing will be acted on, whistles are blowing, ten times as often as a year ago. Thirty-three cases have been referred for prosecution, and the word is spreading: if you're thinking about cheating the taxpayer, pick another state than Indiana.

One typical whistleblower, who turned down a bribe and turned in the wrongdoer, is with us tonight, representing that overwhelming majority of public employees who want to work in a clean, efficient state government. Please help me recognize Teresa Marshall of Shelbyville.

Citizens who see their government wasting money on little things cannot be expected to trust it when it seeks to do big things. Those who watch government make a botch of the simplest service, with no serious effort to reform or improve itself, are justified in a cynicism that poisons our ability to unite around common goals.

So we will continue challenging old ways, trying new approaches, setting higher targets and measuring everything along the way, knowing that we must never be satisfied but taking heart from the dramatic improvements we are recording every day.

Even as we press on with the work already begun, there is essential new work to commence.

No area of responsibility must concern us more than public education, and no area intersects more with our other problems. As, far and away, the state's most expensive spending category, education cannot be separated from our fiscal responsibilities. And no factor will do more to determine Indiana's future economic health than the quality of the learning in our public schools.

At $10,000 per student, Indiana occupies a proud position near the top of states in commitment to public education. At $1.14 of their income for every dollar spent in the average state, Hoosiers dig deeper to support their schools than almost any citizens in America. Our commitment to our schools is a reason for pride and must never waver.

But are our children getting as much education as possible from all this money? Last year at this speech, I pointed out that we sometimes seem to elevate construction over instruction. The average school building here costs almost half again what is spent in the rest of the country. Debt service on school buildings is 3 times the national average, and by far the biggest driver of higher property tax bills.

We addressed that imbalance with common sense rules that simply say, if you are planning a building that will cost above the national average, think twice, and show cause before proceeding. Since those simple rules went into place, no request has been rejected, but $87 million that we know of has been trimmed voluntarily from local school borrowing proposals.

This year, we must seize another opportunity to shift more dollars to the classroom, where it matters most. We spend more dollars than most states, but all too often, we don't spend them where the kids are. Consider that well under half of Indiana school employees are teachers, one of the lowest ratios in America.

Ignore for a moment our excessive construction costs; only 61 per cent of operating expenses reach the classroom, compared to a national best approaching 70%. Hundreds of millions that could be going for more teachers, higher teacher pay, cheaper text books, or new programs like all-day kindergarten, extra math and science tutoring, or a longer school year, go instead to administrative and support costs. We could have smaller classrooms, smaller schools, better-paid teachers and new programs just by making even small improvements in the way we spend our school dollar.

At $10 billion of total spending, every one per cent shift of dollars from overhead to the classroom could fund 1500 new teachers, or buy every high school student a computer.

No superintendent I've met wants to waste money in the back office that could be spent on the front lines of education. Our school administrators should be permitted to opt out of expensive state requirements that consume time and money but add little or nothing to student achievement.

And they need new authority and new tools to conserve and stretch precious dollars. In most cases, our 292 school corporations operate on their own: they buy things as cheap as supplies or as costly as insurance and energy with no collaboration and no economies of scale. In many states, all school buses are bought centrally, at prices thousands of dollars per bus lower than Indiana schools are paying.

It is time to make more of our school dollars available to teachers and the purposes that matter most. Let's catch up and pass other states in the efficiency of our school spending. I am sending to the General Assembly a package of reforms to enable our school officials to conserve scarce dollars and redeploy them to the classrooms and the teachers of our state.

If the machinery of state government was due for an overhaul, our local level needs an extreme makeover. How ironic that Indiana, by reputation cautious about Big Government, leads the nation in the number of politicians we elect. How curious that Hoosiers, strong believers in local control, have imprisoned mayors and county officers in a system that prevents major change without state approval.

Redundant and antiquated government makes property taxes too high and decision making too slow. Scattered authority produces bizarre tax assessments in which identical houses just blocks apart are taxed at widely different levels. Like our other challenges, change will take many years, but it is past time to begin.

The days of top-down control of local affairs from Indianapolis have run their course. As I did last year, I call on the General Assembly to liberate localities to raise funds from sources other than the overused and unfair property tax. And to begin assuming the costs of caring for endangered and abandoned children at the state level, also reducing property tax burdens in every county. And to offer blanket pre-approval to any community or school corporation that wishes to combine with its neighbor or consolidate duplicative layers of government. Let our traditional "creature of the state" system begin giving way to a new era of home rule and local autonomy across our state.

But there is an essential tradeoff implicit in this new freedom. Cities, counties, and school districts must become partners in reform, supporting and leading in the reduction of overhead and the elimination of excess. I ask the local officials of our state to endorse and help effect the end of the archaic township assessment system and the transfer of this failed process to the level of our 92 counties.

My fellow citizens, there are sprints, and there are marathons.

A balanced budget is already in sight. Reform of state government is well underway, and changes in local government will come in time.

But the reversal of economic decline, and then the climb to leadership, will not be the work of weeks, or even a few years. Only boldness, and imagination, and then the fortitude to sustain pro-growth policies will suffice to turn around decades of erosion.

It cannot be said too often. Governments do not "run" economies. They do not create jobs or wealth. At their worst, they destroy jobs, or drive them to other, friendlier locations. At their best, they establish an environment in which free men and women, pursuing their dreams and best ideas, create wealth for each other.

In 2005, we made Indiana a much more growth-friendly place. Taxes on research and development and small business were reduced. We have reordered state government, in every relevant activity, to become an ally and not an obstacle to growth. A new public-private job-seeking agency replaced a failed state bureaucracy and closed more deals with companies investing in Indiana than in the previous two years combined.

We placed special emphasis on the suffering small towns and rural spaces of our state. We went all-out and saved the Crane naval research center. We launched the most pro-agriculture program in decades, and, in one year, Indiana has moved from nowhere to national leadership in biofuels. During 2006, ten or more new ethanol and biodiesel plants will open across our state. The Indiana economy is still facing upstream, but at least now we are swimming.

Perhaps the single most important step government can take for our economic future is to ensure the best possible infrastructure, the strongest possible framework, to support the businesses of tomorrow.

In a wired world, "infrastructure" no longer means just roads, rail lines, or waterways but also the invisible fibers and frequencies over which today's most vital and valuable commerce is transacted. It is time to modernize a telecommunications regulatory system set up for the age of monopolies and copper wire to unleash this century's most dynamic, diverse and competitive technologies. Two decades ago, Indiana waited too long, left an outmoded regulatory regime in place, and lost its in-state banks as a result. This time, let's be among the leaders in freeing investors to connect our businesses, small towns, and homes to the unseen skeleton of the New Economy.

The emergence of invisible infrastructure does not mean that the backbone we can see is less important. In fact, to a state that sits at the "crossroads of America", nothing is more crucial to our economic future than the best network for moving goods in, out, and through to the markets of America and the world.

It is within our grasp to create that network. To connect even the smallest community of Indiana to the world economy in a way that gives us a competitive advantage over other states. To make "Major Moves" into a future of extended manufacturing superiority and a position as the nation's logistics capital.

Business as usual will never get it done. As matters stand, we'll have fewer than half the dollars needed to build the roads, bridges, rail lines and airports our economy needs and, in most cases, Hoosiers have been promised. Without new approaches, long-sought projects like US 31, the Hoosier Heartland Corridor, new Ohio River bridges, the Gary-Chicago Airport, I-69, and dozens of others will continue to languish on the drawing boards where they have been for too long already. And the thousands of new jobs that could be created in businesses that build them or locate near them will never come into existence.

The plan we call "Major Moves" would trigger tremendous job growth using in large part a very handy tool: other people's money. Two thirds of the tolls paid on the Indiana Toll Road are paid by out-of-state motorists.

If we can interest private firms in putting their own money into the construction of I-69 and perhaps other expensive projects, recapturing that investment through tolls paid largely by non-Hoosiers, by all means let's do. And if, a big if, private firms are willing to offer Indiana a very large sum of money today for the right to operate our northern toll road over time, we would be foolish not to seize that opportunity, and make the dreams of decades a reality in our time.

With ten days to go, we have good reason to believe that one of many active bidders will offer the state an amount far beyond anything we could generate ourselves. If such an offer does not materialize, we have lost nothing. If it does, I will recommend to the General Assembly that we capture those dollars and reinvest them in the nation's boldest transportation program, from one end of our state to the other, putting thousands of Hoosiers to work every step of the way.

We must move on one more long-term barrier to bigger paychecks, as well as a higher quality in the lives Hoosiers lead. It's a troublesome truth that ours is one of the least healthy states in America. We weigh, drink, and smoke too much, and exercise too little. So it's no accident that we have some of the highest health care costs anywhere, a barrier in the way of the new jobs we seek.

Our InShape Indiana initiative is off to a reasonable start, with thousands of citizens signing up to pay more attention to basic principles of wellness. But no single step we could take would matter more than reducing the percentage of Hoosiers, particularly young Hoosiers, who smoke cigarettes. All the evidence shows that the most effective way to deter young smokers is at the cash register. I ask this Assembly to raise Indiana's lowest-in-the-Midwest cigarette tax by at least 25 cents a pack.

The first steps of any race are critical. Our first steps have been fast ones, strong and straight. But the ground we must cover to catch up to accumulated problems, and overtake other states of this country, will be a long and demanding one.

At the gym I frequent, I sometimes run with—or, more accurately, run far behind—a friend named Sunder Nix. If the name is familiar, it is because Mr. Nix is an Indiana sports hero, a gold medalist at the '84 Olympics and a 400-meter specialist.

Sunder tells me that, although the first or “drive” phase of a race is key, the second stage is likewise. In this “transition” segment, his goal is to maintain the speed he has attained through a fast start. “Whatever you do,” he teaches, “don't lose your momentum.”

Momentum for change has been established in Indiana. We have already taken steps people said were not possible. This is no time to rest, let alone pull up lame. We must gather confidence and courage from the fast start behind us and head straight for the next set of goals: more money in our classrooms, the exchange of 19th Century institutions for 21st Century models, and brave, bold moves to build a backbone for a new generation of great jobs.

To those of our fellow citizens for whom all this seems like too much change too fast, we say, “We understand.” Who among us doesn't wish now and then that someone would stop the world so we could all get off?

I've saved a recent quote from a Lafayette gentleman who spoke, I know, for many when he said “I'm an old-timer, and old-timers don't like change. I know I'm just that way and I don't have to have a reason for anything.” To that good man, and all like him, we do understand, but we offer you good reasons, a million of them. That's how many young people are enrolled in Indiana schools tonight, facing a life of competition far tougher, and more global, than anything today's workers ever knew.

Those kids are the million reasons that we cannot stand still in this state. That we cannot accept mediocrity or middle of the pack status in any realm. That we must think big, aim high, and act boldly, to build for them the foundation, physical and institutional, on which they can construct bright futures, and do it here.

To this Assembly, I say “Lap One, well done.” But the second phase is all-important. We don't have a single day, let alone a legislative session, to rest, or cruise, or hesitate. Let's move, let's act, let's play the ball aggressively, confident that we are a state whose potential exceeds its performance, determined that “good enough” never is, that catching up is merely a start, that true greatness lies ahead.

God bless you and this great state."

INTRODUCTION OF JOINT RESOLUTIONS

The following joint resolutions were read a first time by title and referred to the respective committees:

HJR 4 — Turner, Heim

Committee on Rules and Legislative Procedures

A JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to Article 1 of the Indiana Constitution concerning property.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

RESOLUTIONS ON FIRST READINGHouse Concurrent Resolution 14

Representatives V. Smith, Aguilera, C. Brown, Crawford, Dickinson, E. Harris, Mays, Porter, and Summers introduced House Concurrent Resolution 14:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION commemorating Martin Luther King, Jr. Day.

Whereas, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was one of our nation's truly great leaders;

Whereas, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. had many dreams: of an America where "justice rolls down like waters and righteousness like a mighty stream"; of an America where neighbors look "beyond the external accidents and discern those inner qualities that make all men human and, therefore, brothers"; of a time when "this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed, "we hold these truths to be self evident: that all men are created equal";

Whereas, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. had a dream for a better society—a dream where "the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave owners will be able to sit together at the table of brotherhood";

Whereas, The visions of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. continue to bring hope and inspiration to people of all nations;

Whereas, All Americans must continue to gather inspiration from the life of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and strive to realize his dreams: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, the Senate concurring:

SECTION 1. That it is fitting and proper that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. be remembered and recognized by future generations of Americans.

"Indiana's Place in American Court Reform: Rarely First, Occasionally Last, Frequently Early"

"Governor Daniels and Members of the General Assembly:

In reporting to you about the state of Indiana's judiciary, I often relate challenges and changes from the months just past. Today, I want to speak about a bigger picture, about where Indiana courts stand in the larger story of reinventing America's courts. Where does Indiana fit in this broad effort at reform, and what do we contribute to it?

Areas of National Reform

Let me begin by mentioning areas in which the nation's state courts face the greatest challenges.

Globalization. Justice John Paul Stevens gave a speech recently in Indianapolis about the effects of a globalizing world economy on the American court system and on the American legal profession. When an American employer strikes a commercial deal with a business partner in Asia or Europe, both parties need to understand how their own domestic law and customary international law will affect the transaction. Likewise, lawyers for the American company and lawyers for the company overseas need to help facilitate that transaction by plying their trade far away from the place where they are licensed. America's state courts, as regulators of the bar, are actively examining how to support those arrangements, so important to our domestic economy.

The legal profession is likewise engaged in a massive effort to help new democracies like—those in Kosovo, Ukraine, Iraq, and Afghanistan—establish the rule of law, believing as most Americans do that a world with more democratic states possessing stable legal systems will be a safer place.

And, of course, globalization shows up in every state's back yard in the form of immigrants for whom English is not the first language. State courts are active in devising ways to assure such people access to justice. Many people with language issues are too poor to even hire lawyers let alone interpreters, and finding new ways to provide legal help to them and to other low-income Americans is a national priority.

Families. Thousands of American judges spend every day asking themselves, "What can we do to strengthen American families and improve the lives of children?" Last year saw the release of a landmark report by a national commission that examined how government can do better for abused and neglected children. And so, in October there was a remarkable national summit of leaders in state courts and child protection agencies gathered to develop action plans to make that happen.

Ethics in Government. Judges and lawyers are in the middle of a major national effort to revise the rules of ethics that apply to courts so that we can assure our fellow citizens that fidelity to high standards is part of their judiciary. The scandal in Congressional lobbying makes this need become ever more apparent.

Correction, Guilt, and Innocence. The growing number of people in American jails and prisons compels a search for an effective, less expensive, means of dealing with offenders and deterring repeaters. The latest inventive projects with this aim focus on courts as institutions that help solve problems rather than as places that simply try cases. Judges and others have devised what are called "problem-solving courts": drug courts, neighborhood courts, mental health courts, and re-entry courts, to name a few.

New Age and New Law. At least since deTocqueville's tour of nineteenth century America, the country's courtrooms have been places where the changes in American society show up quickly, presenting brand new legal questions: "What is privacy in the electronic age?" or "What do civil rights mean in the war on terror?" to name but two examples.

Jury Reform. At the heart of American justice stands the right to a trial by jury. There is a national movement, based in the state courts, to improve the selection of jurors, to give jurors better tools to do their work, and to help them understand the laws they should apply.

Reform Starts at Home

In thinking about how Indiana connects to these major national initiatives, I've come around to a description that fits Indiana's position on the question of law reform, not just today, but through much of its history:

Rarely first, occasionally last, and frequently early.

There are examples that demonstrate this description from our history and from modern times. In 2003, for example, we celebrated the 100th anniversary of Indiana's first juvenile court, the third juvenile court in America, way ahead of everybody. In the 1970's, Indiana was the third state whose legislature adopted determinate sentencing, the regime under which most of the country has now operated for about a quarter century. In the 1980's, Indiana was the second state to adopt standards for the qualifications and compensation of lawyers who represent defendants in capital cases. In the 1990's, we were the sixth or seventh state to launch a project on jury reform. Rarely first, occasionally last, frequently early.

Indiana Is Connected to Every Effort at American Court Reform

So, what has Indiana been doing on the leading national priorities I described?

Globalization. Indiana courts have been front-line participants in devising lawyer rules to facilitate national and international commerce, first to adopt the uniform rule admitting foreign lawyers to reside here and advise on the law of their home country. Indiana has sent judges and prosecutors overseas, to places like Kosovo, Iraq, and Afghanistan, to assist in devising new constitutions and laws, and court rules. (And, since charity begins at home, we also sent people to the Gulf Coast to help rebuild courts and communities after Hurricane Katrina.) And, Indiana has become a place foreign judges want to visit. Most recently we hosted a delegation from Russia and one from Ukraine.

Families. You voted last year to require the appointment of a guardian or child advocate in every case in which a child has been abused or neglected. On this topic, Indiana has been both last and first. We were the last state to enact this comprehensive requirement—but as far as building a corps of people to speak for the abused child in court, last year there were more than 2,000 adult volunteers who worked with more than 16,000 Indiana children. Indiana has more local programs to recruit and train volunteers to represent the best interest of children than any other state.

Ethics. The national re-examination of the ethics rules for judges I mentioned is being led by the American Bar Association. I have been invited to serve as a standing adviser to the ABA's commission, but more importantly, the ABA has recruited two Hoosiers to do the heaviest intellectual lifting as reporters for the commission: Professor Charles Geyh of the law school at Bloomington and Professor Emeritus William Hodes of the law school at Indianapolis.

A close corollary of ethics reform is working to make government more accessible, more “transparent” as the current saying goes. Indiana has developed an award-winning project for public information and education about its courts. We do this in lots of different media, from printed materials to live lectures to public displays. And, of course, the Internet. On one day last September, more than 19,000 people visited our website.

Corrections and Problem-Solving. A drug court is not really a separate court but a court procedure under which the prosecutor and defense counsel consent to permit a defendant to avoid prison only if they comply with a tight set of treatment requirements and extremely close monitoring directly by the judge. Something like 35 percent of the people sent to drug courts would otherwise be holding down DOC beds, and the number of drug courts in Indiana is rising steadily. You passed legislation last year to strengthen this movement. The executive director of the national organization for drug court professionals is former judge and Attorney General Karen Freeman-Wilson of Gary.

Similar problem-solving techniques are applied in “re-entry courts.” As DOC Commissioner J. David Donahue says, “We can’t expect much when we push an offender out the prison door with $75 and a set of clothes.” Re-entry courts mean we can expect more. The nation’s leading re-entry court is in Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the leadership of Judge John Surbeck.

New Age Law. On issues like privacy and consumer protection in the electronic age, any list of America’s top ten legal scholars would include Professor Fred Cate of Bloomington. Professor Cate is one of the jewels of Indiana’s legal community, and he helps the profession and the courts in a host of ways. These include advising our effort under the leadership of Justice Brent Dickson to devise new practices for improving public access to court records without making life easy for identity thieves or domestic abusers.

Legal Help for the Poor. Many states have long used a system to gather otherwise uncollected interest from lawyer trust accounts as a way of helping people who need legal assistance. Indiana was the last state to implement such a system. But we were the first state to commit that resource to building a network of volunteer lawyers to assist low-income people. Last year Indiana attorneys contributed over 20,000 hours of time to indigent Hoosiers through this unique network.

Jury Reform. You know that we have made many improvements in how Indiana juries do their work, but I want to report on the newest one, effective just days ago. At the end of last year, we distributed to county clerks the best list of potential jurors ever devised. Justice Ted Boehm led an effort with assistance from the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, the Department of Revenue, Purdue University, and local court personnel that in the end produced a disc for each county containing non-duplicated, up-to-date names and addresses for use in mailing jury summons. We estimate that it includes 99 percent of the people living in Indiana who are eligible for jury service.

Why does that matter? For one thing, it will save a lot of money. In some counties, 40 percent of the jury notices come back as undeliverable.

But, there’s a more important reason it matters. Americans treasure the idea that we are entitled to a “jury of our peers” but the fact is that many jury lists leave out lots of people, especially low-income people and minorities. This new initiative, a product of our Judicial Technology and Automation Committee, has produced the most inclusive list of possible jurors ever. The people summoned for jury duty now will be the most representative array of citizens in all the time since King John signed the Magna Carta in 1214. The country’s leading experts in jury reform made this Indiana development the lead story in their national electronic newsletter under the headline “List Heaven.”

Indiana Supplies Leaders

Having listed some of the ways Indiana connects to the leading court issues of the day, I suggest that Indiana contributes to national reform in two ways: we provide leaders, and we export new ideas.

First, in a host of settings, Indiana provides leaders for the national judiciary and the legal profession.

I recently made a business call to a judge in Seattle named Eileen Kato; she was national chair of the American Bar Association Conference of Specialized Court Judges. She said, “I know two of your colleagues.” “Who?” Her successor as leader of this legion of judges is Judge Michael Witte of Lawrenceburg, Indiana. And she knew Frank Sullivan. “Justice Sullivan’s been our leader,” she said, “on a project to help more minority law school graduates get appellate court clerkships.”

Judge Lorenzo Arredondo of Lake County has been director of the American Judicature Society, the country’s leading group on judicial selection and ethics, and Judge John Baker of the Court of Appeals has served on the committee that devises education for appellate judges. Justice Sullivan now guides the ABA Appellate Judges Conference. Former Justice Myra Selby, now helping us on race and gender issues, earlier served on the body that accredits and therefore shapes America’s 180 law schools.

Judges Margret Robb and Pat Riley of the Court of Appeals are recognized leaders in the National Association of Women Judges (and last year brought their annual meeting to Indianapolis). Judge Jim Payne, if he weren’t now part of the Daniels Administration, would instead be today president of the National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges. Don Lundberg, who runs the Supreme Court’s Disciplinary Commission, presently serves as treasurer of the National Association of Bar Counsel, the country’s organization of lawyer disciplinary agencies. And not far from the judicial circle, it is an honor for our state that the fifty state attorneys general have chosen Attorney General Steve Carter as their president.

Indiana’s contribution of national leaders goes well beyond judges and lawyers. Cathy Springer, the director of education at the Indiana Judicial Center, has lately become a member of the faculty and a member of the oversight committee for the number one place in America where people work on how to improve the continuing legal education of judges, the University of Memphis. Anne Davidson, assistant director of the Indiana Continuing Legal Education Commission, was recently president of the national association of organizations that oversee CLE for lawyers, a group called ORACLE. And, Cheri Harris of Indiana has recently become the executive director of ORACLE. (And indeed, we brought the offices of ORACLE here to Indiana.)

And the Judicial Family Institute, which helps spouses and children of judges navigate through judicial waters, was conceived and created by Justice Dickson’s spouse, Jan Dickson, now widely regarded as having done more to help judicial families than any other single person in the country.

As you might expect, the people I’ve just mentioned, and others, fit under the old saying, “If you want something done, ask a busy person to do it.” They are people who contribute more than most folks during their day jobs and somehow manage to provide leadership above and beyond, both here and elsewhere.

Indiana Exports Ideas

Second, and at least as important, Indiana is an exporter of ideas about better courts.

I will start with an example that even many judges in our state don’t know about. There are two places in Indiana where we try most “mass tort” cases, litigation like asbestos claims. They are presided over by Judge Jeff Dywan in Lake County and Judge Ken Johnson in Marion County. When I spoke to a recent conference at the University of Chicago, the first judge I ran into said, “How’s Ken Johnson? I wish we could use his system here in New Jersey.” Judge Johnson has developed a case management system for mass torts that is the envy of other judges elsewhere. Why do you need a special system? There was one five-day period when Judge Johnson received 16,000 filings.

Indiana’s pro bono plan, by which thousands of Hoosier lawyers volunteer their time to assist low-income people in need of legal assistance has been emulated by multiple states around the country.

On the problem of language, last year we certified the first interpreters qualified to translate formal courtroom testimony. We also need people in the county courthouses who can on a day-to-day basis communicate with persons who walk into the courthouse speaking mostly Spanish. So, last fall we completed a pilot program in Terre Haute, partnering with Ivy Tech, to train local court personnel in Spanish. Next month, we will launch it state-wide basis.

Most recent immigrants are people who speak Spanish, but we have people who appear in local courts speaking everything from Mandarin to Urdu. We're experimenting with a system designed for those situations called "Language Line," and so far we've used it to assist with people who spoke French, Somalian, Russian, Mongolian, Yeman, and Mextaco (a Mexican regional dialect). Last month, for example, Judge James Jarrette in Kosciusko County, had a defendant who spoke only Korean. He called our Division of State Court Administration and was quickly connected by telephone with a skilled interpreter who spoke Korean, so that people in the courtroom could understand her and she could understand them and the court could resolve the case based on full communication by all.

Quite aside from structural reform, Indiana has been a giver of useful caselaw. When I became Chief Justice, I said, "We want to be a court so well-regarded that judges in other states, when considering the toughest legal issues of our time, will be led to look at each other and ask, 'I wonder what Indiana has done about this.'"

Every few weeks, thousands of American lawyers receive the Supreme Court Reporter, the latest cases of the U.S. Supreme Court. The editors of this publication search the country for decisions from other courts that they think lawyers in America would want to know about and they feature these as "Judicial Highlights." In one six-month period last year, ten of those were Indiana cases—representing issues from the death penalty to criminal sentencing to family law and consumer protection. It is a number far out of proportion to our state's size and judicial output. This level of national recognition reflects the good job our appellate courts do, but it also reflects splendid work by Indiana lawyers and trial judges who skillfully litigate these cases long before the appeals reach this building. I've always wanted to work in a place where common sense and first-rate legal thinking were the order of the day. And I do.

Thanks for Your Confidence

It has always seemed to me that our state's bench ought to have its feet firmly planted on Indiana soil, but its eyes fixed on the horizon. It should be one that cares about individual cases, big and small. And always has in its heart what we can do together, tomorrow, to be better servants than we are today.

That's more true this afternoon than it was a year ago, and Judge Diane Schneider of Lake County best articulated a central reason why. Speaking to a roomful of judges, she said: "A perpetual cloud hung over us year after year, a cloud labeled 'compensation.' That cloud finally has been lifted. This is a time when we should move ahead to better things." She was confirming the response of the state's judges and prosecutors to your action in adjusting salaries during the last session. I stand for the proposition that it will be in Indiana's best interests to make similar adjustments in the other two branches of government.

As for the judiciary, I stand with Judge Schneider in believing that this is a moment when the judiciary must strive to do better than ever at helping Indiana be a safer, prosperous, and decent place to live. I promise you that's what will happen."

The President of the Senate adjourned the joint convention.

The House reconvened at 2:45 p.m. with the Speaker in the Chair.

RESOLUTIONS ON FIRST READING

Senate Concurrent Resolution 7

The Speaker handed down Senate Concurrent Resolution 7, sponsored by Representatives Ayres and Heim:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION promoting the use of the "A Child is Missing" program.

Whereas, A Child is Missing ("ACIM") was founded in 1996 as a nonprofit organization headquartered in Fort Lauderdale, Florida;

Whereas, ACIM is devoted to assisting law enforcement in search and early recovery efforts during the critical initial hours following the disappearance of a child or an elderly or disabled person with a rapid-response neighborhood notification program;

Whereas, ACIM's services, which can be initiated only by law enforcement officials, are currently available in 13 different states, including Indiana;

Whereas, ACIM uses high-tech telephony to make 1,000 calls in 60 seconds, allowing ACIM to rapidly reach thousands of people in the area surrounding a disappearance;

Whereas, At least 83 individuals have been recovered using the services of ACIM, at least four of whom were located in Indiana; and

Whereas, ACIM is a beneficial resource and the Indiana General Assembly seeks to promote awareness of this service and encourage all Indiana law enforcement officials to use the program: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, the House of Representatives concurring:

SECTION 1. The Indiana General Assembly encourages all law enforcement officials throughout Indiana to use the "A Child is Missing" program to assist in locating a child or an elderly or disabled person who has disappeared.

SECTION 2. The Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the Indiana Sheriff's Association, the Indiana Association of Cities and Towns, and the Indiana Fraternal Order of Police.

The resolution was read a first time and adopted by voice vote. The Clerk was directed to inform the Senate of the passage of the resolution.

Representative Pond was excused.

"SECTION 21. IC 36-1-12-4 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 4. (a) This section applies whenever the cost of a public work project will be:

(1) at least seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) in:

(A) a consolidated city or second class city;

(B) a county containing a consolidated city or second class

- city; or
 (C) a regional water or sewage district established under IC 13-26;
- (2) at least fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in:
 (A) a third class city or town with a population of more than five thousand (5,000); or
 (B) a county containing a third class city or town with a population of more than five thousand (5,000); or
- (3) at least ~~twenty-five~~ fifty thousand dollars (~~$25,000~~) ($50,000) in a political subdivision or an agency not described in subdivision (1) or (2).
- (b) The board must comply with the following procedure:
 (1) The board shall prepare general plans and specifications describing the kind of public work required, but shall avoid specifications which might unduly limit competition. If the project involves the resurfacing (as defined by IC 8-14-2-1) of a road, street, or bridge, the specifications must show how the weight or volume of the materials will be accurately measured and verified.
 (2) The board shall file the plans and specifications in a place reasonably accessible to the public, which shall be specified in the notice required by subdivision (3).
 (3) Upon the filing of the plans and specifications, the board shall publish notice in accordance with IC 5-3-1 calling for sealed proposals for the public work needed.
 (4) The notice must specify the place where the plans and specifications are on file and the date fixed for receiving bids.
 (5) The period of time between the date of the first publication and the date of receiving bids shall be governed by the size of the contemplated project in the discretion of the board, but it may not be more than six (6) weeks.
 (6) If the cost of a project is one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or more, the board shall require the bidder to submit a financial statement, a statement of experience, a proposed plan or plans for performing the public work, and the equipment that the bidder has available for the performance of the public work. The statement shall be submitted on forms prescribed by the state board of accounts.
 (7) The board may not require a bidder to submit a bid before the meeting at which bids are to be received. The meeting for receiving bids must be open to the public. All bids received shall be opened publicly and read aloud at the time and place designated and not before.
 (8) Except as provided in subsection (c), the board shall:
 (A) award the contract for public work or improvements to the lowest responsible and responsive bidder; or
 (B) reject all bids submitted.
 (9) If the board awards the contract to a bidder other than the lowest bidder, the board must state in the minutes or memoranda, at the time the award is made, the factors used to determine which bidder is the lowest responsible and responsive bidder and to justify the award. The board shall keep a copy of the minutes or memoranda available for public inspection.
 (10) In determining whether a bidder is responsive, the board may consider the following factors:
 (A) Whether the bidder has submitted a bid or quote that conforms in all material respects to the specifications.

SECTION 59. IC 6-1.1-12-28.5 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2008]: Sec. 28.5. (a) For purposes of this section:

"Hazardous waste" has the meaning set forth in IC 13-11-2-99(a) and includes a waste determined to be a hazardous waste under IC 13-22-2-3(b).

"Resource recovery system" means tangible property directly used to dispose of solid waste or hazardous waste by converting it into energy or other useful products.

"Solid waste" has the meaning set forth in IC 13-11-2-205(a) but does not include dead animals or any animal solid or semisolid wastes.

(b) Except as provided in this section, the owner of a resource recovery system is entitled to an annual deduction in an amount equal to ninety-five percent (95%) of the assessed value of the system if:

- (1) the system was certified by the department of environmental management for the 1993 assessment year or a prior assessment year; and
- (2) the owner filed a timely application for the deduction for the 1993 assessment year.

For purposes of this section, a system includes tangible property that replaced tangible property in the system after the certification by the department of environmental management.

(c) The owner of a resource recovery system that is directly used to dispose of hazardous waste is not entitled to the deduction provided by this section for a particular assessment year if during that assessment year the owner:

- (1) is convicted of any violation under IC 13-7-13-3 (repealed), IC 13-7-13-4 (repealed), or IC 13-30-6; or
- (2) is subject to an order or a consent decree with respect to property located in Indiana based upon a violation of a federal or state rule, regulation, or statute governing the treatment, storage, or disposal of hazardous wastes that had a major or moderate potential for harm.

(d) The certification of a resource recovery system by the department of environmental management for the 1993 assessment year or a prior assessment year is valid through the 1997 assessment year so long as the property is used as a resource recovery system. If the property is no longer used for the purpose for which the property was used when the property was certified, the owner of the property shall notify the county auditor. However, the deduction from the assessed value of the system is:

- (1) ninety-five percent (95%) for the 1994 assessment year;
- (2) ninety percent (90%) for the 1995 assessment year;
- (3) seventy-five percent (75%) for the 1996 assessment year; and
- (4) sixty percent (60%) for the 1997 assessment year.

Notwithstanding this section as it existed before 1995, for the 1994 assessment year, the portion of any tangible property comprising a resource recovery system that was assessed and first deducted for the 1994 assessment year may not be deducted for property taxes first due and payable in 1995 or later.

(e) In order to qualify for a deduction under this section, the person who desires to claim the deduction must file an application with the county auditor after February 28 and before May 16 of the current assessment year. An application must be filed in each year for which the person desires to obtain the deduction. The application may be filed in person or by mail. If mailed, the mailing must be postmarked on or before the last day for filing. If the application is not filed before the applicable deadline under this subsection, the deduction is waived. The application must be filed on a form prescribed by the department of local government finance. The application for a resource recovery system deduction must include:

- (1) a certification by the department of environmental management for the 1993 assessment year or a prior assessment year as described in subsection (d); or
- (2) the certification by the department of environmental management for the 1993 assessment year as described in subsection (g).

Beginning with the 1995 assessment year a person must also file an itemized list of all property on which a deduction is claimed. The list must include the date of purchase of the property and the cost to acquire the property.

(f) Before July 1, 1995, the department of environmental management shall transfer all the applications, records, or other material the department has with respect to resource recovery system deductions under this section for the 1993 and 1994 assessment years. The township assessor shall verify each deduction application filed under this section and the county auditor shall determine the deduction. The county auditor shall send to the department of local government finance a copy of each deduction application. The county auditor shall notify the county property tax assessment board of appeals of all deductions allowed under this section. A denial of a deduction claimed under this subsection may be appealed as provided in IC 6-1.1-15. The appeal is limited to a review of a determination made by the township assessor or the county auditor.

(g) Notwithstanding subsection (d), the certification for the 1993 assessment year of a resource recovery system in regard to which a political subdivision is liable for the payment of the property taxes remains valid at the ninety-five percent (95%) deduction level allowed before 1994 as long as the political subdivision remains liable for the payment of the property taxes on the system.

(b) This subsection does not apply to an application for a deduction under section 34.5 of this chapter. The department of environmental management, upon application by a property owner, shall determine whether a system or device qualifies for a deduction provided by section 31, 33, or 34 of this chapter. If the department determines that a system or device qualifies for a deduction, it shall certify the system or device and provide proof of the certification to the property owner. The department shall prescribe the form and manner of the certification process required by this subsection.

If the center determines that a building qualifies for a deduction, the center shall certify the building and provide proof of the certification to the owner of the building. The center shall prescribe the form and procedure for certification of buildings under this subsection. If the center receives an application for certification of a building under section 34.5 of this chapter before April 10 of an assessment year:

If the designating body determines that the property owner has not substantially complied with the statement of benefits and that the failure to substantially comply was not caused by factors beyond the control of the property owner (such as declines in demand for the property owner's products or services), the designating body shall mail a written notice to the property owner. The written notice must include the following provisions:

- (1) An explanation of the reasons for the designating body's determination.
- (2) The date, time, and place of a hearing to be conducted by the designating body for the purpose of further considering the property owner's compliance with the statement of benefits. The date of the hearing may not be more than thirty (30) days after the date on which the notice is mailed.
- (c) On the date specified in the notice described in subsection (b)(2), the designating body shall conduct a hearing for the purpose of further considering the property owner's compliance with the statement of benefits. Based on the information presented at the hearing by the property owner and other interested parties, the designating body shall again determine whether the property owner has made reasonable efforts to substantially comply with the statement of benefits and whether any failure to substantially comply was caused by factors beyond the control of the property owner. If the designating body determines that the property owner has not made reasonable efforts to comply with the statement of benefits, the designating body shall adopt a resolution terminating the property owner's deduction under section 3 or 4.5 of this chapter. If the designating body adopts such a resolution, the deduction does not apply to the next installment of property taxes owed by the property owner or to any subsequent installment of property taxes.

(d) If the designating body adopts a resolution terminating a deduction under subsection (c), the designating body shall immediately mail a certified copy of the resolution to:

- (1) the property owner;
- (2) the county auditor; and
- (3) ~~if the deduction applied under section 4.5 of this chapter, the township assessor who serves the area in which the property to which the deduction applied is located.~~

The county auditor shall remove the deduction from the tax duplicate and shall notify the county treasurer of the termination of the deduction. If the designating body's resolution is adopted after the county treasurer has mailed the statement required by IC 6-1.1-22-8, the county treasurer shall immediately mail the property owner a revised statement that reflects the termination of the deduction.

(e) A property owner whose deduction is terminated by the designating body under this section may appeal the designating body's decision by filing a complaint in the office of the clerk of the circuit or superior court together with a bond conditioned to pay the costs of the appeal if the appeal is determined against the property owner. An appeal under this subsection shall be promptly heard by the court without a jury and determined within thirty (30) days after the time of the filing of the appeal. The court shall hear evidence on the appeal and may confirm the action of the designating body or sustain the appeal. The judgment of the court is final and conclusive unless an appeal is taken as in other civil actions.

(f) If an appeal under subsection (e) is pending, the taxes resulting from the termination of the deduction are not due until after the appeal is finally adjudicated and the termination of the deduction is finally determined.

SECTION 69. IC 6-1.1-12.4-2, AS ADDED BY P.L.193-2005, SECTION 8, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2008]: Sec. 2. (a) For purposes of this section, an increase in the assessed value of real property is determined in the same manner that an increase in the assessed value of real property is determined for purposes of IC 6-1.1-12.1.

(b) This subsection applies only to a development, redevelopment, or rehabilitation that is first assessed after March 1, 2005, and before March 2, 2009. Except as provided in subsection (h) and sections 4, 5, and 8 of this chapter, an owner of real property that:

(c) The deduction under this section is first available in the year in which the increase in assessed value resulting from the development, redevelopment, or rehabilitation occurs and continues for the following two (2) years. The amount of the deduction that a property owner may receive with respect to real property located in a county for a particular year equals the lesser of:

- (1) two million dollars ($2,000,000); or

- (2) an annual adjustment under IC 6-1.1-4-4.5.

(g) If an appeal of an assessment is approved that results in a reduction of the assessed value of the real property, the amount of the deduction under this section is adjusted to reflect the percentage decrease that results from the appeal.

(h) The deduction under this section does not apply to a facility listed in IC 6-1.1-12.1-3(e).

SECTION 70. IC 6-1.1-12.4-3, AS ADDED BY P.L.193-2005, SECTION 8, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2008]: Sec. 3. (a) For purposes of this section, an increase in the assessed value of personal property is determined in the same manner that an increase in the assessed value of new manufacturing equipment is determined for purposes of IC 6-1.1-12.1.

(b) This subsection applies only to personal property that the owner purchases after March 1, 2005, and before March 2, 2009. Except as provided in sections 4, 5, and 8 of this chapter, an owner that purchases personal property other than inventory (as defined in 50 IAC 4.2-5-1, as in effect on January 1, 2005) that:

(c) The deduction under this section is first available in the year in which the increase in assessed value resulting from the purchase of the personal property occurs and continues for the following two (2) years. The amount of the deduction that a property owner may receive with respect to personal property located in a county for a particular year equals the lesser of:

- (1) two million dollars ($2,000,000); or
- (2) the product of:
 - (A) the increase in assessed value resulting from the purchase of the personal property; multiplied by
 - (B) the percentage from the following table:

YEAR OF DEDUCTION	PERCENTAGE
1st	75%
2nd	50%
3rd	25%

(d) If an appeal of an assessment is approved that results in a reduction of the assessed value of the personal property, the amount of the deduction is adjusted to reflect the percentage decrease that results from the appeal.

(e) A property owner must claim the deduction under this section on the owner's annual personal property tax return. The ~~township~~ assessor who serves the area in which the property to which the deduction applied is located shall:

- (1) identify the personal property eligible for the deduction to the county auditor; and
 - (2) inform the county auditor of the deduction amount.
- (f) The county auditor shall:

The board shall consider and act upon all the recommendations.

SECTION 72. IC 6-1.1-14-2 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2008]: Sec. 2. Each county assessor shall transmit to the department of local government finance a copy of each business personal property return ~~which the township assessor that the taxpayer is required to deliver to the county assessor under IC 6-1.1-3-18(b) file in duplicate under IC 6-1.1-3-7(c)~~ and any supporting data supplied by the taxpayer with the return. The return and supporting data shall be transmitted to the department of local government finance on or before the time prescribed by the department.

SECTION 73. IC 6-1.1-15-1, AS AMENDED BY P.L.199-2005, SECTION 6, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2008]: Sec. 1. (a) A taxpayer may obtain a review by the county property tax assessment board of appeals of a county or township official's action with respect to the assessment of the taxpayer's tangible property if the official's action requires the giving of notice to the taxpayer. At the time that notice is given to the taxpayer, the taxpayer shall also be informed in writing of:

- (1) the opportunity for review under this section, including an informal preliminary conference with the county or township official referred to in this subsection; and
- (2) the procedures the taxpayer must follow in order to obtain review under this section.

- (1) not later than forty-five (45) days after notice of a change in the assessment for the current calendar year is given to the taxpayer; or
- (2) for the assessment date in a current calendar year for which notice of a change in the assessment is not given to the taxpayer:

(A) after the mailing date of the statement under IC 6-1.1-17-3 in the immediately preceding calendar year; and

(B) on or before May 10 of that the current calendar year. ~~whichever is later.~~ The preliminary conference required under this subsection is a prerequisite to a review by the county property tax assessment board of appeals under subsection (i).

- (c) A change in an assessment made as a result of an appeal filed:
- (1) in the same year that notice of a change in the assessment is given to the taxpayer; and
 - (2) after the time prescribed in subsection (b); becomes effective for the next assessment date.

(d) A taxpayer may appeal a current real property assessment in a year even if the taxpayer has not received a notice of assessment in the year. If an appeal is filed on or before May 10 of a year in which the taxpayer has not received notice of assessment, a change in the assessment resulting from the appeal is effective for the most recent assessment date. If the appeal is filed after May 10, the change becomes effective for the next assessment date.

(e) The written request for a preliminary conference that is required under subsection (b) must include the following information:

- (1) The name of the taxpayer.
- (2) The address and parcel or key number of the property.
- (3) The address and telephone number of the taxpayer.

(f) The county or township official referred to in subsection (a) shall, not later than thirty (30) days after the receipt of a written request for a preliminary conference, attempt to hold a preliminary conference with the taxpayer to resolve as many issues as possible by:

- (1) discussing the specifics of the taxpayer's reassessment;

 - (C) the reassessment appeal process.

Not later than ten (10) days after the conference, the county or township official referred to in subsection (a) shall forward to the county auditor and the county property tax assessment board of appeals the results of the conference on a form prescribed by the department of local government finance that must be completed and signed by the taxpayer and the official. The official and the taxpayer shall each retain a copy of the form for their records.

(g) The form submitted to the county property tax assessment board of appeals under subsection (f) must specify the following:

- (1) The physical characteristics of the property in issue that bear on the assessment determination.
- (2) All other facts relevant to the assessment determination.
- (3) A list of the reasons the taxpayer believes that the assessment determination by the county or township official referred to in subsection (a) is incorrect.
- (4) An indication of the agreement or disagreement by the official with each item listed under subdivision (3).
- (5) The reasons the official believes that the assessment determination is correct.

(h) If after the conference there are no items listed on the form submitted to the county property tax assessment board of appeals under subsection (f) on which there is disagreement:

- (1) the county or township official referred to in subsection (a) shall give notice to the taxpayer, the county property tax assessment board of appeals, and the county assessor of the assessment in the amount agreed to by the taxpayer and the official; and
- (2) the county property tax assessment board of appeals may reserve the right to change the assessment under IC 6-1.1-13.

(i) If after the conference there are items listed in the form submitted under subsection (f) on which there is disagreement, the county property tax assessment board of appeals shall hold a hearing. The taxpayer and county or township official whose original determination is under review are parties to the proceeding before the board of appeals. Except as provided in subsections (k) and (l), the hearing must be held not later than ninety (90) days after the official's receipt of the taxpayer's written request for a preliminary conference under subsection (b). The taxpayer may present the taxpayer's reasons for disagreement with the assessment. The county or township official referred to in subsection (a) must present the basis for the assessment decision on these items to the board of appeals at the hearing and the reasons the taxpayer's appeal should be denied on those items. The county assessor is recused from any action the county property tax assessment board of appeals takes with respect to an assessment determination by the county assessor. The board of appeals shall have a written record of the hearing and prepare a written statement of findings and a decision on each item not later than sixty (60) days after the hearing, except as provided in subsections (k) and (l).

(j) If the county or township assessor official referred to in subsection (a) does not attempt to hold a preliminary conference, the taxpayer may file a request in writing with the county assessor for a hearing before the property tax assessment board of appeals. If the board determines that the county or township official referred to in subsection (a) did not attempt to hold a preliminary conference, the board shall hold a hearing. The taxpayer and the county or township official whose original determination is under review are parties to the proceeding before the board of appeals. The hearing must be held not later than ninety (90) days after the receipt by the board of appeals of the taxpayer's hearing request under this subsection. The requirements of subsection (i) with respect to:

- (1) participation in the hearing by the taxpayer and the township assessor or county assessor; and
 - (2) the procedures to be followed by the county board;
- apply to a hearing held under this subsection.

(k) This subsection applies to a county having a population of more than three hundred thousand (300,000). In the case of a petition filed after December 31, 2000, the county property tax assessment board of appeals shall:

- (1) hold its hearing not later than one hundred eighty (180) days instead of ninety (90) days after the filing of the petition; and
- (2) have a written record of the hearing and prepare a written statement of findings and a decision on each item not later than one hundred twenty (120) days after the hearing.

(l) This subsection applies to a county having a population of three hundred thousand (300,000) or less. With respect to an appeal of a real property assessment that takes effect on the assessment date on which a general reassessment of real property takes effect under IC 6-1.1-4-4, the county property tax assessment board of appeals shall:

- (1) hold its hearing not later than one hundred eighty (180) days instead of ninety (90) days after the filing of the petition; and
- (2) have a written record of the hearing and prepare a written statement of findings and a decision on each item not later than one hundred twenty (120) days after the hearing.

(m) The county property tax assessment board of appeals:

- (1) may not require a taxpayer to file documentary evidence or summaries of statements of testimonial evidence before the hearing required under subsection (i) or (j); and
- (2) may amend the form submitted under subsection (f) if the board determines that the amendment is warranted.

(n) Upon receiving a request for a preliminary conference under subsection (b), the county or township official referred to in subsection (a) shall notify the county auditor in writing that the assessment is under appeal. With respect to an appeal of the assessment of real property or personal property filed after June 30, 2005, the notice must include the appellant's name and address, the assessed value of the appealed items for the assessment date immediately preceding the assessment date for which the appeal was filed, and the assessed value of the appealed items on the most recent assessment date. If the county auditor determines that the assessed value of the appealed items constitutes at least one percent (1%) of the total gross certified assessed value of a particular taxing unit for the assessment date immediately preceding the assessment date for which the appeal was filed, the county auditor shall send a copy of the notice to the affected taxing unit. Failure of the county auditor to send a copy of the notice to the affected taxing unit does not affect the validity of the appeal or delay the appeal.

SECTION 74. IC 6-1.1-15-5, AS AMENDED BY P.L.199-2005, SECTION 10, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2008]: Sec. 5. (a) Not later than fifteen (15) days after the Indiana board gives notice of its final determination under section 4 of this chapter to the party or the maximum allowable time for the issuance of a final determination by the Indiana board under section 4 of this chapter expires, a party to the proceeding may request a rehearing before the Indiana board. The Indiana board may conduct a rehearing and affirm or modify its final determination, giving the same notices after the rehearing as are required by section 4 of this chapter. The Indiana board has fifteen (15) days after receiving a petition for a rehearing to determine whether to grant a rehearing. Failure to grant a rehearing not later than fifteen (15) days after receiving the petition shall be treated as a final determination to deny the petition. A petition for a rehearing does not toll the time in which to file a petition for judicial review unless the petition for rehearing is granted. If the Indiana board determines to rehear a final determination, the Indiana board:

- (1) may conduct the additional hearings that the Indiana board determines necessary or review the written record without additional hearings; and
- (2) shall issue a final determination not later than ninety (90) days after notifying the parties that the Indiana board will rehear the final determination.

If the Indiana board fails to make a final determination within the time allowed under subdivision (2), the entity that initiated the petition for rehearing may take no action and wait for the Indiana board to make a final determination or petition for judicial review under subsection (g).

(b) A person may petition for judicial review of the final determination of the Indiana board regarding the assessment of that person's tangible property. The action shall be taken to the tax court under IC 4-21.5-5. Petitions for judicial review may be consolidated at the request of the appellants if it can be done in the interest of justice. The property tax assessment board of appeals that made the determination under appeal under this section may, with the approval of the county executive, file an amicus curiae brief in the review proceeding under this section. The expenses incurred by the property tax assessment board of appeals in filing the amicus curiae brief shall be paid from the property reassessment fund under IC 6-1.1-4-27.5. In addition, the executive of a taxing unit may file an amicus curiae brief in the review proceeding under this section if the property whose assessment is under appeal is subject to assessment by that taxing unit. The department of local government finance may intervene in an action taken under this subsection if the interpretation of a rule of the department is at issue in the action. A township assessor, county assessor, member of a county property tax assessment board of appeals, or county property tax assessment board of appeals that made the original assessment determination under appeal under this section is a party to the review under this section to defend the determination.

(c) Except as provided in subsection (g), to initiate a proceeding for judicial review under this section, a person must take the action required by subsection (b) not later than:

- (1) forty-five (45) days after the Indiana board gives the person notice of its final determination, unless a rehearing is conducted under subsection (a); or
- (2) thirty (30) days after the Indiana board gives the person notice under subsection (a) of its final determination, if a rehearing is conducted under subsection (a) or the maximum time elapses for the Indiana board to make a determination under this section.

(d) The failure of the Indiana board to conduct a hearing within the period prescribed in section 4(h) or 4(i) of this chapter does not constitute notice to the person of an Indiana board final determination.

(e) The county executive may petition for judicial review to the tax court in the manner prescribed in this section upon request by the county assessor, the ~~elected~~ township assessor, or an affected taxing unit. If an appeal is taken at the request of an affected taxing unit, the taxing unit shall pay the costs of the appeal.

(f) If the county executive determines upon a request under this subsection to not appeal to the tax court:

- (1) the entity described in subsection (b) that made the original determination under appeal under this section may take an appeal to the tax court in the manner prescribed in this section using funds from that entity's budget; and
- (2) the petitioner may not be represented by the attorney general in an action described in subdivision (1).

(g) If the maximum time elapses for the Indiana board to give notice of its final determination under subsection (a) or section 4 of this chapter, a person may initiate a proceeding for judicial review by taking the action required by subsection (b) at any time after the maximum time elapses. If:

- (1) a judicial proceeding is initiated under this subsection; and
- (2) the Indiana board has not issued a determination;

the tax court shall determine the matter de novo.

SECTION 75. IC 6-1.1-15-9, AS AMENDED BY P.L.199-2005, SECTION 11, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2008]: Sec. 9. (a) If the assessment of tangible property is corrected by the department of local government finance or the county property tax assessment board of appeals under section 8 of this chapter, the owner of the property has a right to appeal the final determination of the corrected assessment to the Indiana board. The county executive also has a right to appeal the final determination of the reassessment by the department of local government finance or the county property tax assessment board of appeals but only upon request by the county assessor, the ~~elected~~ township assessor, or an affected taxing unit. If the appeal is taken at the request of an affected taxing unit, the taxing unit shall pay the costs of the appeal.

(b) An appeal under this section must be initiated in the manner prescribed in section 3 of this chapter or IC 6-1.5-5.

SECTION 76. IC 6-1.1-15-10 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE UPON PASSAGE]: Sec. 10. (a) If a petition for review to any board or a proceeding for judicial review in the tax court regarding an assessment or increase in assessment is pending, the taxes resulting from the assessment or increase in assessment are, notwithstanding the provisions of IC 6-1.1-22-9, not due until after the petition for review, or the proceeding for judicial review, is finally adjudicated and the assessment or increase in assessment is finally determined. However, even though a petition for review or a proceeding for judicial review is pending, the taxpayer shall pay taxes on the tangible property when the property tax installments come due, unless the collection of the taxes is stayed under IC 4-21.5-5-9 pending a final determination in the proceeding for judicial review. The amount of taxes which the taxpayer is required to pay, pending the final determination of the assessment or increase in assessment, shall be based on:

- (1) the assessed value reported by the taxpayer on the taxpayer's personal property return if a personal property assessment, or an increase in such an assessment, is involved; or
- (2) an amount based on the immediately preceding year's assessment of real property if an assessment, or increase in assessment, of real property is involved.

(b) If the petition for review or the proceeding for judicial review is not finally determined by the last installment date for the taxes, the taxpayer, upon showing of cause by a taxing official or at the tax court's discretion, may be required to post a bond or provide other security in an amount not to exceed the taxes resulting from the contested assessment or increase in assessment.

(c) Each county auditor shall keep separate on the tax duplicate a record of that portion of the assessed value of property that is described in IC 6-1.1-17-0.5(b) or IC 6-1.1-17-0.5(d). When establishing rates and calculating state school support, the department of local government finance shall exclude from assessed value in the county the assessed value of property kept separate on the tax duplicate by the county auditor under IC 6-1.1-17-0.5(b) or IC 6-1.1-17-0.5(d).

SECTION 77. IC 6-1.1-15-12 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2008]: Sec. 12. (a) Subject to the limitations contained in subsections (c), ~~and~~ (d), and (e), a county auditor shall correct errors which are discovered in the tax duplicate for any one (1) or more of the following reasons:

- (4) There was a mathematical error in computing the taxes or penalties on the taxes.
- (5) There was an error in carrying delinquent taxes forward from one (1) tax duplicate to another.
- (6) The taxes, as a matter of law, were illegal.
- (7) There was a mathematical error in computing an assessment.
- (8) Through an error of omission by any state or county officer the taxpayer was not given credit for an exemption or deduction permitted by law.

(b) The county auditor shall correct an error described under subsection (a)(1), (a)(2), (a)(3), (a)(4), or (a)(5) when the county auditor finds that the error exists.

(c) If the tax is based on an assessment made or determined by the state board of tax commissioners (before the board was abolished) or the department of local government finance, the county auditor shall not correct an error described under subsection (a)(6), (a)(7), or (a)(8) until after the correction is either approved by the department of local government finance or ordered by the tax court.

(d) Except as provided in subsection (e), if the tax is not based on an assessment made or determined by the ~~state board of tax commissioners (before the board was abolished)~~ or the department of local government finance, the county auditor shall correct an error described under subsection (a)(6), (a)(7), or (a)(8) only if the correction is first approved by at least two (2) of the following officials:

- (1) The township assessor.
- (2) The county auditor.
- (3) The county assessor.

(e) In a county in which there are no township assessors, if the tax is not based on an assessment made or determined by the department of local government finance, the county auditor shall correct an error described under subsection (a)(6), (a)(7), or (a)(8) only if the correction is first approved by both of the following officials:

- (1) The county auditor.
- (2) The county assessor.

~~(h)~~ (h) If a correction or change is made in the tax duplicate after it is delivered to the county treasurer, the county auditor shall transmit a certificate of correction to the county treasurer. The county treasurer shall keep the certificate as the voucher for settlement with the county auditor.

(5) The state board of accounts shall design and, upon request by the county auditor, deliver to the county auditor or the county auditor's designated printer the petition forms to be used solely in the petition process described in this section. The county auditor shall issue to an owner or owners of real property within the political subdivision the number of petition forms requested by the owner or owners. Each form must be accompanied by instructions detailing the requirements that:

SECTION 93. IC 6-1.1-20-3.2 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 3.2. (a) This section applies only to a controlled project that is subject to section 3.1 of this chapter.

(b) If a sufficient petition requesting the application of a petition and remonstrance process has been filed as set forth in section 3.1 of this chapter, a political subdivision may not impose property taxes to pay debt service or lease rentals without completing the following procedures:

(1) The proper officers of the political subdivision shall give notice of the applicability of the petition and remonstrance process by:

(A) publication in accordance with IC 5-3-1; and

(B) first class mail to the organizations described in ~~section 3-1(1)(B)~~ section 3.1(b)(1)(B) of this chapter.

A notice under this subdivision must include a statement that any owners of real property within the political subdivision who want to petition in favor of or remonstrate against the proposed debt service or lease payments must file petitions and remonstrances in compliance with subdivisions (2) through (4) not earlier than thirty (30) days or later than sixty (60) days after publication in accordance with IC 5-3-1.

(2) Not earlier than thirty (30) days or later than sixty (60) days after the notice under subdivision (1) is given:

(A) petitions (described in subdivision (3)) in favor of the bonds or lease; and may be filed by an owner or owners of real property within the political subdivision. Each signature on a petition must be dated and the date of signature may not be before the date on which the petition and remonstrance forms may be issued under subdivision (3). A petition described in clause (A) or a remonstrance described in clause (B) must be verified in compliance with subdivision (4) before the petition or remonstrance is filed with the county auditor under subdivision (4).

(B) remonstrances (described in subdivision (3)) against the bonds or lease;

(3) The state board of accounts shall design and, upon request by the county auditor, deliver to the county auditor or the county auditor's designated printer the petition and remonstrance forms to be used solely in the petition and remonstrance process described in this section. The county auditor shall issue to an owner or owners of real property within the political subdivision the number of petition or remonstrance forms requested by the owner or owners. Each form must be accompanied by instructions detailing the requirements that:

(A) the carrier and signers must be owners of real property;

(B) the carrier must be a signatory on at least one (1) petition;

(C) after the signatures have been collected, the carrier must swear or affirm before a notary public that the carrier witnessed each signature;

(D) govern the closing date for the petition and remonstrance period; and

(E) apply to the carrier under section 10 of this chapter.

Persons requesting forms may not be required to identify themselves and may be allowed to pick up additional copies to distribute to other property owners. The county auditor may not issue a petition or remonstrance form earlier than twenty-nine (29) days after the notice is given under subdivision (1). The county auditor shall certify the date of issuance on each petition or remonstrance form that is distributed under this subdivision. (4) The petitions and remonstrances must be verified in the manner prescribed by the state board of accounts and filed with the county auditor within the sixty (60) day period described in subdivision (2) in the manner set forth in section 3.1 of this chapter relating to requests for a petition and remonstrance process.

(5) The county auditor must file a certificate and the petition or remonstrance with the body of the political subdivision charged with issuing bonds or entering into leases within fifteen (15) business days of the filing of a petition or remonstrance under subdivision (4), whichever applies, containing ten thousand (10,000) signatures or less. The county auditor may take an additional five (5) days to review and certify the petition or remonstrance for each additional five thousand (5,000) signatures up to a maximum of sixty (60) days. The certificate must state the number of petitioners and remonstrators that are owners of real property within the political subdivision.

(6) If a greater number of owners of real property within the political subdivision sign a remonstrance than the number that signed a petition, the bonds petitioned for may not be issued or the lease petitioned for may not be entered into. The proper officers of the political subdivision may not make a preliminary determination to issue bonds or enter into a lease for the controlled project defeated by the petition and remonstrance process under this section or any other controlled project that is not substantially different within one (1) year after the date of the county auditor's certificate under subdivision (5). Withdrawal of a petition carries the same consequences as a defeat of the petition.

(7) After a political subdivision has gone through the petition and remonstrance process set forth in this section, the political subdivision is not required to follow any other remonstrance or objection procedures under any other law (including section 5 of this chapter) relating to bonds or leases designed to protect owners of real property within the political subdivision from the imposition of property taxes to pay debt service or lease rentals. However, the political subdivision must still receive the approval of the department of local government finance required by IC 6-1.1-18.5-8 or IC 6-1.1-19-8.

within fifteen (15) business days of the filing of the petition requesting an election on a local public question under section 3.6 of this chapter. The certificate must state the number of petitioners that are owners of real property within the political subdivision.

(c) If a sufficient petition requesting an election on a local public question under section 3.6 of this chapter is not filed by owners of real property as set forth in this section, the political subdivision may issue bonds or enter into a lease by following the provisions of law relating to the bonds to be issued or lease to be entered into.

SECTION 95. IC 6-1.1-20-3.6 IS ADDED TO THE INDIANA CODE AS A NEW SECTION TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 3.6. (a) This section applies only to a controlled project that is subject to section 3.5 of this chapter.

(h) IC 3, to the extent not inconsistent with this section, applies to an election held under this section.

SECTION 96. IC 6-1.1-20-9 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 9. (a) When the proper officers of a political subdivision decide to issue bonds payable from property taxes to finance a public improvement, they shall adopt an ordinance or resolution which sets forth their determination to issue the bonds. Except as provided in subsection (b), the political subdivision may not advertise for or receive bids for the construction of the improvement until the expiration of the latter of:

- (3) notify the county treasurer and the department of local government finance of the amount deferred on the form and in the manner prescribed by the department of local government finance.

Sec. 21. An amount approved for deferral under this chapter for a particular year does not accrue interest until the fifth year after the amount otherwise would have been due if the amount had not been deferred. Beginning in the fifth year and on the installment date on which the amount otherwise would have been due, the deferred amount accrues interest at the rate set under IC 6-8.1-10-1 for delinquent listed taxes. The department of local government finance shall at least annually notify each county auditor of the interest rate that applies in the year to deferred property taxes. The amount of interest due shall be included in the next statement to the taxpayer mailed or transmitted under IC 6-1.1-22-8 or IC 6-1.1-22.5. The due date for the payment of interest imposed under this section is the first regular installment date after the mailing or transmission of the statement. Interest imposed under this section shall be deposited and distributed to taxing units in the same manner as interest and penalties on delinquent taxes. The nonpayment of interest due under this section shall be treated in the same manner as delinquent property taxes.

Sec. 22. Deferred property taxes may be paid at any time on or before the delayed due date established by this chapter without interest and penalties other than the interest imposed under this chapter. Payment of deferred property taxes after the delayed due date established by this chapter shall be collected in the same manner as delinquent property taxes. If a payment of deferred property taxes is made, the county treasurer shall notify the county auditor, the county recorder, and the department of local government finance on the form and in the manner prescribed by the department of local government finance. Notice to the county recorder must be in the form of a release of the lien on the homestead for the deferred property taxes.

Sec. 23. Whenever an individual who is a qualified individual on an assessment date for which property taxes were deferred:

- (1) ceases to use the homestead as the individual's principal place of residence;
- (2) ceases to have a qualified interest in the homestead; or
- (3) changes the individual's qualified interest in the homestead;

or a surviving spouse becomes a qualified individual, a person responsible for paying the property taxes on the homestead shall notify the county auditor in the county where the homestead is located on the form and in the manner prescribed by the department of local government finance. The county auditor shall review the information filed under this section to determine whether a deferral termination event has occurred.

Sec. 24. If, as the result of the filing of information with the county auditor or on the county auditor's own motion, the county auditor determines that a deferral termination event described in section 13 of this chapter has occurred, the county auditor shall notify the county treasurer, the county recorder, and the department of local government on the form and in the manner prescribed by the department of local government finance.

Sec. 25. A county auditor shall give written notice of each determination under this chapter to the qualified taxpayers and mortgage holders of record for the affected homestead. A qualified taxpayer may appeal an adverse determination under this chapter to the Indiana board not later than forty-five (45) days after notice of the determination.

Sec. 26. The county recorder shall record the following without charge in the miscellaneous records of the county recorder:

- (1) A statement of the amount of property tax deferred under this chapter and interest imposed on the deferred property taxes.
- (2) A statement of payment of deferred property taxes and interest on deferred property taxes.
- (3) A notice of termination of a deferral.

Sec. 27. (a) Except:

- (1) as required by federal law or regulation;
- (2) if the loan from the lender:
 - (A) is made, guaranteed, or insured by a federal government lending or insuring agency; and
 - (B) requires the borrower to make payments to a lender with respect to an escrow or other type of account; or
- (3) if the application of this section would impair the obligations of a borrower under an agreement executed before April 15, 2006;

a lender may not require a borrower to maintain an escrow or other type of account with regard to taxes for which the borrower has elected to defer taxes under this chapter.

(b) Notice of a tax deferral in the records of the county recorder shall be treated as notice of a tax deferral to a lender.

(c) Any payments that are made by the borrower to an escrow or other type of account with regard to property taxes and that:

- (1) were submitted before the time of submission of evidence of tax deferral, for any period; and
- (2) have not been used in payment or partial payment of taxes; must be refunded to the borrower within thirty (30) days after the deferral is approved and filed with the county recorder.

Sec. 28. Not later than the settlement date in the year in which property taxes are deferred under this chapter, the department of local government finance shall distribute to the county in which property taxes are deferred an amount equal to the amount of deferred property taxes not paid by the settlement date. The amount of the distribution under this section shall be deposited and distributed to taxing units in the same manner that the deferred property taxes would have been deposited and distributed.

Sec. 29. Not later than the settlement date in a year when a payment of deferred property taxes is made or deferred property taxes are collected as delinquent property taxes, the county treasurer shall transfer the amount to the department of local government finance for deposit in the state general fund.

SECTION 137. IC 6-2.5-8-1 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2008]: Sec. 1. (a) A retail merchant may not make a retail transaction in Indiana, unless ~~he~~ the retail merchant has applied for a registered retail merchant's certificate.

(b) A retail merchant may obtain a registered retail merchant's certificate by filing an application with the department and paying a registration fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) for each place of business listed on the application. The retail merchant shall also provide such security for payment of the tax as the department may require under IC 6-2.5-6-12.

(c) The retail merchant shall list on the application the location (including the township) of each place of business where ~~he~~ the retail merchant makes retail transactions. However, if the retail merchant does not have a fixed place of business, ~~he~~ the retail merchant shall list ~~his~~ the retail merchant's residence as ~~his~~ the retail merchant's place of business. In addition, a public utility may list only its principal Indiana office as its place of business for sales of public utility commodities or service, but the utility must also list on the application the places of business where it makes retail transactions other than sales of public utility commodities or service.

(d) Upon receiving a proper application, the correct fee, and the security for payment, if required, the department shall issue to the retail merchant a separate registered retail merchant's certificate for each place of business listed on the application. Each certificate shall bear a serial number and the location of the place of business for which it is issued.

(e) If a retail merchant intends to make retail transactions during a calendar year at a new Indiana place of business, ~~he~~ the retail merchant must file a supplemental application and pay the fee for that place of business.

(f) A retail merchant engaged in business in Indiana as defined in IC 6-2.5-3-1(c) who makes retail transactions that are only subject to the use tax must obtain a registered retail merchant's certificate before making those transactions. The retail merchant may obtain the certificate by following the same procedure as a retail merchant under subsections (b) and (c), except that the retail merchant must also include on the application:

- (1) the names and addresses of the retail merchant's principal employees, agents, or representatives who engage in Indiana in the solicitation or negotiation of the retail transactions;
- (2) the location of all of the retail merchant's places of business in Indiana, including offices and distribution houses; and
- (3) any other information that the department requests.

(g) The department may permit an out-of-state retail merchant to collect the use tax. However, before the out-of-state retail merchant may collect the tax, ~~he~~ the out-of-state retail merchant must obtain a registered retail merchant's certificate in the manner provided by this section. Upon receiving the certificate, the out-of-state retail merchant becomes subject to the same conditions and duties as an Indiana retail merchant and must then collect the use tax due on all sales of tangible personal property that ~~he~~ the out-of-state retail merchant knows is intended for use in Indiana.

(h) The department shall submit to the ~~township~~ county assessor before July 15 of each year:

- (1) the name of each retail merchant that has newly obtained a registered retail merchant's certificate between March 2 of the preceding year and March 1 of the current year for a place of business located in the ~~township~~ county; and
- (2) the address of each place of business of the taxpayer in the ~~township~~ county.

(i) The county assessor shall submit the names and addresses obtained under subsection (h) to the appropriate township assessor.

SECTION 138. IC 6-3.5-6-18.5, AS AMENDED BY P.L.234-2005, SECTION 5, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 18.5. (a) This section applies to a county containing a consolidated city.

(b) Notwithstanding section 18(e) of this chapter, the distributive shares that each civil taxing unit in a county containing a consolidated city is entitled to receive during a month equals the following:

- (1) For the calendar year beginning January 1, 1995, calculate the total amount of revenues that are to be distributed as distributive shares during that month multiplied by the following factor:

Center Township	.0251
Decatur Township	.00217
Franklin Township	.0023
Lawrence Township	.01177
Perry Township	.01130
Pike Township	.01865
Warren Township	.01359
Washington Township	.01346
Wayne Township	.01307
Lawrence-City	.00858
Beech Grove	.00845
Southport	.00025
Speedway	.00722
Indianapolis/Marion County	.86409

(2) Notwithstanding subdivision (1), for the calendar year beginning January 1, 1995, the distributive shares for each civil taxing unit in a county containing a consolidated city shall be not less than the following:

Center Township	$1,898,145
Decatur Township	$164,103
Franklin Township	$173,934
Lawrence Township	$890,086
Perry Township	$854,544
Pike Township	$1,410,375
Warren Township	$1,027,721
Washington Township	$1,017,890
Wayne Township	$988,397
Lawrence-City	$648,848
Beech Grove	$639,017
Southport	$18,906
Speedway	$546,000

(3) For each year after 1995, calculate the total amount of revenues that are to be distributed as distributive shares during that month as follows:

STEP ONE: Determine the total amount of revenues that were distributed as distributive shares during that month in calendar year 1995.

STEP TWO: Determine the total amount of revenue that the department has certified as distributive shares for that month under section 17 of this chapter for the calendar year.

STEP THREE: Subtract the STEP ONE result from the STEP TWO result.

STEP FOUR: If the STEP THREE result is less than or equal to zero (0), multiply the STEP TWO result by the ratio established under subdivision (1).

STEP FIVE: Determine the ratio of:

- (A) the maximum permissible property tax levy under IC 6-1.1-18.5 and IC 12-19-7 ~~and IC 12-19-7.5~~ for each civil taxing unit for the calendar year in which the month falls, plus, for a county, an amount equal to the property taxes imposed by the county in 1999 for the county's welfare fund and welfare administration fund; divided by
- (B) the sum of the maximum permissible property tax levies under IC 6-1.1-18.5 and IC 12-19-7 ~~and IC 12-19-7.5~~ for all civil taxing units of the county during the calendar year in which the month falls, and an amount equal to the property taxes imposed by the county in 1999 for the county's welfare fund and welfare administration fund.

STEP SIX: If the STEP THREE result is greater than zero (0), the STEP ONE amount shall be distributed by multiplying the STEP ONE amount by the ratio established under subdivision (1).

STEP SEVEN: For each taxing unit determine the STEP FIVE ratio multiplied by the STEP TWO amount.

STEP EIGHT: For each civil taxing unit determine the difference between the STEP SEVEN amount minus the product of the STEP ONE amount multiplied by the ratio established under subdivision (1). The STEP THREE excess shall be distributed as provided in STEP NINE only to the civil taxing units that have a STEP EIGHT difference greater than or equal to zero (0).

STEP NINE: For the civil taxing units qualifying for a distribution under STEP EIGHT, each civil taxing unit's share equals the STEP THREE excess multiplied by the ratio of:

(A) the maximum permissible property tax levy under IC 6-1.1-18.5 and IC 12-19-7 ~~and IC 12-19-7.5~~ for the qualifying civil taxing unit during the calendar year in which the month falls, plus, for a county, an amount equal to the property taxes imposed by the county in 1999 for the county's welfare fund and welfare administration fund; divided by

(B) the sum of the maximum permissible property tax levies under IC 6-1.1-18.5 and IC 12-19-7 ~~and IC 12-19-7.5~~ for all qualifying civil taxing units of the county during the calendar year in which the month falls, and an amount equal to the property taxes imposed by the county in 1999 for the county's welfare fund and welfare administration fund.

SECTION 139. IC 6-3.5-8-12 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 12. The department of local government finance may not certify a budget for the municipality under IC 6-1.1-17-16(f) for any later calendar year that is greater than ninety-seven percent (97%) of the budget of the municipality certified by the department for the calendar year that immediately precedes the later calendar year.

(c) Before July 1 of 2002 and of each year thereafter, the department of local government finance shall review the budget approved for each municipality in a qualifying county in which a municipal option income tax is in effect to determine whether the restriction under subsection (a) or (b) has been applied. If the restriction has not been applied:

- (1) the municipal option income tax is rescinded as of July 1 of the year in which the review was made;
- (2) the municipality may not impose the municipal option income tax for any later year; and

(d) In May 2003, the department of state revenue shall determine for each municipality subject to this subsection the amount of tax revenue collected for the municipality after August 31, 2001, and before July 1, 2002. The department of state revenue shall immediately notify the municipality of the amount determined under this subsection. Not later than thirty (30) days after receiving notification from the department of state revenue, the municipality shall transfer the amount determined by the department under this subsection from the municipality's general fund to the county family and children's fund of the qualifying county in which the municipality is located.

The department of state revenue shall immediately notify the municipality of the amount determined under this subsection. Not later than thirty (30) days after receiving notification from the department of state revenue, the municipality shall transfer the amount determined by the department under this section from the municipality's general fund to the ~~county family and children's child welfare~~ fund of the qualifying county in which the municipality is located.

(f) If a municipality makes a transfer from its general fund to the county's ~~family and children's child welfare~~ fund as described in subsection (d) or (e), the department of local government finance shall reduce by the amount transferred the county's maximum ~~family and children's child welfare~~ fund levy under ~~IC 6-1.1-18.6~~ IC 12-19-7 for the calendar year that immediately succeeds the year in which the transfer is made.

(g) This subsection applies if the fiscal body of a municipality in a qualifying county adopts an ordinance under section 11 of this chapter to impose a municipal option income tax. The maximum permissible ad valorem property tax levy of the municipality is not subject to any increase under IC 6-1.1-18.5-3(a) or IC 6-1.1-18.5-3(b) for taxes payable in:

- (1) the calendar year that immediately succeeds the calendar year in which the ordinance is adopted; and
- (2) each succeeding calendar year in which the municipal option income tax remains in effect.

(h) This subsection applies if the fiscal body of a municipality in a qualifying county adopts an ordinance under section 14 of this chapter to rescind the municipal option income tax, or if the municipal option income tax in a municipality is rescinded by operation of law. For purposes of IC 6-1.1-18.5-3(a) STEP ONE or IC 6-1.1-18.5-3(b) STEP ONE, the preceding calendar year is considered to be the calendar year in which an ordinance was adopted under section 11 of this chapter to impose the municipal option income tax.

All remonstrances or objections upon which an appeal has been taken must be consolidated, heard, and determined within thirty (30) days after the time of the filing of the appeal. (c) The transfer tuition for which a county office is obligated under subsection (b) is equal to the following:

SECTION 177. IC 20-26-11-13, AS ADDED BY P.L.1-2005, SECTION 10, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 13. (a) As used in this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "ADM" means the following:

- (A) For purposes of allocating to a transfer student state distributions under IC 21-1-30 (primetime), "ADM" as computed under IC 21-1-30-2.
- (B) For all other purposes, "ADM" as set forth in IC 21-3-1.6-1.1.

(2) "Class of school" refers to a classification of each school or program in the transferee corporation by the grades or special programs taught at the school. Generally, these classifications are denominated as kindergarten, elementary school, middle school or junior high school, high school, and special schools or classes, such as schools or classes for special education, vocational training, or career education.

(3) "Special equipment" means equipment that during a school year:

- (A) is used only when a child with disabilities is attending school;
- (B) is not used to transport a child to or from a place where the child is attending school;

(C) is necessary for the education of each child with disabilities that uses the equipment, as determined under the individualized education program for the child; and

(D) is not used for or by any child who is not a child with disabilities.

(4) "Student enrollment" means the following:

(A) The total number of students in kindergarten through grade 12 who are enrolled in a transferee school corporation on a date determined by the state board.

(B) The total number of students enrolled in a class of school in a transferee school corporation on a date determined by the state board.

However, a kindergarten student shall be counted under clauses (A) and (B) as one-half (½) student. The state board may select a different date for counts under this subdivision. However, the same date shall be used for all school corporations making a count for the same class of school.

(b) Each transferee corporation is entitled to receive for each school year on account of each transferred student, except a student transferred under section 6 of this chapter, transfer tuition from the transferor corporation or the state as provided in this chapter. Transfer tuition equals the amount determined under STEP THREE of the following formula:

STEP ONE: Allocate to each transfer student the capital expenditures for any special equipment used by the transfer student and a proportionate share of the operating costs incurred by the transferee school for the class of school where the transfer student is enrolled.

STEP TWO: If the transferee school included the transfer student in the transferee school's ADM for a school year, allocate to the transfer student a proportionate share of the following general fund revenues of the transferee school for, except as provided in clause (C), the calendar year in which the school year ends:

(A) The following state distributions that are computed in any part using ADM or other student count in which the student is included:

- (i) Primetime grant under IC 21-1-30.
- (ii) Tuition support for basic programs.
- ~~(iii) Enrollment growth grant under IC 21-3-1.7-9.5.~~
- ~~(iv) At-risk grant under IC 21-3-1.7-9.7.~~
- ~~(v) Academic honors diploma award under IC 21-3-1.7-9.8.~~
- ~~(vi) (iv) Vocational education grant under IC 21-3-12.~~
- ~~(vii) (v) Special education grant under IC 21-3-2.1.~~
- ~~(viii) The portion of the ADA flat grant that is available for the payment of general operating expenses under IC 21-3-4.5-2(b)(1).~~

(B) Property tax levies.

(C) Excise tax revenue (as defined in IC 21-3-1.7-2) received for deposit in the calendar year in which the school year begins.

(D) Allocations to the transferee school under IC 6-3.5.

STEP THREE: Determine the greater of:

- (A) zero (0); or
- (B) the result of subtracting the STEP TWO amount from the STEP ONE amount.

If a child is placed in an institution or facility in Indiana under a court order, the institution or facility shall charge the ~~county office of the county of the student's legal settlement under IC 12-19-7~~ department of child services for the use of the space within the institution or facility (commonly called capital costs) that is used to provide educational services to the child based upon a prorated per student cost.

(c) Operating costs shall be determined for each class of school where a transfer student is enrolled. The operating cost for each class of school is based on the total expenditures of the transferee corporation for the class of school from its general fund expenditures as specified in the classified budget forms prescribed by the state board of accounts. This calculation excludes:

- (1) capital outlay;
- (2) debt service;

- (3) costs of transportation;
 - (4) salaries of board members;
 - (5) contracted service for legal expenses; and
 - (6) any expenditure that is made out of the general fund from extracurricular account receipts;
- for the school year.

(d) The capital cost of special equipment for a school year is equal to:

- (1) the cost of the special equipment; divided by
- (2) the product of:
 - (A) the useful life of the special equipment, as determined under the rules adopted by the state board; multiplied by
 - (B) the number of students using the special equipment during at least part of the school year.
- (e) When an item of expense or cost described in subsection (c) cannot be allocated to a class of school, it shall be prorated to all classes of schools on the basis of the student enrollment of each class in the transferee corporation compared with the total student enrollment in the school corporation.
- (f) Operating costs shall be allocated to a transfer student for each school year by dividing:

- (1) the transferee school corporation's operating costs for the class of school in which the transfer student is enrolled; by
- (2) the student enrollment of the class of school in which the transfer student is enrolled.

When a transferred student is enrolled in a transferee corporation for less than the full school year of student attendance, the transfer tuition shall be calculated by the part of the school year for which the transferred student is enrolled. A school year of student attendance consists of the number of days school is in session for student attendance. A student, regardless of the student's attendance, is enrolled in a transferee school unless the student is no longer entitled to be transferred because of a change of residence, the student has been excluded or expelled from school for the balance of the school year or for an indefinite period, or the student has been confirmed to have withdrawn from school. The transferor and the transferee corporation may enter into written agreements concerning the amount of transfer tuition due in any school year. If an agreement cannot be reached, the amount shall be determined by the state board, and costs may be established, when in dispute, by the state board of accounts.

(g) A transferee school shall allocate revenues described in subsection (b) STEP TWO to a transfer student by dividing:

- (1) the total amount of revenues received; by
- (2) the ADM of the transferee school for the school year that ends in the calendar year in which the revenues are received.

However, for state distributions under IC 21-1-30, IC 21-3-2.1, IC 21-3-12, or any other statute that computes the amount of a state distribution using less than the total ADM of the transferee school, the transferee school shall allocate the revenues to the transfer student by dividing the revenues that the transferee school is eligible to receive in a calendar year by the student count used to compute the state distribution.

(h) Instead of the payments provided in subsection (b), the transferor corporation or state owing transfer tuition may enter into a long term contract with the transferee corporation governing the transfer of students. The contract may:

- (1) be entered into for a period of not more than five (5) years with an option to renew;
- (2) specify a maximum number of students to be transferred; and
- (3) fix a method for determining the amount of transfer tuition and the time of payment, which may be different from that provided in section 14 of this chapter.

(i) If the school corporation can meet the requirements of ~~IC 21-1-30-5~~, IC 21-1-30-5.5, it may negotiate transfer tuition agreements with a neighboring school corporation that can accommodate additional students. Agreements under this section may:

- (1) be for one (1) year or longer; and
- (2) fix a method for determining the amount of transfer tuition or time of payment that is different from the method, amount, or time of payment that is provided in this section or section 14 of this chapter.

A school corporation may not transfer a student under this section without the prior approval of the child's parent.

(j) If a school corporation experiences a net financial impact with regard to transfer tuition that is negative for a particular school year as described in IC 6-1.1-19-5.1, the school corporation may appeal for an excessive levy as provided under IC 6-1.1-19-5.1.

SECTION 261. IC 36-7-14-25.1, AS AMENDED BY P.L.185-2005, SECTION 17, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 25.1. (a) In addition to other methods of raising money for property acquisition or redevelopment in a redevelopment project area, and in anticipation of the special tax to be levied under section 27 of this chapter, the taxes allocated under section 39 of this chapter, or other revenues of the district, or any combination of these sources, the redevelopment commission may, by resolution and subject to subsection (p), issue the bonds of the special taxing district in the name of the unit. The amount of the bonds may not exceed the total, as estimated by the commission, of all expenses reasonably incurred in connection with the acquisition and redevelopment of the property, including:

- (1) the total cost of all land, rights-of-way, and other property to be acquired and redeveloped;
- (2) all reasonable and necessary architectural, engineering, legal, financing, accounting, advertising, bond discount, and supervisory expenses related to the acquisition and redevelopment of the property or the issuance of bonds;
- (3) capitalized interest permitted by this chapter and a debt service reserve for the bonds to the extent the redevelopment commission determines that a reserve is reasonably required; and
- (4) expenses that the redevelopment commission is required or permitted to pay under IC 8-23-17.

(b) If the redevelopment commission plans to acquire different parcels of land or let different contracts for redevelopment work at approximately the same time, whether under one (1) or more resolutions, the commission may provide for the total cost in one (1) issue of bonds.

(c) The bonds must be dated as set forth in the bond resolution and negotiable, subject to the requirements of the bond resolution for registering the bonds. The resolution authorizing the bonds must state:

- (1) the denominations of the bonds;
- (2) the place or places at which the bonds are payable; and
- (3) the term of the bonds, which may not exceed fifty (50) years.

The resolution may also state that the bonds are redeemable before maturity with or without a premium, as determined by the redevelopment commission.

(d) The redevelopment commission shall certify a copy of the resolution authorizing the bonds to the municipal or county fiscal officer, who shall then prepare the bonds, subject to subsection (p). The seal of the unit must be impressed on the bonds, or a facsimile of the seal must be printed on the bonds.

(e) The bonds must be executed by the appropriate officer of the unit and attested by the municipal or county fiscal officer.

(f) The bonds are exempt from taxation for all purposes.

(g) The municipal or county fiscal officer shall give notice of the sale of the bonds by publication in accordance with IC 5-3-1. The municipal fiscal officer, or county fiscal officer or executive, shall sell the bonds to the highest bidder, but may not sell them for less than ninety-seven percent (97%) of their par value. However, bonds payable solely or in part from tax proceeds allocated under section 39(b)(2) of this chapter, or other revenues of the district may be sold at a private negotiated sale.

(h) Except as provided in subsection (i), a redevelopment commission may not issue the bonds when the total issue, including bonds already issued and to be issued, exceeds two percent (2%) of the adjusted value of the taxable property in the special taxing district, as determined under IC 36-1-15.

(i) The bonds are not a corporate obligation of the unit but are an indebtedness of the taxing district. The bonds and interest are payable, as set forth in the bond resolution of the redevelopment commission:

- (1) from a special tax levied upon all of the property in the taxing district, as provided by section 27 of this chapter;
- (2) from the tax proceeds allocated under section 39(b)(2) of this chapter;
- (3) from other revenues available to the redevelopment commission; or
- (4) from a combination of the methods stated in subdivisions (1) through (3).

If the bonds are payable solely from the tax proceeds allocated under section 39(b)(2) of this chapter, other revenues of the redevelopment commission, or any combination of these sources, they may be issued in any amount without limitation.

(j) Proceeds from the sale of bonds may be used to pay the cost of interest on the bonds for a period not to exceed five (5) years from the date of issuance.

(k) All laws relating to the giving of notice of the issuance of bonds, the giving of notice of a hearing on the appropriation of the proceeds of the bonds, the right of taxpayers to appear and be heard on the proposed appropriation, and the approval of the appropriation by the department of local government finance apply to all bonds issued under this chapter that are payable from the special benefits tax levied pursuant to section 27 of this chapter or from taxes allocated under section 39 of this chapter.

(l) All laws relating to:

- (1) the filing of petitions requesting the issuance of bonds; and
- (2) the right of taxpayers to:

(A) remonstrate against the issuance of bonds; or

(B) vote on the proposed issuance in an election on a local public question;

apply to bonds issued under this chapter, except for bonds payable solely from tax proceeds allocated under section 39(b)(2) of this chapter, other revenues of the redevelopment commission, or any combination of these sources.

(m) If a debt service reserve is created from the proceeds of bonds, the debt service reserve may be used to pay principal and interest on the bonds as provided in the bond resolution.

(n) Any amount remaining in the debt service reserve after all of the bonds of the issue for which the debt service reserve was established have matured shall be deposited in the allocation fund established under section 39(b)(2) of this chapter.

(o) If bonds are issued under this chapter that are payable solely or in part from revenues to the redevelopment commission from a project or projects, the redevelopment commission may adopt a resolution or trust indenture or enter into covenants as is customary in the issuance of revenue bonds. The resolution or trust indenture may pledge or assign the revenues from the project or projects, but may not convey or mortgage any project or parts of a project. The resolution or trust indenture may also contain any provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bond owners as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the redevelopment commission. The redevelopment commission may establish fees and charges for the use of any project and covenant with the owners of any bonds to set those fees and charges at a rate sufficient to protect the interest of the owners of the bonds. Any revenue bonds issued by the redevelopment commission that are payable solely from revenues of the commission shall contain a statement to that effect in the form of bond.

(p) If the total principal amount of bonds authorized by a resolution of the redevelopment commission is equal to or greater than three million dollars ($3,000,000), the bonds may not be issued without the approval, by resolution, of the legislative body of the unit.

SECTION 262. IC 36-7-14.5-12.5, AS AMENDED BY P.L.185-2005, SECTION 25, AND AS AMENDED BY P.L.190-2005, SECTION 12, IS CORRECTED AND AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 12.5.

(a) This section applies only to an authority in a county having a United States government military base that is scheduled for closing or is completely or partially inactive or closed.

(b) In order to accomplish the purposes set forth in ~~section 11(b)~~ section 11 of this chapter, an authority may create an economic development area:

- (1) by following the procedures set forth in IC 36-7-14-41 for the establishment of an economic development area by a redevelopment commission; and
- (2) with the same effect as if the economic development area was created by a redevelopment commission.

However, an authority may not include in an economic development area created under this section any area that was declared a redevelopment project area, an urban renewal area, or an economic development area under IC 36-7-14. The area established under this section shall be established only in the area where a United States government military base that is scheduled for closing or is completely or partially inactive or closed is or was located.

(c) In order to accomplish the purposes set forth in ~~section 11(b)~~ section 11 of this chapter, an authority may do the following in a manner that serves an economic development area created under this section:

- (2) Hold, use, sell (by conveyance by deed, land sale contract, or other instrument), exchange, lease, rent, or otherwise dispose of property acquired for use in the redevelopment of economic development areas on the terms and conditions that the authority considers best for the unit and the unit's inhabitants.
- (3) Sell, lease, or grant interests in all or part of the real property acquired for redevelopment purposes to any other department of the unit or to any other governmental agency for public ways, levees, sewerage, parks, playgrounds, schools, and other public purposes on any terms that may be agreed on.

- (6) Remodel, rebuild, enlarge, or make major structural improvements on structures acquired for redevelopment purposes.
- (7) Survey or examine any land to determine whether the land should be included within an economic development area to be acquired for redevelopment purposes and to determine the value of that land.
- (8) Appear before any other department or agency of the unit, or before any other governmental agency in respect to any matter affecting:
 - (A) real property acquired or being acquired for redevelopment purposes; or
 - (B) any economic development area within the jurisdiction of the authority.
- (9) Institute or defend in the name of the unit any civil action, but all actions against the authority must be brought in the circuit or superior court of the county where the authority is located.
- (10) Use any legal or equitable remedy that is necessary or considered proper to protect and enforce the rights of and perform the duties of the authority.
- (11) Exercise the power of eminent domain in the name of and within the corporate boundaries of the unit subject to the same conditions and procedures that apply to the exercise of the power of eminent domain by a redevelopment commission under IC 36-7-14.
- (12) Appoint an executive director, appraisers, real estate experts, engineers, architects, surveyors, and attorneys.
- (13) Appoint clerks, guards, laborers, and other employees the authority considers advisable, except that those appointments must be made in accordance with the merit system of the unit if such a system exists.
- (14) Prescribe the duties and regulate the compensation of employees of the authority.

- (16) Discharge and appoint successors to employees of the authority subject to subdivision (13).
- (17) Rent offices for use of the department or authority, or accept the use of offices furnished by the unit.
- (18) Equip the offices of the authority with the necessary furniture, furnishings, equipment, records, and supplies.
- (19) Design, order, contract for, and construct, reconstruct, improve, or renovate the following:
 - (A) Any local public improvement or structure that is necessary for redevelopment purposes or economic development within the corporate boundaries of the unit.
 - (B) Any structure that enhances development or economic development.
- (20) Contract for the construction, extension, or improvement of pedestrian skyways (as defined in IC 36-7-14-12.2(c)).

(21) Accept loans, grants, and other forms of financial assistance from, or contract with, the federal government, the state government, a municipal corporation, a special taxing district, a foundation, or any other source.

(22) Make and enter into all contracts and agreements necessary or incidental to the performance of the duties of the authority and the execution of the powers of the authority under this chapter.

(23) Take any action necessary to implement the purpose of the authority.

(24) Provide financial assistance, in the manner that best serves the purposes set forth in ~~section 11(b)~~ section 11 of this chapter, including grants and loans, to enable private enterprise to develop, redevelop, and reuse military base property or otherwise enable private enterprise to provide social and economic benefits to the citizens of the unit.

(d) An authority may designate all or a portion of an economic development area created under this section as an allocation area by following the procedures set forth in IC 36-7-14-39 for the establishment of an allocation area by a redevelopment commission. The allocation provision may modify the definition of "property taxes" under IC 36-7-14-39(a) to include taxes imposed under IC 6-1.1 on the depreciable personal property located and taxable on the site of operations of designated taxpayers in accordance with the procedures applicable to a commission under IC 36-7-14-39.3. IC 36-7-14-39.3 applies to such a modification. An allocation area established by an authority under this section is a special taxing district authorized by the general assembly to enable the unit to provide special benefits to taxpayers in the allocation area by promoting economic development that is of public use and benefit. For allocation areas established for an economic development area created under this section after June 30, 1997, and to the expanded portion of an allocation area for an economic development area that was established before June 30, 1997, and that is expanded under this section after June 30, 1997, the net assessed value of property that is assessed as residential property under the rules of the department of local government finance, as finally determined for any assessment date, must be allocated. All of the provisions of IC 36-7-14-39, IC 36-7-14-39.1, and IC 36-7-14-39.5 apply to an allocation area created under this section, except that the authority shall be vested with the rights and duties of a commission as referenced in those sections, and except that, notwithstanding IC 36-7-14-39(b)(2), property tax proceeds paid into the allocation fund may be used by the authority only to do one (1) or more of the following:

(1) Pay the principal of and interest and redemption premium on any obligations incurred by the special taxing district or any other entity for the purpose of financing or refinancing military base reuse activities in or serving or ~~benefitting~~ benefiting that allocation area.

(2) Establish, augment, or restore the debt service reserve for obligations payable solely or in part from allocated tax proceeds in that allocation area or from other revenues of the authority (including lease rental revenues).

(3) Make payments on leases payable solely or in part from allocated tax proceeds in that allocation area.

(4) Reimburse any other governmental body for expenditures made by it for local public improvements or structures in or serving or ~~benefitting~~ benefiting that allocation area.

(5) Pay all or a portion of a property tax replacement credit to taxpayers in an allocation area as determined by the authority. This credit equals the amount determined under the following STEPS for each taxpayer in a taxing district (as defined in IC 6-1.1-1-20) that contains all or part of the allocation area:

STEP ONE: Determine that part of the sum of the amounts under IC 6-1.1-21-2(g)(1)(A), IC 6-1.1-21-2(g)(2), IC 6-1.1-21-2(g)(3), IC 6-1.1-21-2(g)(4), and IC 6-1.1-21-2(g)(5) that is attributable to the taxing district.

STEP TWO: Divide:

(A) that part of each county's eligible property tax replacement amount (as defined in IC 6-1.1-21-2) for that year as determined under IC 6-1.1-21-4 that is attributable to the taxing district; by

(B) the STEP ONE sum.

STEP THREE: Multiply:

- (A) the STEP TWO quotient; by
- (B) the total amount of the taxpayer's taxes (as defined in IC 6-1.1-21-2) levied in the taxing district that have been allocated during that year to an allocation fund under this section.

If not all the taxpayers in an allocation area receive the credit in full, each taxpayer in the allocation area is entitled to receive the same proportion of the credit. A taxpayer may not receive a credit under this section and a credit under IC 36-7-14-39.5 in the same year.

(6) Pay expenses incurred by the authority for local public improvements or structures that are in the allocation area or serving or benefiting the allocation area.

(7) Reimburse public and private entities for expenses incurred in training employees of industrial facilities that are located:

- (A) in the allocation area; and
- (B) on a parcel of real property that has been classified as industrial property under the rules of the department of local government finance.

However, the total amount of money spent for this purpose in any year may not exceed the total amount of money in the allocation fund that is attributable to property taxes paid by the industrial facilities described in clause (B). The reimbursements under this subdivision must be made within three (3) years after the date on which the investments that are the basis for the increment financing are made. The allocation fund may not be used for operating expenses of the authority.

(e) In addition to other methods of raising money for property acquisition, redevelopment, or economic development activities in or directly serving or benefitting an economic development area created by an authority under this section, and in anticipation of the taxes allocated under subsection (d), other revenues of the authority, or any combination of these sources, the authority may, by resolution, issue the bonds of the special taxing district in the name of the unit. (i) Proceeds from the sale of the bonds may be used to pay the cost of interest on the bonds for a period not to exceed five (5) years from the date of issue.

(j) Notwithstanding IC 36-3-5-8, the laws relating to:

The commission may establish fees and charges for the use of any project and covenant with the owners of any bonds to set those fees and charges at a rate sufficient to protect the interest of the owners of the bonds. Any revenue bonds issued by the commission that are payable solely from revenues of the commission must contain a statement to that effect in the form of bond.

SECTION 264. IC 36-7-15.1-26.9 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2007]: Sec. 26.9. (a) The definitions set forth in section 26.5 of this chapter apply to this section.

(b) The fiscal officer of the consolidated city shall publish in the newspaper in the county with the largest circulation all determinations made under section 26.5 or 26.7 of this chapter that result in the allowance or disallowance of credits. The publication of a determination made under section 26.5 of this chapter shall be made not later than June 20 of the year in which the determination is made. The publication of a determination made under section 26.7 of this chapter shall be made not later than December 5 of the year in which the determination is made.

(c) If credits are granted under section 26.5(g) or 26.5(h) of this chapter, whether in whole or in part, property taxes on personal property (as defined in IC 6-1.1-1-11) that are equal to the aggregate amounts of the credits for all taxpayers in the allocation area under section 26.5(g) and 26.5(h) of this chapter shall be:

- (1) allocated to the redevelopment district;
- (2) paid into the special fund for that allocation area; and
- (3) used for the purposes specified in section 26 of this chapter.

(d) The county auditor shall adjust the estimate of assessed valuation that the auditor certifies under IC 6-1.1-17-1 for all taxing units in which the allocation area is located. ~~The county auditor may amend this adjustment at any time before the earliest date a taxing unit must publish the unit's proposed property tax rate under IC 6-1.1-17-3 in the year preceding the year in which the credits under section 26.5(g) or 26.5(h) of this chapter are paid.~~ The auditor's adjustment to the assessed valuation shall be:

- (1) calculated to produce an estimated assessed valuation that will offset the effect that paying personal property taxes into the allocation area special fund under subsection (c) would otherwise have on the ability of a taxing unit to achieve the taxing unit's tax levy in the following year; and
- (2) used by the county board of tax adjustment, the department of local government finance, and each taxing unit in determining each taxing unit's tax rate and tax levy in the following year.

(e) The amount by which a taxing unit's levy is adjusted as a result of the county auditor's adjustment of assessed valuation under subsection (d), and the amount of the levy that is used to make direct payments to taxpayers under section 26.5(h) of this chapter, is not part of the total county tax levy under IC 6-1.1-21-2(g) and is not subject to IC 6-1.1-20.

(f) The ad valorem property tax levy limits imposed by IC 6-1.1-18.5-3 and IC 6-1.1-19-1.5 do not apply to ad valorem property taxes imposed that are used to offset the effect of paying personal property taxes into an allocation area special fund during the taxable year under subsection (d) or to make direct payments to taxpayers under section 26.5(h) of this chapter. For purposes of computing the ad valorem property tax levy limits imposed under IC 6-1.1-18.5-3 and IC 6-1.1-19-1.5, a taxing unit's ad valorem property tax levy for a particular calendar year does not include that part of the levy imposed to offset the effect of paying personal property taxes into an allocation area special fund under subsection (d) or to make direct payments to taxpayers under section 26.5(h) of this chapter.

(g) Property taxes on personal property that are deposited in the allocation area special fund:

- (1) are subject to any pledge of allocated property tax proceeds made by the redevelopment district under section 26(d) of this chapter, including but not limited to any pledge made to owners of outstanding bonds of the redevelopment district of allocated taxes from that area; and
- (2) may not be treated as property taxes used to pay interest or principal due on debt under IC 6-1.1-21-2(g)(1)(D).

SECTION 265. IC 36-7-15.1-32 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2008]: Sec. 32. (a) The commission must establish a program for housing. (b) The notice and hearing provisions of sections 10 and 10.5 of this chapter apply to the resolution adopted under subsection (a). Judicial review of the resolution may be made under section 11 of this chapter.

(c) Before formal submission of any housing program to the commission, the department shall consult with persons interested in or affected by the proposed program and provide the affected neighborhood associations, residents, ~~and~~ township assessors, ~~and~~

The resolution or trust indenture may also contain any provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bond owners as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the commission. The commission may establish fees and charges for the use of any project and covenant with the owners of bonds to set those fees and charges at a rate sufficient to protect the interest of the owners of the bonds. SECTION 272. IC 36-10-3-24 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 24. (a) In order to raise money to pay for land to be acquired for any of the purposes named in this chapter, to pay for an improvement authorized by this chapter, or both, and in anticipation of the special benefit tax to be levied as provided in this chapter, the board shall cause to be issued, in the name of the unit, the bonds of the district. The bonds may not exceed in amount the total cost of all land to be acquired and all improvements described in the resolution, including all expenses necessarily incurred in connection with the proceedings, together with a sum sufficient to pay the costs of supervision and inspection during the period of construction of a work. The expenses to be covered in the bond issue include all expenses of every kind actually incurred preliminary to acquiring the land and the construction of the work, such as the cost of the necessary record, engineering expenses, publication of notices, preparation of bonds, and other necessary expenses. If more than one (1) resolution or proceeding of the board under section 23 of this chapter is confirmed whereby different parcels of land are to be acquired, or more than one (1) contract for work is let by the board at approximately the same time, the cost involved under all of the resolutions and proceedings may be included in one (1) issue of bonds.

(b) The bonds may be issued in any denomination not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) each, in not less than five (5) nor more than forty (40) annual series. The bonds are payable one (1) series each year, beginning at a date after the receipt of taxes from a levy made for that purpose. The bonds are negotiable. The bonds may bear interest at any rate, payable semiannually. After adopting a resolution ordering bonds, the board shall certify a copy of the resolution to the unit's fiscal officer. The fiscal officer shall prepare the bonds and the unit's executive shall execute them, attested by the fiscal officer.

(c) The bonds and the interest on them are exempt from taxation as prescribed by IC 6-8-5-1. Bonds issued under this section are subject to the provisions of IC 5-1 and IC 6-1.1-20 relating to:

- (1) the filing of a petition requesting the issuance of bonds;
- (2) the right of taxpayers to:
 - (A) remonstrate against the issuance of bonds; or
 - (B) vote on the proposed issuance in an election on a local public question;
- (3) the appropriation of the proceeds of the bonds and approval by the department of local government finance; and
- (4) the sale of bonds at public sale for not less than their par value.

(d) The board may not have bonds of the district issued under this section that are payable by special taxation when the total issue for that purpose, including the bonds already issued or to be issued, exceeds two percent (2%) of the adjusted value of the taxable property in the district as determined under IC 36-1-15. All bonds or obligations issued in violation of this subsection are void. The bonds are not obligations or indebtedness of the unit, but constitute an indebtedness of the district as a special taxing district. The bonds and interest are payable only out of a special tax levied upon all the property of the district as prescribed by this chapter. The bonds must recite the terms upon their face, together with the purposes for which they are issued.

SECTION 273. IC 36-10-4-35 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 35. (a) In order to pay for:

- (1) land to be acquired for any of the purposes of this chapter;
- (2) an improvement authorized by this chapter; or
- (3) both;

the board shall issue the bonds of the district in the name of the city in anticipation of the special benefits tax to be levied under this chapter. The amount of the bonds may not exceed the estimated cost of all land to be acquired and the estimated cost of all improvements provided in the resolution, including all expenses necessarily incurred in the proceedings and a sum sufficient to pay the estimated costs of supervision and inspection during the period of construction. Expenses include all expenses actually incurred preliminary to acquisition of the land and the construction work, such as the estimated cost of the necessary record, engineering expenses, publication of notices, preparation of bonds, and other expenses necessary to letting the contract and selling the bonds.

(b) The total amount of any benefits that have been assessed by the board and confirmed against lots and parcels of land, exclusive of improvements, lying within two thousand (2,000) feet on either side of the land to be acquired or of the improvement, however, shall be deducted from the estimated cost.

(c) If more than one (1) resolution or proceeding of the board under section 25 of this chapter is confirmed whereby different parcels of land are to be acquired or more than one (1) contract for work is let by the board at approximately the same time, the estimated cost involved under all of the resolutions and proceedings may be contained in one (1) issue of bonds.

(d) The bonds shall be issued in any denomination up to five thousand dollars ($5,000) each. The bonds are negotiable instruments and bear interest at a rate established by the board and approved by the city legislative body.

(e) After adopting a resolution ordering the bonds, the board shall certify a copy of the resolution to the fiscal officer of the city. The fiscal officer shall then prepare the bonds, which shall be executed by the city executive and attested by the fiscal officer. The bonds are exempt from taxation for all purposes and are subject to IC 6-1.1-20 concerning:

- (1) the filing of a petition requesting the issuance of bonds; and
- (2) the right of taxpayers to:
 - (A) remonstrate against the issuance of bonds; or
 - (B) vote on the proposed issuance in an election on a local public question.

(f) All bonds shall be sold at not less than par value plus accrued interest to date of delivery by the city fiscal officer to the highest bidder after giving notice of the sale of the bonds by publication in accordance with IC 5-3-1.

(g) The bonds are subject to approval by the city legislative body, in the manner it prescribes by ordinance or resolution.

(h) The bonds are not corporate obligations or indebtedness of the city, but are an indebtedness of the district as a special taxing district. The bonds and interest are payable only out of a special tax levied upon all property of the district. The bonds must recite these terms upon their face, together with the purposes for which they are issued.

(i) An action to question the validity of bonds of the district or to prevent their issue may not be brought after the date set for the sale of the bonds.

(j) The board may, instead of selling the bonds in series, sell the bonds to run for a period of five (5) years from the date of issue for the purposes of this chapter at any rate of interest payable semiannually, also exempt from taxation for all purposes. The board may sell bonds in series to refund the five (5) year bonds.

SECTION 274. IC 36-10-7.5-22 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 22. The bonds may not exceed in amount the total cost of all land to be acquired and all improvements described in the resolution, including all expenses necessarily incurred in connection with the proceedings, together with a sum sufficient to pay the costs of supervision and inspection during the period of construction of a work. The expenses to be covered in the bond issue include all expenses of every kind actually incurred preliminary to acquiring the land and the construction of the work, such as the cost of the necessary record, engineering expenses, publication of notices, preparation of bonds, and other necessary expenses. If more than one (1) resolution or proceeding of the legislative body under this chapter is confirmed whereby different parcels of land are to be acquired or more than one (1) contract for work is let by the executive at approximately the same time, the cost involved under all of the resolutions and proceedings may be included in one (1) issue of bonds.

(b) The bonds may be issued in any denomination not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) each, in not less than five (5) nor more than forty (40) annual series. The bonds are payable one (1) series each year, beginning at a date after the receipt of taxes from a levy made for that purpose. The bonds are negotiable. The bonds may bear interest at any rate, payable semiannually. After adopting a resolution ordering bonds, the legislative body shall certify a copy of the resolution to the township's fiscal officer. The fiscal officer shall prepare the bonds and the executive shall execute the bonds, attested by the fiscal officer.

(c) The bonds and the interest on the bonds are exempt from taxation as prescribed by IC 6-8-5-1. Bonds issued under this section are subject to the provisions of IC 5-1 and IC 6-1.1-20 relating to:

All bonds or obligations issued in violation of this subsection are void. The bonds are not obligations or indebtedness of the township but constitute an indebtedness of the district as a special taxing district. The bonds and interest are payable only out of a special tax levied upon all the property of the district as prescribed by this chapter. A bond must recite the terms upon the face of the bond, together with the purposes for which the bond is issued.

To the extent possible, the property tax replacement fund board shall make distributions under this subsection at the same time distributions of homestead credits and other property tax replacement credits are made. A distribution under this subsection is not subject to any law limiting the maximum amount that may be distributed under IC 6-1.1-21. The amount distributed under this subsection is not included in the amount used to determine the minimum amount that must be distributed or maximum distribution that may not be exceeded under IC 6-1.1-21.

(e) This subsection applies to a taxpayer in an allocation area that would be eligible for an additional credit under any of the following:

- (1) IC 8-22-3.5-10.
- (2) IC 36-7-14-39.5.
- (3) IC 36-7-15.1-26.5.
- (4) IC 36-7-15.1-35.
- (5) IC 36-7-15.1-56.
- (6) IC 36-7-30-27.
- (7) IC 36-7-30.5-32.
- (8) IC 36-7-32-18.

As used in this subsection, "designating body" refers to the governing body permitted to reduce an additional credit otherwise granted in an allocation area to which a provision described in subdivision (1) through (8) applies. Subject to this subsection, a taxpayer that is entitled to an additional credit on the taxpayer's homestead in an allocation area is entitled to a supplemental credit under this subsection. The amount of the supplemental credit is equal to the amount necessary to give the taxpayer the same total credit that the taxpayer would have received if the taxpayer's tangible property were not located in an allocation area. The supplemental credit reduces the amount of proceeds allocated to the district where the allocation area is located and paid into an allocation fund. A designating body may reduce the amount of the supplemental credits granted in an allocation area in the same manner and for the same reasons that the designating body is permitted to reduce an additional credit in the allocation area. The department of local government finance may prescribe procedures to use to apply a supplemental credit to tangible property in an allocation area. A county auditor shall comply with the procedures prescribed under this subsection.

RESOLUTIONS ON FIRST READING

House Concurrent Resolution 17

Representative Ruppel introduced House Concurrent Resolution 17:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION honoring Butler University on the occasion of the 150th anniversary of its founding.

Whereas, In 1855, two professors, some assistant teachers, and 20 students walked through the doors of Butler University and began what was to become years of academic excellence and innovation;

Whereas, Because there were no high schools or adequate private academies, Butler University operated its own preparatory department until 1907, enrolling 60 students and another 54 in the prep classes the first year;

Whereas, Butler University was originally called North Western Christian University and was located at 18th Street and College Avenue;

Whereas, From its creation, the school began establishing unheard of precedents, including admitting women on an equal basis with men, admitting students representing minorities, and allowing students, with parental consent, to choose subjects suited to their needs under a new "elective" system;

Whereas, Butler University also appointed Catharine Merrill as Demia Butler professor, and she became the first female professor of English literature in Indiana in 1870, making Butler University the first in the nation to establish an endowed chair specifically for a female professor and only the second university to appoint a woman to the faculty;

Whereas, In 1875, the board of directors sold the downtown campus and moved the campus to Irvington;

Whereas, In 1879 the school became known as Butler University in honor of Ovid Butler, a prominent Indianapolis attorney and abolitionist who wrote the university's charter in 1850;

Whereas, Butler University continued to grow, adding the College of Education in 1930, the College of Business Administration in 1937, the College of Pharmacy in 1945, and the Jordan College of Music in 1951;

Whereas, To keep up with the growing needs of the academic community, Butler University began offering evening courses in 1899, established a summer session in 1905, and created a graduate division in 1932; and

Whereas, Butler University will continue to grow on the solid foundation laid by its founders in 1855 and will continue to offer visionary ideas and innovative academic concepts to its students: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the House of Representatives
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the Senate concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the Indiana General Assembly congratulates Butler University on the 150th anniversary of its founding and recognizes its many contributions to the city of Indianapolis and the state of Indiana.

Whereas, Patience, persistence, and a pair of interceptions helped the Jimtown High School team break open what had been a close game for a 35-7 victory over North Posey for the Class 2A state championship;

Whereas, The Jimmies were lead by sophomore Ryan Konrath who rushed for 63 yards and two touchdowns, senior Ross Bauman who had a 55-yard punt return, and junior Brian DeShone who had a 76-yard interception for a score; and

Whereas, The Jimmies' 14-1 season is a prime example of hard work and dedication to a goal that can be seen throughout the athletic programs and classrooms of Indiana schools: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the House of Representatives
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION honoring the NorthWood High School football team.

Whereas, NorthWood High School is the 2005 Class 3A state football champion;

Whereas, NorthWood High School became the first team with six losses in the history of the Indiana High School Athletic Association tournament series to win a state championship with its 7-0 win over Indianapolis Bishop Chatard, marking the first time Bishop Chatard had been held scoreless since 2001;

Whereas, The 2005 state championship title is the first for the NorthWood Panthers in their six appearances at the RCA Dome and the school's second state championship in any sport;

Whereas, The victory was the first over Bishop Chatard after three previous championship game meetings;

Whereas, The championship game's only score came when NorthWood freshman quarterback Skyler Titus threw to junior Brant Ehret for a 10-yard touchdown, capping a nine play, 47-yard drive that included two key third down conversions;

Whereas, In the third quarter, NorthWood held Bishop Chatard to only 11 offensive yards on four plays from scrimmage; and

Whereas, This victory marked the third time the Marching Minutemen have placed first in the Class B state finals;

Whereas, The Marching Minutemen finished second in the competition in 2002 and 2004;

Whereas, This was Gay Burton's first time at the RCA Dome as a head director for band, although she had been Concord's assistant director for 13 years in the 1980s and 1990s;

Whereas, Band Director Burton credited the victory to the fact that band members helped and encouraged one another; something Burton considers to be the hallmark of success; and

House Concurrent Resolution 22

Representatives Pflum, Saunders, and Hoffman introduced House Concurrent Resolution 22:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION honoring Richmond, Indiana, on the occasion of the 200th anniversary of its founding.

Whereas, Richmond was originally founded by North Carolina Quakers John Smith and Jeremiah Cox who settled along the Whitewater River in 1806;

Whereas, John Smith opened the first general store south of present day Main Street, and Jeremiah Cox built the first grist mill on land north of present day Main Street;

Whereas, In 1818, Jeremiah Cox was convinced that a town would inevitably be at that site and joined John Smith to form a town;

Whereas, On September 1, 1818, 24 qualified voters of the settlement met and voted to incorporate the town, naming it Richmond;

Whereas, The National Road, now U.S. 40, was surveyed to Richmond in 1827;

Whereas, A covered bridge across the Whitewater River in the Whitewater Valley Gorge was completed in 1836, alleviating a barrier to westward expansion;

Whereas, Earlham College, which is recognized today as one of the nation's best liberal arts colleges, was established by the Society of Friends in 1847;

Whereas, The first locomotive entered Richmond in March 1853, and the rail line was extended in 1854 to reach New Castle and, eventually, Chicago;

Whereas, The first library was established in 1864 by one of the earliest merchants, Robert Morrison, at a cost of $20,000;

Whereas, In 1881, Richmond became the "Rose City" when E.G. Hill and his father, Joseph, began a general floral catalogue business that eventually became one of the world's largest producers of roses;

Whereas, By the early 20th century, Richmond had grown steadily in size, accomplishment, and confidence;

Whereas, Products manufactured such as Starr pianos, a variety of motor vehicles, McGuire lawnmowers, Gennett recordings, and Hill roses found world markets;

Whereas, A tragic explosion in 1968, which took 41 lives and did $15,000,000 in damages, brought determined city leaders, merchants, and citizens together to create a new sense of community and a new downtown;

Whereas, Richmond is considered the Eastern Gateway of Indiana and, because of its ideal location along Interstate 70 on the border of Indiana and Ohio, has continued to offer its residents many great cultural, educational, and economic opportunities; and

Whereas, The residents of Richmond should be extremely proud of their city, which has continued to grow and develop into a world class community as it sets an example for cities throughout the United State of America: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, the Senate concurring:

SECTION 1. That the Indiana General Assembly congratulates the residents of Richmond on the occasion of the 200th anniversary of the city's founding.

SECTION 2. That the Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to Mayor Sally Hutton.

RESOLUTIONS ON FIRST READING

Representative Burton introduced House Concurrent Resolution 23:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION urging the Department of Transportation to rename the section of Interstate Highway 65 running through Johnson County the Pearl Harbor Memorial Highway.

Whereas, It is important and fitting for our society to recognize and honor the contributions of those citizens who have served this nation in times of war;

Whereas, The December 7, 1941, attack on Pearl Harbor was a devastating attack on our nation's homeland that cost the lives of more than 2,000 American civilians, soldiers, sailors, and marines;

Whereas, As the Pearl Harbor Memorial Highway, Interstate 65 throughout Johnson County could stand as a tribute to those heroic men and women who gave their lives in defense of the United States of America and the freedom of its citizens; and

Whereas, In these times of danger throughout America, it is vital to remember the bravery of those citizens who made the ultimate sacrifice for their country and to ensure that all Americans will be ever vigilant so that tragedies like the attack on Pearl Harbor do not happen again: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the House of Representatives
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the Senate concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the Indiana General Assembly urges the Indiana Department of Transportation to rename the part of Interstate Highway 65 that runs through Johnson County the Pearl Harbor Memorial Highway.

SECTION 2. That the Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to the commissioner of the Indiana Department of Transportation.

The resolution was read a first time and referred to the Committee on Rules and Legislative Procedures.

Representatives Klinker, Woodruff, Budak, and Micon introduced House Concurrent Resolution 24:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION urging the Legislative Council to assign to a committee for further study the topic of requiring the use of respectful, "people first" language when referring to people with disabilities in all Indiana laws.

Whereas, People with disabilities make up our nation's largest minority group;

Whereas, This group is inclusive and diverse, representing both genders and all ages, religions, socioeconomic levels, and ethnicities;

Whereas, Old and inaccurate medical descriptors and the inappropriate use of these descriptors help to preserve negative stereotypes;

Whereas, When people are described by their medical diagnoses, they are devalued and disrespected as individuals;

Whereas, It is the responsibility of the state of Indiana to ensure that our laws do not perpetuate negative stereotypes or disrespect Hoosiers with disabilities; and

Whereas, In order to ensure that all people are treated respectfully, it is necessary to determine if our laws use respectful language when referring to people with disabilities: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the House of Representatives
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the Senate concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the legislative council is urged to assign to a committee for further study the topic of requiring the use of respectful, "people first" language when referring to people with disabilities in all Indiana laws.

The resolution was read a first time and referred to the Committee on Rules and Legislative Procedures.

House Concurrent Resolution 25

Representative McClain introduced House Concurrent Resolution 25:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION urging the Indiana Department of Transportation to name the bridge over the Wabash River in Delphi the Carroll County Veterans Memorial Bridge.

Whereas, The General Assembly recognizes the great sacrifices made by Indiana veterans in the service of their country in time of war;

Whereas, The ultimate cost of freedom is paid by many of those in the military who sacrifice their very lives in defense of liberty;

Whereas, The State of Indiana owes an eternal debt of gratitude to the men and women who bravely answer their country's call, and the people of Carroll County wish to recognize their bravery by designating the bridge over the Wabash River in Delphi in honor of the Carroll County veterans; and

Whereas, It is therefore fitting that the proper signage be placed on the bridge over the Wabash River in Delphi to recognize the designation of this bridge as the Carroll County Veterans Memorial Bridge in honor of these veterans: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the House of Representatives
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the Senate concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the Indiana General Assembly urges the Indiana Department of Transportation to name the bridge over the Wabash River in Delphi the Carroll County Veterans Memorial Bridge.

SECTION 2. That the Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to the commissioner of the Indiana Department of Transportation.

The resolution was read a first time and referred to the Committee on Rules and Legislative Procedures.

House Concurrent Resolution 26

Representative Hoy introduced House Concurrent Resolution 26:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION urging the establishment of an interim study committee to study the effects of decorative lights on vehicles.

Whereas, Vehicle lighting should allow drivers to see the road ahead and make vehicles clearly visible to other drivers on the road without causing a hazard;

Whereas, Decorative lights on vehicles may be distracting and endanger other road users because the lights may divert drivers' attention from their driving;

Whereas, With the increased use of decorative lighting on vehicles on Indiana roadways, it would behoove the state of Indiana to further study the issue of decorative lighting on vehicles: Therefore,

*Be it resolved by the House of Representatives
of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana,
the Senate concurring:*

SECTION 1. That the legislative council is urged to establish a committee to study the effects of decorative lights on vehicles.

SECTION 2. That the committee, if established, shall operate under the direction of the legislative council and that the committee shall issue a final report when directed to do so by the council.

The resolution was read a first time and referred to the Committee on Rules and Legislative Procedures.

House Resolution 1

Representative Friend introduced House Resolution 1:

A HOUSE RESOLUTION expressing the will of the Indiana House of Representatives to protect the content of prayer and the right to address God in accordance with the dictates of conscience in the Indiana House of Representatives.

Whereas, The official invocation has been an unbroken tradition in the Indiana House of Representatives for 189 years;

Whereas, The Indiana House of Representatives has long had a policy of permitting members to give, or to invite clergy to give, the invocation prayer in a manner consistent with the religious beliefs and the freedom of conscience of the person giving the invocation;

Whereas, This privilege of invocation prayer has been extended over the years to a diverse group of Hoosiers representing a wide variety of creeds, faiths and traditions;

Whereas, During the past session of the General Assembly the invocation was offered by clerics representing the Catholic, Jewish and Muslim faiths as well as those with no formal religious affiliation;

Whereas, The Indiana House of Representatives views the invocation as an opportunity to solemnize the proceedings of the House and to permit individual House members and their invited constituents to seek divine guidance on behalf of the House in a manner consistent with, and not repugnant to, their abiding beliefs;

Whereas, The members of the Indiana House of Representatives are subject to the unique pressures and duties of their office and of the burdens of the legislative environment, which frequently requires that they be absent from their own homes, families, and religious congregations;

Whereas, The ministry of visiting clerics and the offering of invocations accommodates the spiritual needs of the members of the Indiana House of Representatives and facilitates the voluntary exercise of their faith, providing them with spiritual encouragement while they are away from their homes, families, and religious congregations;

Whereas, The members of the Indiana House of Representatives accept that in our pluralistic society it is not possible that every faith or belief system be represented in each invocation;

Whereas, The members of the Indiana House of Representatives affirm as the foundational principle of religious tolerance that differences in faith or beliefs should be freely acknowledged and not be hidden, discouraged or suppressed through governmental order, coercion or officially imposed orthodoxy;

Whereas, The invocation prayer has traditionally been an opportunity to promote greater understanding among persons of all faiths;

Whereas, It has been the consistent tradition and practice of the members of the Indiana House of Representatives to stand in respectful silence as the invocation prayer was offered by a fellow Hoosier, regardless of whether the members have shared the religious views expressed by the individual delivering the invocation;

Whereas, Despite these salutary benefits of the Indiana House's invocation prayer, the United States District Court for the Southern District of Indiana, has issued an injunction which restrains religious liberty and the freedom of conscience and, in conflict with the historic and cherished rights of Americans, purports to control the specific content of prayers;

Whereas, This intolerable order of the United States District Court states that prayers given as part of the official proceedings of the Indiana House "should not use Christ's name or title or any other denominational appeal" and should not "proclaim or otherwise communicate the beliefs that Jesus of Nazareth was the Christ, the Messiah, the Son of God, or the Savior, or that he was resurrected, or that he will return on Judgment Day or is otherwise divine";

Whereas, This order is inconsistent with the settled beliefs and deepest convictions of many Hoosiers;

Whereas, Because it attempts to control the content of prayer, this order undermines the rights of all Hoosiers regardless of their theological convictions;

Whereas, This order is contrary to the principles of religious liberty upon which this Nation was founded and which are embodied in the First Amendment to the United States Constitution;

Whereas, In Marsh v. Chambers in 1983 the United States Supreme Court considered our Nation's more than 200 hundred year history of legislative prayers, including prayers that invoke the name of Jesus Christ, and found that "In light of the unambiguous and unbroken history of more than 200 years, there can be no doubt that the practice of opening legislative sessions with prayer has become part of the fabric of our society. To invoke Divine guidance on a public body entrusted with making the laws is not, in these circumstances, an "establishment" of religion or a step toward establishment; it is simply a tolerable acknowledgment of beliefs widely held among the people of this country."

Whereas, As the United States Supreme Court's decisions make clear, public officials are not competent, in our constitutional order, to make the fine theological distinctions and comparisons necessary for one to declare that a prayer is sufficiently "inclusive" or "nonsectarian" to satisfy the court's injunction and the content of prayer is a matter solely for the religious conscience of the cleric or representative offering it;

Whereas, This order violates the fundamental rights of men and women conferred upon them by their Creator to always and freely seek the guidance and blessings of their Creator in accordance with the dictates of their conscience;

Whereas, The members of the Indiana House of Representatives believe that the United States District Court for the Southern District of Indiana has transcended the line between co-equal sovereigns in our federal system of government and has improperly intruded upon the affairs of the legislative branch of Indiana State Government by attempting to dictate the content of our prayers;

Whereas, The members of the Indiana House of Representatives have taken an oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States, and the members have considered the constitutionality of the practice under challenge and have concluded that it is fully consistent with the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment to the United States Constitution: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

SECTION 1. That it is the judgment of the Indiana House of Representatives that the order of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Indiana is contrary to the word and spirit of the First Amendment.

SECTION 2. That the Speaker of the Indiana House of Representatives is urged to use the authority granted to him to prosecute all possible appeals of the order and to use all other lawful means at his disposal to seek the invalidation of that order.

SECTION 3. That the Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to the members of the Indiana General Assembly, the United States Congress and the President of the United States.

The resolution was read a first time and referred to the Committee on Rules and Legislative Procedures.

SECTION 29. IC 6-3.5-6-18.5, AS AMENDED BY P.L.234-2005, SECTION 5, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 18.5. (a) This section applies to a county containing a consolidated city.

(b) Notwithstanding section 18(e) of this chapter, the distributive shares that each civil taxing unit in a county containing a consolidated city is entitled to receive during a month equals the following:

- (1) For the calendar year beginning January 1, 1995, calculate the total amount of revenues that are to be distributed as distributive shares during that month multiplied by the following factor:

Center Township	.0251
Decatur Township	.00217
Franklin Township	.0023
Lawrence Township	.01177
Perry Township	.01130
Pike Township	.01865
Warren Township	.01359
Washington Township	.01346
Wayne Township	.01307
Lawrence-City	.00858
Beech Grove	.00845
Southport	.00025
Speedway	.00722
Indianapolis/Marion County	.86409

- (2) Notwithstanding subdivision (1), for the calendar year beginning January 1, 1995, the distributive shares for each civil taxing unit in a county containing a consolidated city shall be not less than the following:

Center Township	$1,898,145
Decatur Township	$164,103
Franklin Township	$173,934
Lawrence Township	$890,086
Perry Township	$854,544
Pike Township	$1,410,375
Warren Township	$1,027,721
Washington Township	$1,017,890
Wayne Township	$988,397

Lawrence-City	$648,848
Beech Grove	$639,017
Southport	$18,906
Speedway	$546,000

- (3) For each year after 1995, calculate the total amount of revenues that are to be distributed as distributive shares during that month as follows:

STEP ONE: Determine the total amount of revenues that were distributed as distributive shares during that month in calendar year 1995.

STEP TWO: Determine the total amount of revenue that the department has certified as distributive shares for that month under section 17 of this chapter for the calendar year.

STEP THREE: Subtract the STEP ONE result from the STEP TWO result.

STEP FOUR: If the STEP THREE result is less than or equal to zero (0), multiply the STEP TWO result by the ratio established under subdivision (1).

STEP FIVE: Determine the ratio of:

(A) the maximum permissible property tax levy under IC 6-1.1-18.5, IC 12-19-7, and IC 12-19-7.5 for each civil taxing unit for the calendar year in which the month falls, plus, for a county, an amount equal to the property taxes imposed by the county in 1999 for the county's welfare fund and welfare administration fund; divided by

(B) the sum of the maximum permissible property tax levies under IC 6-1.1-18.5, IC 12-19-7, and IC 12-19-7.5 for all civil taxing units of the county during the calendar year in which the month falls, and an amount equal to the property taxes imposed by the county in 1999 for the county's welfare fund and welfare administration fund.

STEP SIX: If the STEP THREE result is greater than zero (0), the STEP ONE amount shall be distributed by multiplying the STEP ONE amount by the ratio established under subdivision (1).

STEP SEVEN: For each taxing unit determine the STEP FIVE ratio multiplied by the STEP TWO amount.

STEP EIGHT: For each civil taxing unit determine the difference between the STEP SEVEN amount minus the product of the STEP ONE amount multiplied by the ratio established under subdivision (1). The STEP THREE excess shall be distributed as provided in STEP NINE only to the civil taxing units that have a STEP EIGHT difference greater than or equal to zero (0).

STEP NINE: For the civil taxing units qualifying for a distribution under STEP EIGHT, each civil taxing unit's share equals the STEP THREE excess multiplied by the ratio of:

(A) the maximum permissible property tax levy under IC 6-1.1-18.5, IC 12-19-7, and IC 12-19-7.5 for the qualifying civil taxing unit during the calendar year in which the month falls, plus, for a county, an amount equal to the property taxes imposed by the county in 1999 for the county's welfare fund and welfare administration fund; divided by

(B) the sum of the maximum permissible property tax levies under IC 6-1.1-18.5, IC 12-19-7, and IC 12-19-7.5 for all qualifying civil taxing units of the county during the calendar year in which the month falls, and an amount equal to the property taxes imposed by the county in 1999 for the county's welfare fund and welfare administration fund.

(c) Except with respect to Center Township, for each year after 2006, sixty-six percent (66%) of the revenues to be distributed as distributive shares during each month to the townships listed in this section are to be distributed as additional distributive shares to Indianapolis/Marion County and the township distributive shares are reduced by sixty-six percent (66%).

(d) If Lawrence, Beech Grove, Southport, or Speedway consolidates its fire department into the consolidated fire department under IC 36-3-1-6.3, commencing with the calendar year following that consolidation and for each year thereafter, the monthly distributive share of county option income taxes distributed to Lawrence, Beech Grove, Southport, or Speedway, as applicable, shall be reduced by a percentage set forth in the ordinances adopted under IC 36-3-1-6.3, and those revenues shall instead be distributed as additional distributive shares to Indianapolis-Marion County.

The township trustee, upon notice in writing from either property owner of a disagreement and the nature of the disagreement, shall appoint three (3) disinterested citizens of the township who shall determine the kind of structure and apportion the cost of the floodgate or other structure between the property owners, taking into consideration the parts of the fence being maintained by each property owner.

The compensation of the arbitrators is two dollars ($2) each, which shall be paid by the property owners in the proportion each property owner is ordered to bear the expense of a SECTION 175. THE FOLLOWING ARE REPEALED [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: IC 3-11-1.5-32.5; IC 33-34; IC 36-6-2.5; IC 36-8-4.3.

SECTION 176. [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006] The general assembly finds the following:

(1) A consolidated city faces unique budget challenges due to a high demand for services combined with the large number of tax exempt properties located in a consolidated city as the seat of state government, home to several institutions of higher education, and home to numerous national, state, and regional nonprofit corporations.

(2) By virtue of its size and population density, a consolidated city has unique overlapping territories of county, city, and township government and an absence of unincorporated areas within its county.

(3) By virtue of its size, population, and absence of unincorporated areas, development extends to and across the boundaries of the contiguous governmental territories located within a county having a consolidated city, thus giving less meaning to boundaries of the governmental territories located within the county.

(4) By virtue of its size, population, absence of unincorporated areas, overlapping territories, and development to and across the boundaries of contiguous governmental territories, there is less need for differentiation of local governmental services within the separate governmental territories located within a county having a consolidated city, but rather the local governmental service needs are similar and more uniform within and across a county having a consolidated city.

(5) The provision of local governmental services by multiple governmental entities with overlapping territories, and by governmental entities with contiguous territories with less meaningful boundaries, results in disparate levels of local government services within a county having a consolidated city and results in the inefficient and poor use of taxpayer dollars.

(6) As the state capital and a center for professional sporting events, tourism, and culture in central Indiana, the consolidated city faces unique demands for protecting governmental property and securing the safety of large numbers of residents and visitors, which require innovative approaches to public safety resources.

(7) If public safety resources are consolidated, residual services provided by townships are limited and can more effectively and uniformly be performed through consolidation at the city or county level.

(8) By virtue of its size and population patterns, township assistance needs in a consolidated city are greatest in its urban center and differ from the township assistance needs outside the urban center, and the lesser township assistance services outside the urban center can be more effectively and uniformly delivered through a consolidated district.

(9) Substantial operational efficiencies, reduction of administrative costs, and economies of scale may be obtained in a consolidated city through further consolidation of county, city, and township services and operations.

(10) Consolidation of county, city, and township services and operations in the consolidated city will serve the public purpose by allowing the consolidated city to:

- (A) eliminate duplicative services;
- (B) provide better coordinated and more uniform delivery of local governmental services;
- (C) provide uniform oversight and accountability for the budgets for local governmental services;
- (D) simplify the system of property taxation;
- (E) provide more unified tax rates; and
- (F) allow local government services to be provided more efficiently and at a lower cost than without consolidation.

(11) Efficient and fiscally responsible operation of local government benefits the health and welfare of the citizens of a consolidated city and is of public utility and benefit.

(12) The public purpose of this act is to provide a consolidated city with the means to perform essential governmental services for its citizens in an effective, efficient, and fiscally responsible manner.

SECTION 177. [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006] For property taxes first due and payable in 2007, the maximum permissible ad valorem property tax levy under IC 6-1.1-18.5 for a county having a consolidated city is increased by the amount levied in 2006 for assessor and related services by each township in the county.

SECTION 178. [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006] Each township district shall refer the township district's proposed budget, ad valorem property tax levy, and property tax rate for 2009 to the local government tax control board, which shall review and set the budget, levy, and rate as though the township district is covered by IC 6-1.1-18.5-7. For property taxes first due and payable in 2009, the maximum permissible ad valorem property tax limits and any other limits on ad valorem property taxes set forth in IC 6-1.1-18.5 for:

(1) a central township district shall be based upon the sum of:

(A) the amount levied in 2008 for the general fund; plus
(B) the amount levied in 2008 for township assistance, including reasonable administrative costs, in the central township district in a county having a consolidated city; plus

(C) thirty-five percent (35%) of the amount levied in 2008 for township assistance, including reasonable administrative costs, by each other township located in the county containing a consolidated city; and

(2) a consolidated township district shall be based upon sixty-five percent (65%) of the amount levied in 2008 for township assistance, including reasonable administrative costs, by each township located in a county having a consolidated city, other than the central township district in a county having a consolidated city.

SECTION 179. [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006] (a) Any case pending in a township small claims court established by IC 33-34, as repealed by this act, after the close of business on December 31, 2006, is transferred on January 1, 2007, to the corresponding township division of the small claims division of the Marion superior court established under IC 33-33-49-14(c)(5) and IC 33-33-49-14.1, both as added by this act. A case transferred under this SECTION shall be treated as if the case were filed in the corresponding township division of the small claims division of the Marion superior court.

The election for the initial small claims judges to be elected to the township divisions of the small claims division of the Marion superior court under IC 33-33-49-13.1, as added by this act, is the election to be held in the November immediately preceding the date that the corresponding term of the judge in office in a township small claims court established by IC 33-34, as repealed by this act, on December 31, 2006, would have terminated under the law in effect on December 31, 2006.

SECTION 3. IC 22-3-7-16 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 16. (a) Compensation shall be allowed on account of disablement from occupational disease resulting in only temporary total disability to work or temporary partial disability to work beginning with the eighth day of such disability except for the medical benefits provided for in section 17 of this chapter. Compensation shall be allowed for the first seven (7) calendar days only as provided in this section. The first weekly installment of compensation for temporary disability is due fourteen (14) days after the disability begins. Not later than fifteen (15) days from the date that the first installment of compensation is due, the employer or the employer's insurance carrier shall tender to the employee or to the employee's dependents, with all compensation due, a properly prepared compensation agreement in a form prescribed by the board. Whenever an employer or the employer's insurance carrier denies or is not able to determine liability to pay compensation or benefits, the employer or the employer's insurance carrier shall notify the worker's compensation board and the employee in writing on a form prescribed by the worker's compensation board not later than thirty (30) days after the employer's knowledge of the claimed disablement. If a determination of liability cannot be made within thirty (30) days, the worker's compensation board may approve an additional thirty (30) days upon a written request of the employer or the employer's insurance carrier that sets forth the reasons that the determination could not be made within thirty (30) days and states the facts or circumstances that are necessary to determine liability within the additional thirty (30) days. More than thirty (30) days of additional time may be approved by the worker's compensation board upon the filing of a petition by the employer or the employer's insurance carrier that sets forth:

- (1) the extraordinary circumstances that have precluded a determination of liability within the initial sixty (60) days;
- (2) the status of the investigation on the date the petition is filed;
- (3) the facts or circumstances that are necessary to make a determination; and
- (4) a timetable for the completion of the remaining investigation.

An employer who fails to comply with this section is subject to a civil penalty of fifty dollars ($50), to be assessed and collected by the board upon notice and hearing. Civil penalties collected under this section shall be deposited in the state general fund.

(b) Once begun, temporary total disability benefits may not be terminated by the employer unless:

- (1) the employee has returned to work;
- (2) the employee has died;
- (3) the employee has refused to undergo a medical examination under section 20 of this chapter;
- (4) the employee has received five hundred (500) weeks of temporary total disability benefits or has been paid the maximum compensation allowable under section 19 of this chapter; or
- (5) the employee is unable or unavailable to work for reasons unrelated to the compensable disease.

In all other cases the employer must notify the employee in writing of the employer's intent to terminate the payment of temporary total disability benefits, and of the availability of employment, if any, on a form approved by the board. If the employee disagrees with the proposed termination, the employee must give written notice of disagreement to the board and the employer within seven (7) days after receipt of the notice of intent to terminate benefits. If the board and employer do not receive a notice of disagreement under this section, the employee's temporary total disability benefits shall be terminated. Upon receipt of the notice of disagreement, the board shall immediately contact the parties, which may be by telephone or other means and attempt to resolve the disagreement. If the board is unable to resolve the disagreement within ten (10) days of receipt of the notice of disagreement, the board shall immediately arrange for an evaluation of the employee by an independent medical examiner. The independent medical examiner shall be selected by mutual agreement of the parties or, if the parties are unable to agree, appointed by the board under IC 22-3-4-11. If the independent medical examiner determines that the employee is no longer temporarily disabled or is still temporarily disabled but can return to employment that the employer has made available to the employee, or if the employee fails or refuses to appear for examination by the independent medical examiner, temporary total disability benefits may be terminated. If either party disagrees with the opinion of the independent medical examiner, the party shall apply to the board for a hearing under section 27 of this chapter.

(c) An employer is not required to continue the payment of temporary total disability benefits for more than fourteen (14) days after the employer's proposed termination date unless the independent medical examiner determines that the employee is temporarily disabled and unable to return to any employment that the employer has made available to the employee.

(d) If it is determined that as a result of this section temporary total disability benefits were overpaid, the overpayment shall be deducted from any benefits due the employee under this section and, if there are no benefits due the employee or the benefits due the employee do not equal the amount of the overpayment, the employee shall be responsible for paying any overpayment which cannot be deducted from benefits due the employee.

(6) With respect to disability or death occurring on and after July 1, 2002, and before July 1, 2006, two hundred ninety-four thousand dollars ($294,000).

(7) With respect to disability or death occurring on and after July 1, 2006, three hundred eighteen thousand dollars ($318,318).

(u) For all disabilities occurring before July 1, 1985, "average weekly wages" shall mean the earnings of the injured employee in the employment in which the employee was working at the time of the last exposure during the period of fifty-two (52) weeks immediately preceding the last day of the last exposure divided by fifty-two (52). If the employee lost seven (7) or more calendar days during the period, although not in the same week, then the earnings for the remainder of the fifty-two (52) weeks shall be divided by the number of weeks and parts thereof remaining after the time lost has been deducted. Where the employment prior to the last day of the last exposure extended over a period of less than fifty-two (52) weeks, the method of dividing the earnings during that period by the number of weeks and parts thereof during which the employee earned wages shall be followed if results just and fair to both parties will be obtained. Where by reason of the shortness of the time during which the employee has been in the employment of the employer or of the casual nature or terms of the employment it is impracticable to compute the average weekly wages as above defined, regard shall be had to the average weekly amount which, during the fifty-two (52) weeks previous to the last day of the last exposure, was being earned by a person in the same grade employed at the same work by the same employer; or if there is no person so employed, by a person in the same grade employed in that same class of employment in the same district. Whenever allowances of any character are made to an employee in lieu of wages or a specified part of the wage contract, they shall be deemed a part of the employee's earnings.

(v) (u) For all disabilities occurring on and after July 1, 1985, "average weekly wages" means the earnings of the injured employee during the period of fifty-two (52) weeks immediately preceding the disability divided by fifty-two (52). If the employee lost seven (7) or more calendar days during the period, although not in the same week, then the earnings for the remainder of the fifty-two (52) weeks shall be divided by the number of weeks and parts of weeks remaining after the time lost has been deducted. If employment before the date of disability extended over a period of less than fifty-two (52) weeks, the method of dividing the earnings during that period by the number of weeks and parts of weeks during which the employee earned wages shall be followed if results just and fair to both parties will be obtained. If by reason of the shortness of the time during which the employee has been in the employment of the employer or of the casual nature or terms of the employment it is impracticable to compute the average weekly wages for the employee, the employee's average weekly wages shall be considered to be the average weekly amount that, during the fifty-two (52) weeks before the date of disability, was being earned by a person in the same grade employed at the same work by the same employer or, if there is no person so employed, by a person in the same grade employed in that same class of employment in the same district. Whenever allowances of any character are made to an employee instead of wages or a specified part of the wage contract, they shall be considered a part of the employee's earnings.

(w) (v) The provisions of this article may not be construed to result in an award of benefits in which the number of weeks paid or to be paid for temporary total disability, temporary partial disability, or permanent total disability benefits combined exceeds five hundred (500) weeks. This section shall not be construed to prevent a person from applying for an award under IC 22-3-3-13. However, in case of permanent total disability resulting from a disablement occurring on or after January 1, 1998, the minimum total benefit shall not be less than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000).".

"SECTION 1. IC 35-47-2-3, AS AMENDED BY P.L.187-2005, SECTION 3, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2006]: Sec. 3. (a) A person desiring a license to carry a handgun shall apply:

- (1) to the chief of police or corresponding law enforcement officer of the municipality in which the applicant resides;
- (2) if that municipality has no such officer, or if the applicant does not reside in a municipality, to the sheriff of the county in which the applicant resides after the applicant has obtained an application form prescribed by the superintendent; or
- (3) if the applicant is a resident of another state and has a regular place of business or employment in Indiana, to the sheriff of the county in which the applicant has a regular place of business or employment.

The superintendent and local law enforcement agencies shall allow an applicant desiring to obtain or renew a license to carry a handgun to submit an application electronically under this chapter if federal funds are available to establish and maintain an electronic application system.

(b) The law enforcement agency which accepts an application for a handgun license shall collect a ten dollar ($10) application fee, five dollars ($5) of which shall be refunded if the license is not issued. Except as provided in subsection (h), the fee shall be:

- (1) deposited into the law enforcement agency's firearms training fund or other appropriate training activities fund; and
- (2) used by the agency for the purpose of:
 - (A) training law enforcement officers in the proper use of firearms or other law enforcement duties; or
 - (B) purchasing for the law enforcement officers employed by the law enforcement agency firearms, or firearm related equipment, or both.

The state board of accounts shall establish rules for the proper accounting and expenditure of funds collected under this subsection.

(c) The officer to whom the application is made shall ascertain the applicant's name, full address, length of residence in the community, whether the applicant's residence is located within the limits of any city or town, the applicant's occupation, place of business or employment, criminal record, if any, and convictions (minor traffic offenses excepted), age, race, sex, nationality, date of birth, citizenship, height, weight, build, color of hair, color of eyes, scars and marks, whether the applicant has previously held an Indiana license to carry a handgun and, if so, the serial number of the license and year issued, whether the applicant's license has ever been suspended or revoked, and if so, the year and reason for the suspension or revocation, and the applicant's reason for desiring a license. The officer to whom the application is made shall conduct an investigation into the applicant's official records and verify thereby the applicant's character and reputation, and shall in addition verify for accuracy the information contained in the application, and shall forward this information together with the officer's recommendation for approval or disapproval and one (1) set of legible and classifiable fingerprints of the applicant to the superintendent.

(d) The superintendent may make whatever further investigation the superintendent deems necessary. Whenever disapproval is recommended, the officer to whom the application is made shall provide the superintendent and the applicant with the officer's complete and specific reasons, in writing, for the recommendation of disapproval.

(e) If it appears to the superintendent that the applicant:

- (1) has a proper reason for carrying a handgun;
- (2) is of good character and reputation;
- (3) is a proper person to be licensed; and
- (4) is:

- (A) a citizen of the United States; or
- (B) not a citizen of the United States but is allowed to carry a firearm in the United States under federal law;

the superintendent shall issue to the applicant a qualified or an unlimited license to carry any handgun lawfully possessed by the applicant. The original license shall be delivered to the licensee. A copy shall be delivered to the officer to whom the application for license was made. A copy shall be retained by the superintendent for at least four (4) years. This license shall be valid for a period of four (4) years from the date of issue. The license of police officers, sheriffs or their deputies, and law enforcement officers of the United States government who have been honorably retired by a lawfully created pension board or its equivalent after twenty (20) or more years of service, shall be valid for the life of such individuals. However, such lifetime licenses are automatically revoked if the license holder does not remain a proper person.

(f) At the time a license is issued and delivered to a licensee under subsection (e), the superintendent shall include with the license information concerning handgun safety rules that:

- (1) neither opposes nor supports an individual's right to bear arms; and
- (2) is:
 - (A) recommended by a nonprofit educational organization that is dedicated to providing education on safe handling and use of firearms;
 - (B) prepared by the state police department; and
 - (C) approved by the superintendent.

The superintendent may not deny a license under this section because the information required under this subsection is unavailable at the time the superintendent would otherwise issue a license. The state police department may accept private donations or grants to defray the cost of printing and mailing the information required under this subsection.

(g) A license to carry a handgun shall not be issued to any person who:

- (1) has been convicted of a felony;
- (2) has had a license to carry a handgun suspended, unless the person's license has been reinstated;
- (3) is under eighteen (18) years of age;
- (4) is under twenty-three (23) years of age if the person has been adjudicated a delinquent child for an act that would be a felony if committed by an adult; or
- (5) has been arrested for a Class A or Class B felony, or any other felony that was committed while armed with a deadly weapon or that involved the use of violence, if a court has found probable cause to believe that the person committed the offense charged.

In the case of an arrest under subdivision (5), a license to carry a handgun may be issued to a person who has been acquitted of the specific offense charged or if the charges for the specific offense are dismissed. The superintendent shall prescribe all forms to be used in connection with the administration of this chapter.

(h) If the law enforcement agency that charges a fee under subsection (b) is a city or town law enforcement agency, the fee shall be deposited in the law enforcement continuing education fund established under IC 5-2-8-2.

(i) If a person who holds a valid license to carry a handgun issued under this chapter:

- (1) changes the person's name; or
- (2) changes the person's address;

the person shall, not later than sixty (60) days after the date of the change, notify the superintendent, in writing, of the person's new name or new address.

(j) The state police shall indicate on the form for a license to carry a handgun the notification requirements of subsection (i).

(k) The state police department shall adopt rules under IC 4-22-2 to implement an electronic application system under subsection (a). Rules adopted under this section must require the superintendent to keep on file one (1) set of classifiable and legible fingerprints from every person who has received a license to carry a handgun so that a person who applies to renew a license will not be required to submit an additional set of fingerprints."

- a dangerous communicable disease or outbreak; and
- (2) the individual is likely to cause the infection of an uninfected individual if the individual is not restricted in the individual's ability to come into contact with an uninfected individual;

the public health authority may petition a circuit or superior court for an order imposing isolation or quarantine on the individual. A petition for isolation or quarantine filed under this subsection must include a brief description of the facts supporting the public health authority's belief that isolation or quarantine should be imposed on an individual.

(b) Except as provided in subsections (e) and (k), an individual described in subsection (a) is entitled to notice and an opportunity to be heard, in person or by counsel, before a court issues an order imposing isolation or quarantine. A court may restrict an individual's right to appear in person if the court finds that the individual's personal appearance may expose an uninfected person to a dangerous communicable disease or outbreak.

The verified petition must include a brief description of the facts supporting the public health authority's belief that:

- (1) isolation or quarantine should be imposed on an individual; and
- (2) the individual may expose an uninfected individual to a dangerous communicable disease or outbreak before the individual can be provided with notice and an opportunity to be heard.

(f) If the public health authority proves by a preponderance of the evidence that:

- (1) an individual has been infected or exposed to a dangerous communicable disease or outbreak;
- (2) the individual is likely to cause the infection of an uninfected individual if the individual is not restricted in the individual's ability to come into contact with an uninfected individual; and
- (3) the individual may expose an uninfected individual to a dangerous communicable disease or outbreak before the individual can be provided with notice and an opportunity to be heard;

the court may issue an emergency order imposing isolation or quarantine on the individual. An emergency order of isolation or quarantine expires after fourteen (14) days unless renewed in accordance with subsection (l). The court shall establish the other conditions of isolation or quarantine. The court shall impose the least restrictive conditions of isolation or quarantine that are consistent with the protection of the public.

(g) A court may issue an emergency order of isolation or quarantine without the verified petition required under subsection (e) if the court receives sworn testimony of the same facts required in the verified petition:

- (1) in a nonadversarial, recorded hearing before the judge;
- (2) orally by telephone or radio; or
- (3) in writing by facsimile transmission (fax).

If the court agrees to issue an emergency order of isolation or quarantine based upon information received under subdivision (2), the court shall direct the public health authority to sign the judge's name and to write the time and date of issuance on the proposed emergency order. If the court agrees to issue an emergency order of isolation or quarantine based upon information received under subdivision (3), the court shall direct the public health authority to transmit a proposed emergency order to the court, which the court shall sign, add the date of issuance, and transmit back to the public health authority. A court may modify the conditions of a proposed emergency order.

(h) If an emergency order of isolation or quarantine is issued under subsection (g)(2), the court shall record the conversation on audiotape and order the court reporter to type or transcribe the recording for entry in the record. The court shall certify the audiotape, the transcription, and the order retained by the judge for entry in the record.

(i) If an emergency order of isolation or quarantine is issued under subsection (g)(3), the court shall order the court reporter to retype or copy the facsimile transmission for entry in the record. The court shall certify the transcription or copy and order retained by the judge for entry in the record.

(j) The clerk shall notify the public health authority who received an emergency order under subsection (g)(2) or (g)(3) when the transcription or copy required under this section is entered in the record. The public health authority shall sign the typed, transcribed, or copied entry upon receiving notice from the court reporter.

(k) The public health authority may issue an immediate order imposing isolation or quarantine on an individual if exigent circumstances, including the number of affected individuals, exist that make it impracticable for the public health authority to seek an order from a court. An immediate order of isolation or quarantine expires after fourteen (14) days unless renewed in accordance with subsection (l). The public health authority shall establish the other conditions of isolation or quarantine. The public health authority shall impose the least restrictive conditions of isolation or quarantine that are consistent with the protection of the public. The public health authority shall post a copy of the order where it is likely to be seen by individuals subject to the order.

(l) The public health authority may seek to renew an order of isolation or quarantine or an immediate order of isolation or quarantine issued under this section by doing the following:

the court may renew the existing order of isolation or quarantine or issue a new order imposing isolation or quarantine on the individual. The court shall establish the conditions of isolation or quarantine, including the duration of isolation or quarantine. The court shall impose the least restrictive conditions of isolation or quarantine that are consistent with the protection of the public.

(n) Upon the motion of any party, or upon its own motion, a court may consolidate cases for a hearing under this section if:

(r) The court shall appoint an attorney to represent an indigent individual in an action brought under this chapter or under IC 16-41-6. The carrier shall provide the court documents and other information necessary to determine financial ability. If the carrier cannot pay the full cost of care and other sources of public or private funding responsible for payment of the carrier's care or treatment are not available, the county is responsible for the cost. (a) A designating body may find that a particular area within its jurisdiction is an economic revitalization area. However, the deduction provided by this chapter for economic revitalization areas not within a city or town shall not be available to retail businesses.

(b) In a county containing a consolidated city or within a city or town, a designating body may find that a particular area within its jurisdiction is a residentially distressed area. Designation of an area as a residentially distressed area has the same effect as designating an area as an economic revitalization area, except that the amount of the deduction shall be calculated as specified in section 4.1 of this chapter and the deduction is allowed for not more than five (5) years. In order to declare a particular area a residentially distressed area, the designating body must follow the same procedure that is required to designate an area as an economic revitalization area and must make all the following additional findings or all the additional findings described in subsection (c):

(1) The area is comprised of parcels that are either unimproved or contain only one (1) or two (2) family dwellings or multifamily dwellings designed for up to four (4) families, including accessory buildings for those dwellings.

(c) In a county containing a consolidated city or within a city or town, a designating body that wishes to designate a particular area a residentially distressed area may make the following additional findings as an alternative to the additional findings described in subsection (b):

(1) A significant number of dwelling units within the area are not permanently occupied or a significant number of parcels in the area are vacant land.

(2) A significant number of dwelling units within the area are:

- (A) the subject of an order issued under IC 36-7-9; or
- (B) evidencing significant building deficiencies.

(3) The area has experienced a net loss in the number of dwelling units, as documented by census information, local building and demolition permits, or certificates of occupancy, or the area is owned by Indiana or the United States.

(4) The area (plus any areas previously designated under this subsection) will not exceed ten percent (10%) of the total area within the designating body's jurisdiction.

However, in a city in a county having a population of more than two hundred thousand (200,000) but less than three hundred thousand (300,000), the designating body is only required to make one (1) of the additional findings described in this subsection as an alternative to one (1) of the additional findings described in subsection (b).

(d) A designating body is required to attach the following conditions to the grant of a residentially distressed area designation:

(1) The deduction will not be allowed unless the dwelling is rehabilitated to meet local code standards for habitability.

(f) The property tax deductions provided by ~~sections~~ section 3, and 4.5, or 4.8 of this chapter are only available within an area which the designating body finds to be an economic revitalization area.

(g) The designating body may adopt a resolution establishing general standards to be used, along with the requirements set forth in the definition of economic revitalization area, by the designating body in finding an area to be an economic revitalization area. The standards must have a reasonable relationship to the development objectives of the area in which the designating body has jurisdiction. The following ~~three~~ four (4) sets of standards may be established:

(1) One (1) relative to the deduction under section 3 of this chapter for economic revitalization areas that are not residentially distressed areas.

(2) One (1) relative to the deduction under section 3 of this chapter for residentially distressed areas.

(3) One (1) relative to the deduction allowed under section 4.5 of this chapter.

(4) One (1) relative to the deduction allowed under section 4.8 of this chapter.

(h) A designating body may impose a fee for filing a designation application for a person requesting the designation of a particular area as an economic revitalization area. The fee may be sufficient to defray actual processing and administrative costs. However, the fee charged for filing a designation application for a parcel that contains one (1) or more owner-occupied, single-family dwellings may not exceed the cost of publishing the required notice.

(i) In declaring an area an economic revitalization area, the designating body may:

(1) limit the time period to a certain number of calendar years during which the economic revitalization area shall be so designated;

(2) limit the type of deductions that will be allowed within the economic revitalization area to ~~either~~ the deduction allowed under section 3 of this chapter, ~~or~~ the deduction allowed under section 4.5 of this chapter, the deduction allowed under section 4.8 of this chapter, or any combination of these deductions;

(3) limit the dollar amount of the deduction that will be allowed with respect to new manufacturing equipment, new research and development equipment, new logistical distribution equipment, and new information technology equipment if a deduction under this chapter had not been filed before July 1, 1987, for that equipment;

(4) limit the dollar amount of the deduction that will be allowed with respect to redevelopment and rehabilitation occurring in areas that are designated as economic revitalization areas on or after September 1, 1988;

(5) limit the dollar amount of the deduction that will be allowed under section 4.8 of this chapter with respect to the occupation of an eligible vacant building; or

~~(5) (6)~~ impose reasonable conditions related to the purpose of this chapter or to the general standards adopted under subsection (g) for allowing the deduction for the redevelopment or rehabilitation of the property or the installation of the new manufacturing equipment, new research and development equipment, new logistical distribution equipment, or new information technology equipment.

To exercise one (1) or more of these powers, a designating body must include this fact in the resolution passed under section 2.5 of this chapter.

(j) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, if a designating body limits the time period during which an area is an economic revitalization area, that limitation does not:

(1) prevent a taxpayer from obtaining a deduction for new manufacturing equipment, new research and development equipment, new logistical distribution equipment, or new information technology equipment installed on or before the approval deadline determined under section 9 of this chapter, but after the expiration of the economic revitalization area if:

(A) the economic revitalization area designation expires after

December 30, 1995; and

(B) the new manufacturing equipment, new research and development equipment, new logistical distribution equipment, or new information technology equipment was described in a statement of benefits submitted to and approved by the designating body in accordance with section 4.5 of this chapter before the expiration of the economic revitalization area designation; or

(2) limit the length of time a taxpayer is entitled to receive a deduction to a number of years that is less than the number of years designated under section 4, ~~or~~ 4.5, or 4.8 of this chapter.

(k) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, deductions:

(1) that are authorized under section 3 of this chapter for property in an area designated as an urban development area before March 1, 1983, and that are based on an increase in assessed valuation resulting from redevelopment or rehabilitation that occurs before March 1, 1983; or

(2) that are authorized under section 4.5 of this chapter for new manufacturing equipment installed in an area designated as an urban development area before March 1, 1983;

apply according to the provisions of this chapter as they existed at the time that an application for the deduction was first made. No deduction that is based on the location of property or new manufacturing equipment in an urban development area is authorized under this chapter after February 28, 1983, unless the initial increase in assessed value resulting from the redevelopment or rehabilitation of the property or the installation of the new manufacturing equipment occurred before March 1, 1983.

(l) If property located in an economic revitalization area is also located in an allocation area (as defined in IC 36-7-14-39 or IC 36-7-15.1-26), an application for the property tax deduction provided by this chapter may not be approved unless the commission that designated the allocation area adopts a resolution approving the application.

SECTION 3. IC 6-1.1-12.1-2.5 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE UPON PASSAGE]: Sec. 2.5. (a) If a designating body finds that an area in its jurisdiction is an economic revitalization area, it shall either:

(1) prepare maps and plats that identify the area; or

(2) prepare a simplified description of the boundaries of the area by describing its location in relation to public ways, streams, or otherwise.

(b) After the compilation of the materials described in subsection (a), the designating body shall pass a resolution declaring the area an economic revitalization area. The resolution must contain a description of the affected area and be filed with the county assessor. A resolution adopted after June 30, 2000, may include a determination of the number of years a deduction under section 3, 4.5, or 4.8 of this chapter is allowed. ~~In addition, if the resolution is adopted after June 30, 2000, the resolution may include a determination of the number of years a deduction under section 4.5 of this chapter is allowed.~~

(c) After approval of a resolution under subsection (b), the designating body shall do the following:

(1) Publish notice of the adoption and substance of the resolution in accordance with IC 5-3-1.

(2) File the following information with each taxing unit that has authority to levy property taxes in the geographic area where the economic revitalization area is located:

(A) A copy of the notice required by subdivision (1).

(B) A statement containing substantially the same information as a statement of benefits filed with the designating body before the hearing required by this section under ~~sections~~ section 3, and 4.5, or 4.8 of this chapter.

The notice must state that a description of the affected area is available and can be inspected in the county assessor's office. The notice must also name a date when the designating body will receive and hear all remonstrances and objections from interested persons. The designating body shall file the information required by subdivision (2) with the officers of the taxing unit who are authorized to fix budgets, tax rates, and tax levies under IC 6-1.1-17-5 at least ten (10) days before the date of the public hearing. After considering the evidence, the designating body shall take final action determining whether the qualifications for an economic revitalization area have been met and confirming, modifying and confirming, or rescinding the resolution. This determination is final except that an appeal may be taken and heard as provided under subsections (d) and (e).

(d) A person who filed a written remonstrance with the designating body under this section and who is aggrieved by the final action taken may, within ten (10) days after that final action, initiate an appeal of that action by filing in the office of the clerk of the circuit or superior court a copy of the order of the designating body and ~~his the person's~~ bond conditioned to pay the costs of ~~his the person's~~ appeal if the appeal is determined against ~~him: the person~~. The only ground of appeal that the court may hear is whether the proposed project will meet the qualifications of the economic revitalization area law. The burden of proof is on the appellant.

(e) An appeal under this section shall be promptly heard by the court without a jury. All remonstrances upon which an appeal has been taken shall be consolidated and heard and determined within thirty (30) days after the time of the filing of the appeal. The court shall hear evidence on the appeal, and may confirm the final action of the designating body or sustain the appeal. The judgment of the court is final and conclusive, unless an appeal is taken as in other civil actions.

SECTION 4. IC 6-1.1-12.1-4.8 IS ADDED TO THE INDIANA CODE AS A NEW SECTION TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE UPON PASSAGE]: Sec. 4.8. (a) A property owner that is an applicant for a deduction under this section must provide a statement of benefits to the designating body.

(b) If the designating body requires information from the property owner for the designating body's use in deciding whether to designate an economic revitalization area, the property owner must provide the completed statement of benefits form to the designating body before the hearing required by section 2.5(c) of this chapter. Otherwise, the property owner must submit the completed statement of benefits form to the designating body before the occupation of the eligible vacant building for which the property owner desires to claim a deduction.

(c) The department of local government finance shall prescribe a form for the statement of benefits. The statement of benefits must include the following information:

(1) A description of the eligible vacant building that the property owner or a tenant of the property owner will occupy.

(2) An estimate of the number of individuals who will be employed or whose employment will be retained by the property owner or the tenant as a result of the occupation of the eligible vacant building, and an estimate of the annual salaries of those individuals.

(3) Information regarding efforts by the owner or a previous owner to sell, lease, or rent the eligible vacant building during the period the eligible vacant building was unoccupied.

(4) Information regarding the amount for which the eligible vacant building was offered for sale, lease, or rent by the owner or a previous owner during the period the eligible vacant building was unoccupied.

(d) With the approval of the designating body, the statement of benefits may be incorporated in a designation application. A statement of benefits is a public record that may be inspected and copied under IC 5-14-3.

(e) The designating body must review the statement of benefits required by subsection (a). The designating body shall determine whether an area should be designated an economic revitalization area or whether a deduction should be allowed, after the designating body has made the following findings:

(1) Whether the estimate of the number of individuals who will be employed or whose employment will be retained can be reasonably expected to result from the proposed occupation of the eligible vacant building.

(2) Whether the estimate of the annual salaries of those individuals who will be employed or whose employment will be retained can be reasonably expected to result from the proposed occupation of the eligible vacant building.

(3) Whether any other benefits about which information was requested are benefits that can be reasonably expected to result from the proposed occupation of the eligible vacant building.

(4) Whether the occupation of the eligible vacant building will increase the tax base and assist in the rehabilitation of the economic revitalization area.

(5) Whether the totality of benefits is sufficient to justify the deduction.

A designating body may not designate an area an economic revitalization area or approve a deduction under this section unless the findings required by this subsection are made in the affirmative.

(f) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the owner of an eligible vacant building located in an economic revitalization area is entitled to a deduction from the assessed value of the building if the property owner or a tenant of the property owner occupies the eligible vacant building and uses it for commercial or industrial purposes. The property owner is entitled to the deduction:

(1) for the first year in which the property owner or a tenant of the property owner occupies the eligible vacant building and uses it for commercial or industrial purposes; and

(2) for subsequent years determined under subsection (g).

(g) The designating body shall determine the number of years for which a property owner is entitled to a deduction under this section. However, the deduction may not be allowed for more than five (5) years. This determination shall be made:

(1) as part of the resolution adopted under section 2.5 of this chapter; or

(2) by a resolution adopted not more than sixty (60) days after the designating body receives a copy of the property owner's deduction application from the county auditor.

A certified copy of a resolution under subdivision (2) shall be sent to the county auditor, who shall make the deduction as provided in section 5.3 of this chapter. A determination concerning the number of years the deduction is allowed that is made under subdivision (1) is final and may not be changed by using the procedure under subdivision (2).

(h) Except as provided in section 2(i)(5) of this chapter and subsection (k), the amount of the deduction the property owner is entitled to receive under this section for a particular year equals the product of:

(1) the assessed value of the building or part of the building that is occupied by the property owner or a tenant of the property owner; multiplied by

(2) the percentage set forth in the table in subsection (i).

(i) The percentage to be used in calculating the deduction under subsection (h) is as follows:

(1) For deductions allowed over a one (1) year period:

YEAR OF DEDUCTION	PERCENTAGE
1st	100%

(2) For deductions allowed over a two (2) year period:

YEAR OF DEDUCTION	PERCENTAGE
1st	100%
2nd	50%

(3) For deductions allowed over a three (3) year period:

YEAR OF DEDUCTION	PERCENTAGE
1st	100%
2nd	66%
3rd	33%

(4) For deductions allowed over a four (4) year period:

YEAR OF DEDUCTION	PERCENTAGE
1st	100%
2nd	75%
3rd	50%
4th	25%

(5) For deductions allowed over a five (5) year period:

YEAR OF DEDUCTION	PERCENTAGE
1st	100%
2nd	80%

3rd	60%
4th	40%
5th	20%

(j) The amount of the deduction determined under subsection (h) shall be adjusted in accordance with this subsection in the following circumstances:

(1) If a general reassessment of real property occurs within the period of the deduction, the amount of the assessed value determined under subsection (h)(1) shall be adjusted to reflect the percentage increase or decrease in assessed valuation that resulted from the general reassessment.

(2) If an appeal of an assessment is approved and results in a reduction of the assessed value of the property, the amount of a deduction under this section shall be adjusted to reflect the percentage decrease that resulted from the appeal.

(k) The maximum amount of a deduction under this section may not exceed the lesser of:

(1) the annual amount for which the eligible vacant building was offered for lease or rent by the owner or a previous owner during the period the eligible vacant building was unoccupied; or

(2) an amount, as determined by the designating body in its discretion, that is equal to the annual amount for which similar buildings in the county or contiguous counties were leased or rented or offered for lease or rent during the period the eligible vacant building was unoccupied.

(l) The department of local government finance shall adopt rules under IC 4-22-2 to implement this section.

SECTION 5. IC 6-1.1-12.1-5.3 IS ADDED TO THE INDIANA CODE AS A NEW SECTION TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE UPON PASSAGE]: Sec. 5.3. (a) A property owner that desires to obtain the deduction provided by section 4.8 of this chapter must file a deduction application, on forms prescribed by the department of local government finance, with the auditor of the county in which the eligible vacant building is located. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the deduction application must be filed before May 10 of the year in which the property owner or a tenant of the property owner initially occupies the eligible vacant building.

(b) If notice of the assessed valuation or new assessment for a year is not given to the property owner before April 10 of that year, the deduction application required by this section may be filed not later than thirty (30) days after the date the notice is mailed to the property owner at the address shown on the records of the township assessor.

(c) The deduction application required by this section must contain the following information:

(1) The name of the property owner and, if applicable, the property owner's tenant.

(2) A description of the property for which a deduction is claimed.

(3) The amount of the deduction claimed for the first year of the deduction.

(4) Any other information required by the department of local government finance or the designating body.

(d) A deduction application filed under this section applies to the year in which the property owner or a tenant of the property owner occupies the eligible vacant building and in the following years in which the deduction is allowed, without an additional deduction application being filed.

(e) A property owner that desires to obtain the deduction provided by section 4.8 of this chapter but that did not file a deduction application within the dates prescribed in subsection (a) or (b) may file a deduction application between March 1 and May 10 of a subsequent year. A deduction application filed under this subsection applies to the year in which the deduction application is filed and the following years in which the deduction is allowed, without an additional deduction application being filed. The amount of the deduction under this subsection is the amount that would have been applicable to the year under section 4.8 of this chapter if the deduction application had been filed in accordance with subsection (a) or (b).

(f) Subject to subsection (i), the county auditor shall do the following:

(1) If a determination concerning the number of years the deduction is allowed has been made in the resolution adopted under section 2.5 of this chapter, the county auditor shall make the appropriate deduction.

(2) If a determination concerning the number of years the deduction is allowed has not been made in the resolution adopted under section 2.5 of this chapter, the county auditor shall send a copy of the deduction application to the designating body. Upon receipt of the resolution stating the number of years the deduction will be allowed, the county auditor shall make the appropriate deduction.

(g) The amount and period of the deduction provided by section 4.8 of this chapter are not affected by a change in the ownership of the eligible vacant building or a change in the property owner's tenant, if the new property owner or the new tenant:

(1) continues to occupy the eligible vacant building in compliance with any standards established under section 2(g) of this chapter; and

(2) files an application in the manner provided by subsection (e).

(h) Before the county auditor acts under subsection (f), the county auditor may request that the township assessor of the township in which the eligible vacant building is located review the deduction application.

(i) A property owner may appeal a determination of the county auditor under subsection (f) by requesting in writing a preliminary conference with the county auditor not more than forty-five (45) days after the county auditor gives the property owner notice of the determination. An appeal under this subsection shall be processed and determined in the same manner that an appeal is processed and determined under IC 6-1.1-15.

(j) In addition to the requirements of subsection (c), a property owner that files a deduction application under this section must provide the county auditor and the designating body with information showing the extent to which there has been compliance with the statement of benefits approved under section 4.8 of this chapter. This information must be included in the deduction application and must also be updated each year in which the deduction is applicable:

(1) at the same time that the property owner or the property owner's tenant files a personal property tax return for property located at the eligible vacant building for which the deduction was granted; or

(2) if subdivision (1) does not apply, before May 15 of each year.

(k) The following information is a public record if filed under this section:

(1) The name and address of the property owner.

(2) The location and description of the eligible vacant building for which the deduction was granted.

(3) Any information concerning the number of employees at the eligible vacant building for which the deduction was granted, including estimated totals that were provided as part of the statement of benefits.

(4) Any information concerning the total of the salaries paid to the employees described in subdivision (3), including estimated totals that are provided as part of the statement of benefits.

(5) Any information concerning the assessed value of the eligible vacant building, including estimates that are provided as part of the statement of benefits.

(l) Information concerning the specific salaries paid to individual employees by the property owner or tenant is confidential.

SECTION 6. IC 6-1.1-12.1-5.9, AS AMENDED BY P.L.193-2005, SECTION 5, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE UPON PASSAGE]: Sec. 5.9. (a) This section does not apply to:

(1) a deduction under section 3 of this chapter for property located in a residentially distressed area; or

(2) any other deduction under section 3 or 4.5 of this chapter for which a statement of benefits was approved before July 1, 1991.

(b) Not later than forty-five (45) days after receipt of the information described in section 5.1, 5.3(j), or 5.6 of this chapter, the designating body may determine whether the property owner has substantially complied with the statement of benefits approved under section 3, ~~or~~ 4.5, or 4.8 of this chapter. If the designating body determines that the property owner has not substantially complied with the statement of benefits and that the failure to substantially comply was not caused by factors beyond the control of the property owner (such as declines in demand for the property owner's products or services), the designating body shall mail a written notice to the property owner. The written notice must include the following provisions:

- (1) An explanation of the reasons for the designating body's determination.
- (2) The date, time, and place of a hearing to be conducted by the designating body for the purpose of further considering the property owner's compliance with the statement of benefits. The date of the hearing may not be more than thirty (30) days after the date on which the notice is mailed.
- (c) On the date specified in the notice described in subsection (b)(2), the designating body shall conduct a hearing for the purpose of further considering the property owner's compliance with the statement of benefits. Based on the information presented at the hearing by the property owner and other interested parties, the designating body shall again determine whether the property owner has made reasonable efforts to substantially comply with the statement of benefits and whether any failure to substantially comply was caused by factors beyond the control of the property owner. If the designating body determines that the property owner has not made reasonable efforts to comply with the statement of benefits, the designating body shall adopt a resolution terminating the property owner's deduction under section 3, ~~or~~ 4.5, or 4.8 of this chapter. If the designating body adopts such a resolution, the deduction does not apply to the next installment of property taxes owed by the property owner or to any subsequent installment of property taxes.

(d) If the designating body adopts a resolution terminating a deduction under subsection (c), the designating body shall immediately mail a certified copy of the resolution to:

- (1) the property owner;
- (2) the county auditor; and
- (3) if the deduction applied under section 4.5 of this chapter, the township assessor.

The county auditor shall remove the deduction from the tax duplicate and shall notify the county treasurer of the termination of the deduction. If the designating body's resolution is adopted after the county treasurer has mailed the statement required by IC 6-1.1-22-8, the county treasurer shall immediately mail the property owner a revised statement that reflects the termination of the deduction.

(e) A property owner whose deduction is terminated by the designating body under this section may appeal the designating body's decision by filing a complaint in the office of the clerk of the circuit or superior court together with a bond conditioned to pay the costs of the appeal if the appeal is determined against the property owner. An appeal under this subsection shall be promptly heard by the court without a jury and determined within thirty (30) days after the time of the filing of the appeal. The court shall hear evidence on the appeal and may confirm the action of the designating body or sustain the appeal. The judgment of the court is final and conclusive unless an appeal is taken as in other civil actions.

(f) If an appeal under subsection (e) is pending, the taxes resulting from the termination of the deduction are not due until after the appeal is finally adjudicated and the termination of the deduction is finally determined.

SECTION 7. IC 6-1.1-12.1-8, AS AMENDED BY P.L.193-2005, SECTION 6, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE UPON PASSAGE]: Sec. 8. (a) Not later than December 31 of each year, the county auditor shall publish the following in a newspaper of general interest and readership and not one of limited subject matter:

- (1) A list of the deduction applications that were filed under this chapter during that year that resulted in deductions being applied under this chapter for that year. The list must contain the following:

- (A) The name and address of each person approved for or receiving a deduction that was filed for during the year.
- (B) The amount of each deduction that was filed for during the year.
- (C) The number of years for which each deduction that was filed for during the year will be available.
- (D) The total amount for all deductions that were filed for and applied during the year.

(2) The total amount of all deductions for real property that were in effect under section 3 of this chapter during the year.

(3) The total amount of all deductions for new manufacturing equipment, new research and development equipment, new logistical distribution equipment, or new information technology equipment that were in effect under section 4.5 of this chapter during the year.

(4) The total amount of all deductions for eligible vacant buildings that were in effect under section 4.8 of this chapter during the year.

(b) The county auditor shall file the information described in subsection (a)(2), ~~and~~ (a)(3), and (a)(4) with the department of local government finance not later than December 31 of each year.

SECTION 8. IC 6-1.1-12.1-9, AS AMENDED BY P.L.216-2005, SECTION 4, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE UPON PASSAGE]: Sec. 9. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a designating body may not approve a statement of benefits for a deduction under section 3, ~~or~~ 4.5, or 4.8 of this chapter after the approval deadline, which is determined in the following manner:

- (1) The initial approval deadline is December 31, 2011.
- (2) Subject to subdivision (3), the initial approval deadline and subsequent approval deadlines are automatically extended in increments of five (5) years, so that approval deadlines subsequent to the initial approval deadline fall on December 31, 2016, and December 31 of each fifth year thereafter.
- (3) At least one (1) year before the date of an approval deadline determined under subdivision (2), the general assembly may enact a law that:

- (A) terminates the automatic extension of approval deadlines under subdivision (2); and
- (B) specifically designates a particular date as the final approval deadline.

SECTION 9. IC 6-1.1-12.1-11.3 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE UPON PASSAGE]: Sec. 11.3. (a) This section applies only to the following requirements:

(1) Failure to provide the completed statement of benefits form to the designating body before the hearing required by section 2.5(c) of this chapter.

(2) Failure to submit the completed statement of benefits form to the designating body before the:

- (A) initiation of the redevelopment or rehabilitation; ~~or the~~
- (B) installation of new manufacturing equipment, new research and development equipment, new logistical distribution equipment, or new information technology equipment; or

(C) occupation of an eligible vacant building;

for which the person desires to claim a deduction under this chapter.

(3) Failure to designate an area as an economic revitalization area before the initiation of the:

- (A) redevelopment;
- (B) installation of new manufacturing equipment, new research and development equipment, new logistical distribution equipment, or new information technology equipment; ~~or~~
- (C) rehabilitation; or
- (D) occupation of an eligible vacant building;

for which the person desires to claim a deduction under this chapter.

(4) Failure to make the required findings of fact before designating an area as an economic revitalization area or authorizing a deduction for new manufacturing equipment, new research and development equipment, new logistical distribution equipment, or new information technology equipment under section 2, 3, ~~or~~ 4.5, or 4.8 of this chapter.

(5) Failure to file a:

(A) timely; or

(B) complete;

deduction application under section 5, 5.3, or 5.4 of this chapter.

(b) This section does not grant a designating body the authority to exempt a person from filing a statement of benefits or exempt a designating body from making findings of fact.

(c) A designating body may by resolution waive noncompliance described under subsection (a) under the terms and conditions specified in the resolution. Before adopting a waiver under this subsection, the designating body shall conduct a public hearing on the waiver.

SECTION 10. IC 6-1.1-12.1-12 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE UPON PASSAGE]: Sec. 12. (a) A property owner that has received a deduction under section 3, or 4.5 of this chapter is subject to the provisions of this section if the designating body adopts a resolution incorporating the provisions of this section for the economic revitalization area in which the property owner is located.

(b) If:

(1) the property owner (or, in the case of a deduction under section 4.8 of this chapter, the property owner or a tenant of the property owner) ceases operations at the facility for which the deduction was granted; and

(2) the designating body finds that the property owner obtained the deduction by intentionally providing false information concerning the property owner's plans to continue operations at the facility;

the property owner shall pay the amount determined under subsection (e) to the county treasurer.

(c) A property owner may appeal the designating body's decision under subsection (b) by filing a complaint in the office of the clerk of the circuit or superior court together with a bond conditioned to pay the costs of the appeal if the appeal is determined against the property owner. An appeal under this subsection shall be promptly heard by the court without a jury and determined not more than thirty (30) days after the time of the filing of the appeal. The court shall hear evidence on the appeal and may confirm the action of the designating body or sustain the appeal. The judgment of the court is a final determination that may be appealed in the same manner as other civil actions.

(d) If an appeal under subsection (c) is pending, the payment required by this section is not due until after the appeal is finally adjudicated and the property owner's liability for the payment is finally determined.

(e) The county auditor shall determine the amount to be paid by the property owner according to the following formula:

STEP ONE: For each year that the deduction was in effect, determine the additional amount of property taxes that would have been paid by the property owner if the deduction had not been in effect.

STEP TWO: Determine the sum of the STEP ONE amounts.

STEP THREE: Multiply the sum determined under STEP TWO by one and one-tenth (1.1).

(f) The county treasurer shall distribute money paid under this section on a pro rata basis to the general fund of each taxing unit that contains the property that was subject to the deduction. The amount to be distributed to the general fund of each taxing unit shall be determined by the county auditor according to the following formula:

STEP ONE: For each year that the deduction was in effect, determine the additional amount of property taxes that would have been paid by the property owner to the taxing unit if the deduction had not been in effect.

STEP TWO: Determine the sum of the STEP ONE amounts.

STEP THREE: Divide the STEP TWO sum by the sum determined under STEP TWO of subsection (e).

STEP FOUR: Multiply the amount paid by the property owner under subsection (e) by the STEP THREE quotient.

SECTION 11. IC 6-1.1-12.1-14, AS AMENDED BY P.L.193-2005, SECTION 7, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE UPON PASSAGE]: Sec. 14. (a) This section does not apply to:

(1) a deduction under section 3 of this chapter for property located in a residentially distressed area; or

(2) any other deduction under section 3 or 4.5 of this chapter for which a statement of benefits was approved before July 1, 2004.

(b) A property owner that receives a deduction under section 3, ~~or~~ 4.5, or 4.8 of this chapter is subject to this section only if the designating body, with the consent of the property owner, incorporates this section, including the percentage to be applied by the county auditor for purposes of STEP TWO of subsection (c), into its initial approval of the property owner's statement of benefits and deduction at the time of that approval.

(c) During each year in which a property owner's property tax liability is reduced by a deduction applied under this chapter, the property owner shall pay to the county treasurer a fee in an amount determined by the county auditor. The county auditor shall determine the amount of the fee to be paid by the property owner according to the following formula:

STEP ONE: Determine the additional amount of property taxes that would have been paid by the property owner during the year if the deduction had not been in effect.

STEP TWO: Multiply the amount determined under STEP ONE by the percentage determined by the designating body under subsection (b), which may not exceed fifteen percent (15%). The percentage determined by the designating body remains in effect throughout the term of the deduction and may not be changed.

STEP THREE: Determine the lesser of the STEP TWO product or one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

(d) Fees collected under this section must be distributed to one (1) or more public or nonprofit entities established to promote economic development within the corporate limits of the city, town, or county served by the designating body. HOUSE MOTION (Amendment 1001-20)

Mr. Speaker: I move that House Bill 1001 be amended to read as follows:

Delete the title and insert the following:

"A BILL FOR AN ACT to amend the Indiana Code concerning local government and to make an appropriation."

Page 1, between the enacting clause and line 1, begin a new paragraph and insert:

"SECTION 1. IC 4-10-18-8 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 8. (a) Except as provided in subsection (b), if the balance, at the end of a state fiscal year, in the fund exceeds seven percent (7%) of the total state general fund revenues for that state fiscal year, the excess is appropriated from the fund to the property tax replacement state general fund, established under ~~IC 6-1-1-21~~. The auditor of state and the treasurer of state shall transfer the amount so appropriated from the fund to the property tax replacement state general fund during the immediately following state fiscal year.

(b) If an appropriation is made out of the fund under section 4 of this chapter for a state fiscal year during which a transfer is to be made from the fund to the property tax replacement state general fund under subsection (a), the amount of the appropriation made under subsection (a) shall be reduced by the amount of the appropriation made under section 4 of this chapter. However, the amount of the appropriation made under subsection (a) may not be reduced to less than zero (0).

SECTION 2. IC 4-24-7-4, AS AMENDED BY P.L.246-2005, SECTION 44, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 4. (a) Accounts of state institutions described in sections 1 and 3 of this chapter shall be paid as follows:

(1) All such accounts shall be signed by the superintendent of such institution, attested to by the seal of the institution, and forwarded to the auditor of the county for payment from which county the inmate or patient was admitted.

(2) All accounts accruing between January 1 and June 30 of each year shall be forwarded to the county auditor on or before October 1 of such year.

(3) All accounts accruing between July 1 and December 31 of each year shall be forwarded to the county auditor on or before April 1 of the following year.

(4) Upon receipt of any such account, the county auditor shall draw a warrant on the treasurer of the county for the payment of the account, and the same shall be paid out of the funds of the county appropriated therefor.

(5) The county council of each county of the state shall annually appropriate sufficient funds to pay such accounts.

(b) All accounts of state institutions described in section 2 of this chapter shall be paid as follows:

(1) All such accounts shall be signed by the superintendent of the institution, attested to by the seal of the institution, and forwarded to the auditor of the county for payment from the county from which the inmate was admitted.

(2) All accounts accruing after December 31 and before April 1 of each year shall be forwarded to the county auditor on or before May 15 of that year.

(3) All accounts accruing after March 31 and before July 1 of each year shall be forwarded to the county auditor on or before August 15 of that year.

(4) All accounts accruing after June 30 and before October 1 of each year shall be forwarded to the county auditor on or before November 15 of that year.

(5) All accounts accruing after September 30 and before January 1 of each year, and any reconciliations for previous periods, shall be forwarded to the county auditor on or before March 15 of the following year.

(6) Upon receipt of an account, the county auditor shall draw a warrant on the treasurer of the county for the payment of the account, which shall be paid from the funds of the county that were appropriated for the payment.

(7) The county council of each county shall annually appropriate sufficient funds to pay these accounts.

If a county has not paid an account within six (6) months after the account is forwarded under this subsection, the auditor of state shall, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in ~~IC 6-1-1-21~~, IC 6-10-7, reduce the next distribution of certified property tax replacement credits distribution under ~~IC 6-1-1-21~~ IC 6-10-7 to the county and withhold the amount owed on the account. The auditor of state shall credit the withheld amount to the state general fund for the purpose of curing the default. The account is then considered paid. A county that has the county's distribution reduced under this subsection shall apply the withheld amount only to the county unit's share of the distribution and may not reduce a distribution to any other civil taxing unit or school corporation within the county.

SECTION 3. IC 4-33-13-5, AS AMENDED BY P.L.246-2005, SECTION 46, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 5. (a) This subsection does not apply to tax revenue remitted by an operating agent operating a riverboat in a historic hotel district. After funds are appropriated under section 4 of this chapter, each month the treasurer of state shall distribute the tax revenue deposited in the state gaming fund under this chapter to the following:

(1) The first thirty-three million dollars ($33,000,000) of tax revenues collected under this chapter shall be set aside for revenue sharing under subsection (e).

(2) Subject to subsection (c), twenty-five percent (25%) of the remaining tax revenue remitted by each licensed owner shall be paid:

(A) to the city that is designated as the home dock of the riverboat from which the tax revenue was collected, in the case of:

(i) a city described in IC 4-33-12-6(b)(1)(A); or
(ii) a city located in a county having a population of more than four hundred thousand (400,000) but less than seven hundred thousand (700,000); or

(B) to the county that is designated as the home dock of the riverboat from which the tax revenue was collected, in the case of a riverboat whose home dock is not in a city described in clause (A).

(3) Subject to subsection (d), the remainder of the tax revenue remitted by each licensed owner shall be paid to the property tax replacement fund. In each state fiscal year, the treasurer of state shall make the transfer required by this subdivision not later than the last business day of the month in which the tax revenue is remitted to the state for deposit in the state gaming fund. However, if tax revenue is received by the state on the last business day in a month, the treasurer of state may transfer the tax revenue to the property tax replacement fund in the immediately following month.

(b) This subsection applies only to tax revenue remitted by an operating agent operating a riverboat in a historic hotel district. After funds are appropriated under section 4 of this chapter, each month the treasurer of state shall distribute the tax revenue deposited in the state gaming fund under this chapter as follows:

(1) Thirty-seven and one half percent (37.5%) shall be paid to the property tax replacement state general fund, established under ~~IC 6-1-1-21~~.

(2) Thirty-seven and one-half percent (37.5%) shall be paid to the West Baden Springs historic hotel preservation and maintenance fund established by IC 36-7-11.5-11(b). However, at any time the balance in that fund exceeds twenty million dollars ($20,000,000), the amount described in this subdivision shall be paid to the property tax replacement state general fund, established under ~~IC 6-1-1-21~~.

(3) Five percent (5%) shall be paid to the historic hotel preservation commission established under IC 36-7-11.5.

(4) Ten percent (10%) shall be paid in equal amounts to each town that:

(A) is located in the county in which the riverboat docks; and
(B) contains a historic hotel.

The town council shall appropriate a part of the money received by the town under this subdivision to the budget of the town's tourism commission.

(5) Ten percent (10%) shall be paid to the county treasurer of the county in which the riverboat is docked. The county treasurer shall distribute the money received under this subdivision as follows:

(A) Twenty percent (20%) shall be quarterly distributed to the county treasurer of a county having a population of more than thirty-nine thousand six hundred (39,600) but less than forty thousand (40,000) for appropriation by the county fiscal body after receiving a recommendation from the county executive. The county fiscal body for the receiving county shall provide for the distribution of the money received under this clause to one (1) or more taxing units (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-1-2~~ IC 6-10-2-33) in the county under a formula established by the county fiscal body after receiving a recommendation from the county executive.

(B) Twenty percent (20%) shall be quarterly distributed to the county treasurer of a county having a population of more than ten thousand seven hundred (10,700) but less than twelve thousand (12,000) for appropriation by the county fiscal body after receiving a recommendation from the county executive. The county fiscal body for the receiving county shall provide for the distribution of the money received under this clause to one (1) or more taxing units (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-1-2~~ IC 6-10-2-33) in the county under a formula established by the county fiscal body after receiving a recommendation from the county executive.

(C) Sixty percent (60%) shall be retained by the county where the riverboat is docked for appropriation by the county fiscal body after receiving a recommendation from the county executive. The county fiscal body shall provide for the distribution of part or all of the money received under this clause to the following under a formula established by the county fiscal body:

(i) A town having a population of more than two thousand two hundred (2,200) but less than three thousand five hundred (3,500) located in a county having a population of more than nineteen thousand three hundred (19,300) but less than twenty thousand (20,000).

(ii) A town having a population of more than three thousand five hundred (3,500) located in a county having a population of more than nineteen thousand three hundred (19,300) but less than twenty thousand (20,000).

(c) For each city and county receiving money under subsection (a)(2), the treasurer of state shall determine the total amount of money paid by the treasurer of state to the city or county during the state fiscal year 2002. The amount determined is the base year revenue for the city or county. The treasurer of state shall certify the base year revenue determined under this subsection to the city or county. The total amount of money distributed to a city or county under this section during a state fiscal year may not exceed the entity's base year revenue. For each state fiscal year, the treasurer of state shall pay that part of the riverboat wagering taxes that:

- (1) exceeds a particular city's or county's base year revenue; and
- (2) would otherwise be due to the city or county under this section;

to the property tax replacement fund instead of to the city or county.

(d) Each state fiscal year the treasurer of state shall transfer from the tax revenue remitted to the property tax replacement fund under subsection (a)(3) to the build Indiana fund an amount that when added to the following may not exceed two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000):

- (1) Surplus lottery revenues under IC 4-30-17-3.
- (2) Surplus revenue from the charity gaming enforcement fund under IC 4-32-10-6.
- (3) Tax revenue from pari-mutuel wagering under IC 4-31-9-3.

The treasurer of state shall make transfers on a monthly basis as needed to meet the obligations of the build Indiana fund. If in any state fiscal year insufficient money is transferred to the property tax replacement fund under subsection (a)(3) to comply with this subsection, the treasurer of state shall reduce the amount transferred to the build Indiana fund to the amount available in the property tax replacement fund from the transfers under subsection (a)(3) for the state fiscal year.

(e) Before August 15 of each year, the treasurer of state shall distribute the wagering taxes set aside for revenue sharing under subsection (a)(1) to the county treasurer of each county that does not have a riverboat according to the ratio that the county's population bears to the total population of the counties that do not have a riverboat. Except as provided in subsection (h), the county auditor shall distribute the money received by the county under this subsection as follows:

- (1) To each city located in the county according to the ratio the city's population bears to the total population of the county.
- (2) To each town located in the county according to the ratio the town's population bears to the total population of the county.

(3) After the distributions required in subdivisions (1) and (2) are made, the remainder shall be retained by the county.

(f) Money received by a city, town, or county under subsection (e) or (h) may be used for any of the following purposes:

(1) To reduce the property tax levy of the city, town, or county for a particular year (a property tax reduction under this subdivision does not reduce the maximum levy of the city, town, or county under IC 6-1.1-18.5).

(2) For deposit in a special fund or allocation fund created under IC 8-22-3.5, IC 36-7-14, IC 36-7-14.5, IC 36-7-15.1, and IC 36-7-30 to provide funding for additional credits for property tax replacement in property tax increment allocation areas or debt repayment.

(3) To fund sewer and water projects, including storm water management projects.

(4) For police and fire pensions.

(5) To carry out any governmental purpose for which the money is appropriated by the fiscal body of the city, town, or county. Money used under this subdivision does not reduce the property tax levy of the city, town, or county for a particular year or reduce the maximum levy of the city, town, or county under IC 6-1.1-18.5.

(g) This subsection does not apply to an entity receiving money under IC 4-33-12-6(c). Before September 15 of each year, the treasurer of state shall determine the total amount of money distributed to an entity under IC 4-33-12-6 during the preceding state fiscal year. If the treasurer of state determines that the total amount of money distributed to an entity under IC 4-33-12-6 during the preceding state fiscal year was less than the entity's base year revenue (as determined under IC 4-33-12-6), the treasurer of state shall make a supplemental distribution to the entity from taxes collected under this chapter and deposited into the property tax replacement fund. The amount of the supplemental distribution is equal to:

- (1) the entity's base year revenue (as determined under IC 4-33-12-6); minus
- (2) the sum of:
 - (A) the total amount of money distributed to the entity during the preceding state fiscal year under IC 4-33-12-6; plus
 - (B) any amounts deducted under IC 6-3.1-20-7.

(h) This subsection applies only to a county containing a consolidated city. The county auditor shall distribute the money received by the county under subsection (e) as follows:

- (1) To each city, other than a consolidated city, located in the county according to the ratio that the city's population bears to the total population of the county.
- (2) To each town located in the county according to the ratio that the town's population bears to the total population of the county.
- (3) After the distributions required in subdivisions (1) and (2) are made, the remainder shall be paid in equal amounts to the consolidated city and the county."

(b) Every county treasurer who, by virtue of the treasurer's office, is the collector of any taxes for any political subdivision wholly or partly within the county shall, not later than thirty (30) days after receipt of a written request for funds filed with the treasurer by a proper officer of any political subdivision within the county, advance to that political subdivision a portion of the taxes collected before the semiannual distribution. The amount advanced may not exceed the lesser of:

- (1) ninety-five percent (95%) of the total amount collected at the time of the advance; or
- (2) ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount to be distributed at the semiannual distribution.

(c) Every county treasurer shall, not later than thirty (30) days after receipt of a written request for funds filed with the treasurer by a

(d) Upon notice from the county treasurer of the amount to be advanced, the county auditor shall draw a warrant upon the county treasurer for the amount. The amount of the advance must be available immediately for the use of the political subdivision.

(e) At the semiannual distribution all the advances made to any political subdivision under subsection (b) or (c) shall be deducted from the total amount due any political subdivision as shown by the distribution."

- (8) other information;

related to the assessment or reassessment of real property in the county. The information described in this subsection must be provided at no cost to the department or the contractor of the department. A failure to provide information requested under this subsection constitutes a failure to perform a duty related to an assessment or a general reassessment and is subject to IC 6-1.1-37-2.

(g) The department may enter into a contract with a professional appraising firm to conduct an assessment or reassessment under this section. If a county or a township located in the county entered into a contract with a professional appraising firm to conduct the county's assessment or reassessment before the department orders a state conducted assessment or reassessment in the county under this section, the contract:

- (1) is as valid as if it had been entered into by the department; and
- (2) shall be treated as the contract of the department.

(h) After receiving the report of assessed values from the appraisal firm acting under a contract described in subsection (g), the department shall give notice to the taxpayer and the county assessor, by mail, of the amount of the assessment or reassessment. The notice of assessment or reassessment:

- (1) is subject to appeal by the taxpayer under section 31.7 of this chapter; and
- (2) must include a statement of the taxpayer's rights under section 31.7 of this chapter.

(i) The department shall forward a bill for services provided under a contract described in subsection (g) to the auditor of the county in which the state conducted reassessment occurs. The county shall pay the bill under the procedures prescribed by subsection (j).

(j) A county subject to an order issued under this section shall pay the cost of a contract described in subsection (g), without appropriation, from the county property reassessment fund. A contractor may periodically submit bills for partial payment of work performed under the contract. Notwithstanding any other law, a contractor is entitled to payment under this subsection for work performed under a contract if the contractor:

- (1) submits to the department a fully itemized, certified bill in the form required by IC 5-11-10-1 for the costs of the work performed under the contract;
- (2) obtains from the department:
 - (A) approval of the form and amount of the bill; and
 - (B) a certification that the billed goods and services have been received and comply with the contract; and
- (3) files with the county auditor:
 - (A) a duplicate copy of the bill submitted to the department;
 - (B) proof of the department's approval of the form and amount of the bill; and
 - (C) the department's certification that the billed goods and services have been received and comply with the contract.

The department's approval and certification of a bill under subdivision (2) shall be treated as conclusively resolving the merits of a contractor's claim. Upon receipt of the documentation described in subdivision (3), the county auditor shall immediately certify that the bill is true and correct without further audit, publish the claim as required by IC 36-2-6-3, and submit the claim to the county executive. The county executive shall allow the claim, in full, as approved by the department, without further examination of the merits of the claim in a regular or special session that is held not less than three (3) days and not more than seven (7) days after the completion of the publication requirements under IC 36-2-6-3. Upon allowance of the claim by the county executive, the county auditor shall immediately issue a warrant or check for the full amount of the claim approved by the department. Compliance with this subsection constitutes compliance with IC 5-11-6-1, IC 5-11-10, and IC 36-2-6. The determination and payment of a claim in compliance with this subsection is not subject to remonstrance and appeal. IC 36-2-6-4(f) and IC 36-2-6-9 do not apply to a claim submitted under this subsection. IC 5-11-10-1.6(d) applies to a fiscal officer who pays a claim in compliance with this subsection.

(k) Notwithstanding IC 4-13-2, a period of seven (7) days is permitted for each of the following to review and act under IC 4-13-2 on a contract of the department entered into under this section:

- (1) The commissioner of the Indiana department of administration.
- (2) The director of the budget agency.
- (3) The attorney general.

(l) If money in the county's property reassessment fund is insufficient to pay for an assessment or reassessment conducted under this section, the department may increase the tax rate and tax levy of the county's property reassessment fund to pay the cost and expenses related to the assessment or reassessment.

(m) The department or the contractor of the department shall use the land values determined under section 13.6 of this chapter for a county subject to an order issued under this section to the extent that the department or the contractor finds that the land values reflect the true tax value of land, as determined under this article and the rules of the department. If the department or the contractor finds that the land values determined for the county under section 13.6 of this chapter do not reflect the true tax value of land, the department or the contractor shall determine land values for the county that reflect the true tax value of land, as determined under this article and the rules of the department. Land values determined under this subsection shall be used to the same extent as if the land values had been determined under section 13.6 of this chapter. The department or the contractor of the department shall notify the county's assessment officials of the land values determined under this subsection.

(n) A contractor of the department may notify the department if:

- (1) a county auditor fails to:
 - (A) certify the contractor's bill;
 - (B) publish the contractor's claim;
 - (C) submit the contractor's claim to the county executive; or
 - (D) issue a warrant or check for payment of the contractor's bill;

as required by subsection (j) at the county auditor's first legal opportunity to do so;

(2) a county executive fails to allow the contractor's claim as legally required by subsection (j) at the county executive's first legal opportunity to do so; or

(3) a person or an entity authorized to act on behalf of the county takes or fails to take an action, including failure to request an appropriation, and that action or failure to act delays or halts progress under this section for payment of the contractor's bill.

(o) The department, upon receiving notice under subsection (n) from a contractor of the department, shall:

(1) verify the accuracy of the contractor's assertion in the notice that:

- (A) a failure occurred as described in subsection (n)(1) or (n)(2); or
- (B) a person or an entity acted or failed to act as described in subsection (n)(3); and

(2) provide to the treasurer of state the department's approval under subsection (j)(2)(A) of the contractor's bill with respect to which the contractor gave notice under subsection (n).

(p) Upon receipt of the department's approval of a contractor's bill under subsection (o), the treasurer of state shall pay the contractor the amount of the bill approved by the department from money in the possession of the state that would otherwise be available for distribution to the county, including distributions from the property tax replacement fund or distribution of admissions taxes or wagering taxes.

(q) The treasurer of state shall withhold from the money that would be distributed under IC 4-33-12-6, IC 4-33-13-5, ~~IC 6-1.1-21-4(b)~~, IC 6-10, or any other law to a county described in a notice provided under subsection (n) the amount of a payment made by the treasurer of state to the contractor of the department under subsection (p). Money shall be withheld first from the money payable to the county under ~~IC 6-1.1-21-4(b)~~ IC 6-10 and then from all other sources payable to the county.

(r) Compliance with subsections (n) through (q) constitutes compliance with IC 5-11-10.

(s) IC 5-11-10-1.6(d) applies to the treasurer of state with respect to the payment made in compliance with subsections (n) through (q). This subsection and subsections (n) through (q) must be interpreted liberally so that the state shall, to the extent legally valid, ensure that the contractual obligations of a county subject to this section are paid. Nothing in this section shall be construed to create a debt of the state.

(t) The provisions of this section are severable as provided in IC 1-1-1-8(b)."

"SECTION 35. IC 6-1.1-4-35, AS AMENDED BY P.L.88-2005, SECTION 8, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 35. (a) This section applies to a county other than a county subject to section 32 of this chapter.

(b) This section applies to a general reassessment of real property conducted under section 4(a) of this chapter that is scheduled to become effective for property taxes first due and payable in 2003.

(c) As used in this section, "department" refers to the department of local government finance.

(d) As used in this section, "reassessment official" means:

- (1) a county assessor; or
- (2) a township assessor.

(e) If:

- (1) the department determines that a county's reassessment officials are unable to complete the reassessment in a timely manner; or
- (2) the department determines that a county's reassessment officials are likely to complete the reassessment in an inaccurate manner;

the department may order a state conducted reassessment in the county. The department may consider a reassessment in a county untimely if the county does not submit the county's equalization study to the department in the manner prescribed under 50 IAC 14 before October 20, 2003. The department may consider the reassessment work of a county's reassessment officials inaccurate if the department determines from a sample of the assessments completed in the county that there is a variance exceeding ten percent (10%) between the total assessed valuation of the real property within the sample and the total assessed valuation that would result if the real property within the sample were valued in the manner provided by law.

(f) If the department orders a state conducted reassessment in a county, the department shall assume the duties of the county's reassessment officials. Notwithstanding sections 15 and 17 of this chapter, a reassessment official in a county subject to an order issued under this section may not assess property or have property assessed for the general reassessment. Until the state conducted reassessment is completed under this section, the reassessment duties of a reassessment official in the county are limited to providing the department or a contractor of the department the support and information requested by the department or the contractor.

(g) Before assuming the duties of a county's reassessment officials, the department shall transmit a copy of the department's order requiring a state conducted reassessment to the county's reassessment officials, the county fiscal body, the county auditor, and the county treasurer. Notice of the department's actions must be published one (1) time in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county. If no newspaper is published in the county, the notice shall be published in a newspaper:

- (1) of general circulation in the county; and
- (2) that is published in an adjacent county.

The department is not required to conduct a public hearing before taking action under this section.

(h) Township and county officials in a county subject to an order issued under this section shall, at the request of the department or the department's contractor, make available and provide access to all:

- (1) data;
- (2) records;
- (3) maps;
- (4) parcel record cards;
- (5) forms;
- (6) computer software systems;
- (7) computer hardware systems; and
- (8) other information;

related to the reassessment of real property in the county. The information described in this subsection must be provided at no cost to the department or the contractor of the department. A failure to provide information requested under this subsection constitutes a failure to perform a duty related to a general reassessment and is subject to IC 6-1.1-37-2.

(i) The department may enter into a contract with a professional appraising firm to conduct a reassessment under this section. If a county or a township located in the county entered into a contract with a professional appraising firm to conduct the county's reassessment before the department orders a state conducted reassessment in the county under this section, the contract:

- (1) is as valid as if it had been entered into by the department; and

(2) shall be treated as the contract of the department.

(j) After receiving the report of assessed values from the appraisal firm acting under a contract described in subsection (i), the department shall give notice to the taxpayer and the county assessor, by mail, of the amount of the reassessment. The notice of reassessment:

(1) is subject to appeal by the taxpayer under section 37 of this chapter; and

(2) must include a statement of the taxpayer's rights under section 37 of this chapter.

(k) The department shall forward a bill for services provided under a contract described in subsection (i) to the auditor of the county in which the state conducted reassessment occurs. The county shall pay the bill under the procedures prescribed by subsection (l).

(l) A county subject to an order issued under this section shall pay the cost of a contract described in subsection (i), without appropriation, from the county's property reassessment fund. A contractor may periodically submit bills for partial payment of work performed under the contract. Notwithstanding any other law, a contractor is entitled to payment under this subsection for work performed under a contract if the contractor:

(1) submits to the department a fully itemized, certified bill in the form required by IC 5-11-10-1 for the costs of the work performed under the contract;

(2) obtains from the department:

(A) approval of the form and amount of the bill; and

(B) a certification that the billed goods and services have been received and comply with the contract; and

(3) files with the county auditor:

(A) a duplicate copy of the bill submitted to the department;

(B) proof of the department's approval of the form and amount of the bill; and

(C) the department's certification that the billed goods and services have been received and comply with the contract.

The department's approval and certification of a bill under subdivision (2) shall be treated as conclusively resolving the merits of a contractor's claim. Upon receipt of the documentation described in subdivision (3), the county auditor shall immediately certify that the bill is true and correct without further audit, publish the claim as required by IC 36-2-6-3, and submit the claim to the county executive. The county executive shall allow the claim, in full, as approved by the department, without further examination of the merits of the claim in a regular or special session that is held not less than three (3) days and not more than seven (7) days after the completion of the publication requirements under IC 36-2-6-3. Upon allowance of the claim by the county executive, the county auditor shall immediately issue a warrant or check for the full amount of the claim approved by the department. Compliance with this subsection constitutes compliance with section 28.5 of this chapter, IC 5-11-6-1, IC 5-11-10, and IC 36-2-6. The determination and payment of a claim in compliance with this subsection is not subject to remonstrance and appeal. IC 36-2-6-4(f) and IC 36-2-6-9 do not apply to a claim submitted under this subsection. IC 5-11-10-1.6(d) applies to a fiscal officer who pays a claim in compliance with this subsection.

(m) Notwithstanding IC 4-13-2, a period of seven (7) days is permitted for each of the following to review and act under IC 4-13-2 on a contract of the department entered into under this section:

(1) The commissioner of the Indiana department of administration.

(2) The director of the budget agency.

(3) The attorney general.

(n) If the money in a county's property reassessment fund is insufficient to pay for a reassessment conducted under this section, the department may increase the tax rate and tax levy of the county's property reassessment fund to pay the cost and expenses related to the reassessment.

(o) The department or the contractor of the department shall use the land values determined under section 13.6 of this chapter for a county subject to an order issued under this section to the extent that the department or the contractor finds that the land values reflect the true tax value of land, as determined under this article and the rules of the department. If the department or the contractor finds that the land values determined for the county under section 13.6 of this chapter do not reflect the true tax value of land, the department or the contractor shall determine land values for the county that reflect the true tax value of land, as determined under this article and the rules of the department. Land values determined under this subsection shall be used to the same extent as if the land values had been determined under section 13.6 of this chapter. The department or the contractor of the department shall notify the county's reassessment officials of the land values determined under this subsection.

(p) A contractor of the department may notify the department if:

(1) a county auditor fails to:

(A) certify the contractor's bill;

(B) publish the contractor's claim;

(C) submit the contractor's claim to the county executive; or

(D) issue a warrant or check for payment of the contractor's bill;

as required by subsection (l) at the county auditor's first legal opportunity to do so;

(2) a county executive fails to allow the contractor's claim as legally required by subsection (l) at the county executive's first legal opportunity to do so; or

(3) a person or an entity authorized to act on behalf of the county takes or fails to take an action, including failure to request an appropriation, and that action or failure to act delays or halts progress under this section for payment of the contractor's bill.

(q) The department, upon receiving notice under subsection (p) from a contractor of the department, shall:

(1) verify the accuracy of the contractor's assertion in the notice that:

(A) a failure occurred as described in subsection (p)(1) or

(p)(2); or

(B) a person or an entity acted or failed to act as described in subsection (p)(3); and

(2) provide to the treasurer of state the department's approval under subsection (l)(2)(A) of the contractor's bill with respect to which the contractor gave notice under subsection (p).

(r) Upon receipt of the department's approval of a contractor's bill under subsection (q), the treasurer of state shall pay the contractor the amount of the bill approved by the department from money in the possession of the state that would otherwise be available for distribution to the county, including distributions from the property tax replacement fund or distribution of admissions taxes or wagering taxes.

(s) The treasurer of state shall withhold from the money that would be distributed under IC 4-33-12-6, IC 4-33-13-5, ~~IC 6-1.1-21-4(b)~~ IC 6-10, or any other law to a county described in a notice provided under subsection (p) the amount of a payment made by the treasurer of state to the contractor of the department under subsection (r). Money shall be withheld first from the money payable to the county under ~~IC 6-1.1-21-4(b)~~ IC 6-10 and then from all other sources payable to the county.

(t) Compliance with subsections (p) through (s) constitutes compliance with IC 5-11-10.

(u) IC 5-11-10-1.6(d) applies to the treasurer of state with respect to the payment made in compliance with subsections (p) through (s). This subsection and subsections (p) through (s) must be interpreted liberally so that the state shall, to the extent legally valid, ensure that the contractual obligations of a county subject to this section are paid. Nothing in this section shall be construed to create a debt of the state.

(v) The provisions of this section are severable as provided in IC 1-1-1-8(b).

(a) Not later than September 1 of a year in which a general reassessment does not become effective, the governing body shall estimate the tax increment replacement amount for each allocation area under the jurisdiction of the governing body for the next calendar year. In a year in which a general reassessment becomes effective, the department of local government finance may extend the deadline under this subsection by giving written notice to the governing body before the deadline.

(b) The tax increment replacement amount is the amount determined in STEP THREE of the following formula:

STEP ONE: The governing body shall estimate the amount of tax increment revenues it would receive in the next calendar year if the property tax replacement credits payable with respect to the general fund levies imposed by all school corporations with jurisdiction in the allocation area were determined under ~~IC 6-1.1-21~~ IC 6-10-3 as in effect on January 1, 2001.

STEP TWO: The governing body shall estimate the amount of tax increment revenues it will receive in the next calendar year after implementation of the increase in the property tax credits payable under ~~IC 6-1.1-21~~ IC 6-10-3 as amended by the general assembly in 2002, with respect to general fund levies imposed by all school corporations with jurisdiction in the allocation area.

SECTION 104. IC 6-1.1-21.2-14 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 14. (a) The department of local government finance shall approve an appeal filed under section 13 of this chapter if the department determines that:

- (1) the governing body's estimate of the tax replacement amount under section 11 of this chapter is reasonable;
- (2) a tax levy in excess of the amount determined under section 12(d) of this chapter would:

- (A) create a significant financial hardship on taxpayers residing in the district in which the governing body exercises jurisdiction;

- (B) significantly reduce the benefits from the increase in the property tax credits payable under ~~IC 6-1.1-21~~, IC 6-10-3 as amended by the general assembly in 2002, with respect to general fund levies imposed by all school corporations with jurisdiction in the district; or

- (C) have a disproportionate impact on small businesses or low income families or individuals; and

- (3) the governing body has made reasonable efforts to limit its use of the special fund for the allocation area to appropriations for payments of:

- (A) the principal and interest on loans or bonds;

- (B) lease rentals on leases;

- (C) amounts due on other contractual obligations; and

- (D) additional credits described in IC 8-22-3.5-10(a), IC 36-7-14-39.5(c), IC 36-7-14.5-12.5(d)(5), IC 36-7-15.1-26.5(e), IC 36-7-15.1-35(d), or IC 36-7-30-25(b)(2)(E).

(b) In a year in which a general reassessment does not become effective, the department of local government finance shall make a final determination on an appeal filed under this section by December 1 of the year. In a year in which a general reassessment becomes effective, the department may extend the deadline under this subsection by giving written notice to the appellant before the deadline.

(c) If the department approves an appeal filed under this section, it shall order a distribution from the property tax replacement fund in the amount determined under section 13(b) of this chapter in the same manner as distributions are made under ~~IC 6-1.1-21-4~~, IC 6-10-7.

(d) If the department denies an appeal filed under section 13 of this chapter, or does not grant the maximum permissible distribution under section 13(b) of this chapter, the legislative body of the unit that established the district may increase the levy imposed under this chapter to an amount that, when combined with any distribution received under this chapter, does not exceed the tax increment replacement amount.

SECTION 105. IC 6-1.1-21.5-6 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 6. (a) The receipt by the qualified taxing unit of the loan proceeds is not considered to be part of the ad valorem property tax levy actually collected by the qualified taxing unit for taxes first due and payable during a particular calendar year for the purpose of calculating the levy excess under IC 6-1.1-18.5-17 and IC 6-1.1-19-1.7. The receipt by the qualified taxing unit of any payment of delinquent tax owed by a taxpayer in bankruptcy is considered to be part of the ad valorem property tax levy actually collected by the qualified taxing unit for taxes first due and payable during a particular calendar year for the purpose of calculating the levy excess under IC 6-1.1-18.5-17 and IC 6-1.1-19-1.7.

(b) The loan proceeds and any payment of delinquent tax may be expended by the qualified taxing unit only to pay debts of the qualified taxing unit that have been incurred pursuant to duly adopted appropriations approved by the department of local government finance for operating expenses.

(c) In the event the sum of the receipts of the qualified taxing unit that are attributable to:

- (1) the loan proceeds; and

- (2) the payment of property taxes owed by a taxpayer in a bankruptcy proceeding initially filed in 2000 and payable in 2001; exceeds sixteen million dollars ($16,000,000), the excess as received during any calendar year or years shall be set aside and treated for the calendar year when received as a levy excess subject to IC 6-1.1-18.5-17 or IC 6-1.1-19-1.7. In calculating the payment of property taxes as provided in subdivision (2), the amount of property tax credit finally allowed under ~~IC 6-1.1-21-5~~ IC 6-10-3 in respect to such taxes is deemed to be a payment of such property taxes.

(d) As used in this section, "delinquent tax" means any tax owed by a taxpayer in a bankruptcy proceeding initially filed in 2000 and that is not paid during the calendar year for which it was first due and payable.

SECTION 106. IC 6-1.1-21.7-11 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 11. Loan proceeds shall be distributed to a taxing unit either on the same schedule as certified property tax replacement ~~credits~~ distributions are distributed under ~~IC 6-1.1-21~~ IC 6-10-7 or another schedule to which both the board and the taxing unit agree.

SECTION 107. IC 6-1.1-21.8-6, AS AMENDED BY P.L.4-2005, SECTION 42, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 6. (a) As used in this section, "delinquent tax" means any tax:

- (1) owed by a taxpayer in a bankruptcy proceeding initially filed in 2001; and

- (2) not paid during the calendar year in which it was first due and payable.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (d), the proceeds of a loan received by the qualified taxing unit under this chapter are not considered to be part of the ad valorem property tax levy actually collected by the qualified taxing unit for taxes first due and payable during a particular calendar year for the purpose of calculating the levy excess under IC 6-1.1-18.5-17 and IC 6-1.1-19-1.7. The receipt by a qualified taxing unit of any payment of delinquent tax owed by a taxpayer in bankruptcy is considered to be part of the ad valorem property tax levy actually collected by the qualified taxing unit for taxes first due and payable during a particular calendar year for the purpose of calculating the levy excess under IC 6-1.1-18.5-17 and IC 6-1.1-19-1.7.

(c) The proceeds of a loan made under this chapter must first be used to retire any outstanding loans made by the department of commerce (including any loans made by the department of commerce that are transferred to the Indiana economic development corporation) to cover a qualified taxing unit's revenue shortfall resulting from the taxpayer's default on property tax payments. Any remaining proceeds of a loan made under this chapter and any payment of delinquent taxes by the taxpayer may be expended by the qualified taxing unit only to pay obligations of the qualified taxing unit that have been incurred under appropriations for operating expenses made by the qualified taxing unit and approved by the department of local government finance.

(d) If the sum of the receipts of a qualified taxing unit that are attributable to:

- (1) the loan proceeds; and

- (2) the payment of property taxes owed by a taxpayer in a bankruptcy proceeding and payable in November 2001, May 2002, or November 2002; exceeds the sum of the taxpayer's property tax liability attributable to the qualified taxing unit for property taxes payable in November 2001, May 2002, and November 2002, the excess as received during any calendar year or years shall be set aside and treated for the calendar year when received as a levy excess subject to IC 6-1.1-18.5-17 or IC 6-1.1-19-1.7. In calculating the payment of property taxes as referred to in subdivision (2), the amount of property tax credit finally allowed under ~~IC 6-1.1-21-5~~ IC 6-10-3 in respect to those taxes is considered to be a payment of those property taxes."

"SECTION 109. IC 6-1.1-22-9.5 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 9.5. (a) This section applies only to property taxes first due and payable in a year that begins after December 31, 2003:

- (1) with respect to a homestead (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-20-9-1~~ IC 6-10-2-16); and

- (2) that are not payable in one (1) installment under section 9(b) of this chapter.

- (C) notify the county fiscal body, the county auditor, and the county treasurer of the department's determination on the petition not later than twenty (20) days after receiving the petition.

(d) Revenue from property taxes paid under this section in the year immediately following the year in which the tax statement is mailed or transmitted under section 8 of this chapter:

(1) is not considered in the determination of a levy excess under IC 6-1.1-18.5-17 or IC 6-1.1-19-1.7 for the year in which the property taxes are paid; and

(2) may be:

- (A) used to repay temporary loans entered into by a political subdivision for; and

SECTION 19. IC 6-1.1-39-5, AS AMENDED BY P.L.4-2005, SECTION 46, IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 5. (a) A declaratory ordinance adopted under section 2 of this chapter and confirmed under section 3 of this chapter must include a provision with respect to the allocation and distribution of property taxes for the purposes and in the manner provided in this section. The allocation provision must apply to the entire economic development district. The allocation provisions must require that any property taxes subsequently levied by or for the benefit of any public body entitled to a distribution of property taxes on taxable property in the economic development district be allocated and distributed as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the proceeds of the taxes attributable to the lesser of:

- (A) the assessed value of the property for the assessment date with respect to which the allocation and distribution is made; or shall be allocated to and, when collected, paid into the funds of the respective taxing units. However, if the effective date of the allocation provision of a declaratory ordinance is after March 1, 1985, and before January 1, 1986, and if an improvement to property was partially completed on March 1, 1985, the unit may provide in the declaratory ordinance that the taxes attributable to the assessed value of the property as finally determined for March 1, 1984, shall be allocated to and, when collected, paid into the funds of the respective taxing units.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, part or all of the property tax proceeds in excess of those described in subdivision (1), as specified in the declaratory ordinance, shall be allocated to the unit for the economic development district and, when collected, paid into a special fund established by the unit for that economic development district that may be used only to pay the principal of and interest on obligations owed by the unit under IC 4-4-8 (before its repeal) or IC 5-28-9 for the financing of industrial development programs in, or serving, that economic development district. The amount not paid into the special fund shall be paid to the respective units in the manner prescribed by subdivision (1).

(3) When the money in the fund is sufficient to pay all outstanding principal of and interest (to the earliest date on which the obligations can be redeemed) on obligations owed by the unit under IC 4-4-8 (before its repeal) or IC 5-28-9 for the financing of industrial development programs in, or serving, that economic development district, money in the special fund in excess of that amount shall be paid to the respective taxing units in the manner prescribed by subdivision (1).

(b) Property tax proceeds allocable to the economic development district under subsection (a)(2) must, subject to subsection (a)(3), be irrevocably pledged by the unit for payment as set forth in subsection (a)(2).

(c) For the purpose of allocating taxes levied by or for any taxing unit or units, the assessed value of taxable property in a territory in the economic development district that is annexed by any taxing unit after the effective date of the allocation provision of the declaratory ordinance is the lesser of:

- (1) the assessed value of the property for the assessment date with respect to which the allocation and distribution is made; or
- (2) the base assessed value.

(d) Notwithstanding any other law, each assessor shall, upon petition of the fiscal body, reassess the taxable property situated upon or in, or added to, the economic development district effective on the next assessment date after the petition.

(e) Notwithstanding any other law, the assessed value of all taxable property in the economic development district, for purposes of tax limitation, property tax replacement (except as provided in IC 6-1.1-21-3(c), IC 6-1.1-21-4(a)(3), and IC 6-1.1-21-5(c)), and formulation of the budget, tax rate, and tax levy for each political subdivision in which the property is located is the lesser of:

- (1) the assessed value of the property as valued without regard to this section; or
- (2) the base assessed value.

(f) The state board of accounts and department of local government finance shall make the rules and prescribe the forms and procedures that they consider expedient for the implementation of this chapter. After each general reassessment under IC 6-1.1-4, the department of local government finance shall adjust the base assessed value one (1) time to neutralize any effect of the general reassessment on the property tax proceeds allocated to the district under this section. However, the adjustment may not include the effect of property tax abatements under IC 6-1.1-12.1.

(g) As used in this section, "property taxes" means:

- (1) taxes imposed under this article on real property; and
- (2) any part of the taxes imposed under this article on depreciable personal property that the unit has by ordinance allocated to the economic development district. However, the ordinance may not limit the allocation to taxes on depreciable personal property with any particular useful life or lives.

If a unit had, by ordinance adopted before May 8, 1987, allocated to an economic development district property taxes imposed under IC 6-1.1 on depreciable personal property that has a useful life in excess of eight (8) years, the ordinance continues in effect until an ordinance is adopted by the unit under subdivision (2).

(h) As used in this section, "base assessed value" means:

(1) the net assessed value of all the property as finally determined for the assessment date immediately preceding the effective date of the allocation provision of the declaratory resolution, as adjusted under subsection (f); plus

(2) to the extent that it is not included in subdivision (1), the net assessed value of property that is assessed as residential property under the rules of the department of local government finance, as finally determined for any assessment date after the effective date of the allocation provision.

Subdivision (2) applies only to economic development districts established after June 30, 1997, and to additional areas established after June 30, 1997.

SECTION 20. IC 6-1.1-39-6 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2007]: Sec. 6. (a) An economic development district may be enlarged by the fiscal body by following the same procedure for the creation of an economic development district specified in this chapter. Property taxes that are attributable to the additional area and allocable to the economic development district are not eligible for the property tax replacement credit provided by ~~IC 6-1.1-21-5~~ IC 6-10-3. However, subject to subsection (c) and except as provided in subsection (f), each taxpayer in an additional area is entitled to an additional credit for taxes (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-21-2~~ IC 6-10-2) that under IC 6-1.1-22-9 are due and payable in May and November of that year. Except as provided in subsection (f), one-half (1/2) of the credit shall be applied to each installment of taxes (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-21-2~~ IC 6-10-2). This credit equals the amount determined under the following STEPS for each taxpayer in a taxing district in a county that contains all or part of the additional area:

STEP ONE: Determine that part of the sum of the amounts under ~~IC 6-1.1-21-2(g)(1)(A)~~ and ~~IC 6-1.1-21-2(g)(2)~~ IC 6-10-3 that is attributable to the taxing district.

STEP TWO: Divide:

(A) that part of the county's eligible property tax replacement amount (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-21-2~~ IC 6-10-2) for that year as determined under ~~IC 6-1.1-21-4~~ IC 6-10-3 that is attributable to the taxing district; by

(B) the STEP ONE sum.

STEP THREE: Multiply:

(A) the STEP TWO quotient; times

(B) the total amount of the taxpayer's taxes (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-21-2~~ IC 6-10-2) levied in the taxing district that would have been allocated to a special fund under section 5 of this chapter had the additional credit described in this section not been given.

The additional credit reduces the amount of proceeds allocated to the economic development district and paid into a special fund under section 5(a) of this chapter.

(b) If the additional credit under subsection (a) is not reduced under subsection (c) or (d), the credit for property tax replacement under ~~IC 6-1.1-21-5~~ IC 6-10-3 and the additional credit under subsection (a) shall be computed on an aggregate basis for all taxpayers in a taxing district that contains all or part of an additional area. The credit for property tax replacement under ~~IC 6-1.1-21-5~~ IC 6-10-3 and the additional credit under subsection (a) shall be combined on the tax statements sent to each taxpayer.

(c) The county fiscal body may, by ordinance, provide that the additional credit described in subsection (a):

(1) does not apply in a specified additional area; or

(2) is to be reduced by a uniform percentage for all taxpayers in a specified additional area.

(d) Whenever the county fiscal body determines that granting the full additional credit under subsection (a) would adversely affect the interests of the holders of bonds or other contractual obligations that are payable from allocated tax proceeds in that economic development district in a way that would create a reasonable expectation that those bonds or other contractual obligations would not be paid when due, the county fiscal body must adopt an ordinance under subsection (c) to deny the additional credit or reduce the additional credit to a level that creates a reasonable expectation that the bonds or other obligations will be paid when due. An ordinance adopted under subsection (c) denies or reduces the additional credit for taxes (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-21-2~~ IC 6-10-2) first due and payable in any year following the year in which the ordinance is adopted.

(e) An ordinance adopted under subsection (c) remains in effect until the ordinance is rescinded by the body that originally adopted the ordinance. However, an ordinance may not be rescinded if the rescission would adversely affect the interests of the holders of bonds or other obligations that are payable from allocated tax proceeds in that economic development district in a way that would create a reasonable expectation that the principal of or interest on the bonds or other obligations would not be paid when due. If an ordinance is rescinded and no other ordinance is adopted, the additional credit described in subsection (a) applies to taxes (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-21-2~~ IC 6-10-2) first due and payable in each year following the year in which the resolution is rescinded.

(f) This subsection applies to an additional area only to the extent that the net assessed value of property that is assessed as residential property under the rules of the department of local government finance is not included in the base assessed value. If property tax installments with respect to a homestead (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-20-9-1~~ IC 6-10-2) are due in installments established by the department of local government finance under IC 6-1.1-22-9.5, each taxpayer subject to those installments in an additional area is entitled to an additional credit under subsection (a) for the taxes (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-21-2~~ IC 6-10-2) due in installments. The credit shall be applied in the same proportion to each installment of taxes (as defined in ~~IC 6-1.1-21-2~~ IC 6-10-2).

(b) The department shall deposit those collections in the following manner:

~~(1) Fifty percent (50%) of the collections shall be paid into the property tax replacement fund established under IC 6-1.1-21.~~

~~(2) (1) Forty-nine Ninety-nine and one hundred ninety-two thousandths percent (49.192%) (99.192%) of the collections shall be paid into the state general fund.~~
